Judge Also Denies Mistrial Motion

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older refused today to conduct an investigation into the effect of President Nixon's remarks about the guilt of Charles Manson and said he was satisfied that none of the jurors at the Tate murder trial had learned anything of the matter.

Defense attorneys at the opening of the session argued that the comments by the President could well have reached the jurors and influenced their decision on the guilt of Manson and three female codefenders.

They asked the judge to investigate that possibility.

Later Older refused a defense request for a mistrial, saying that he thought "this thing has been grossly overplayed."

Judge Older said he saw no reason to conduct such an investigation and revealed he had taken special precautions as soon as he learned of Mr. Nixon's remarks Monday afternoon to make certain that the jury received no word of them whatsoever.

The bus in which the jury was transported to the Ambassador Hotel where they stayed overnight was carefully routed so it went past no news stands, Judge Older said. On the way to the courthouse from the hotel this morning the windows of the bus were blacked out so the jurors could see nothing.

The judge said he also had instructed the sheriffs department to take stringent steps to see that the seven men and five women on the jury had no exposure to radio or television last night or received any telephone calls.

ASKS FULL PROBE

Older rejected a motion by defense lawyer Irving Kanarek for a continuance of the trial. Kanarek argued the proceedings should be held up so that a full investigation could be made of the jury's possible exposure to publicity about Nixon's remarks.

When the session began this morning Manson was grinning and holding up a copy of the first edition of the Los Angeles Times with the headline, "Manson Guilty, Nixon Declared".

Chief defense lawyer Paul Fitzgerald read into the record a text of that section of Mr. Nixon's remarks in Denver Monday in which the chief executive said that Manson was "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders".

Fitzgerald also read for the record press secretary Ronald Ziegler's explanation that the President inadvertently omitted the word "alleged" in referring to charges against Manson.

NIXON STATEMENT

Nixon said on arriving in Washington he did not intend to give the impression that he considered Manson and the other defendants guilty and that everyone was presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Nixon also issued a statement later saying he did not wish to "prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances." He added, "the defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Manson, 35, and three of his female followers are on trial in Los Angeles for the killings a year ago of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons at her home, and Los Angeles grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife. In addition, Manson is charged in the murder of musician Gary Hinman.

The presidential jet circled Andrews AFB for almost a half hour Monday night as Nixon and his aides formulated a statement explaining that his remarks were not intended to be speculation on the guilt or innocence of Manson and three members of his hippie "family."

The Federal Aviation Agency first said Nixon's plane was making wide circles over the air base to wait for a plane carrying the news media to land. Nixon also issued a statement later saying he did not wish to "prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances." He added, "the defendants should be presumed to be inno-

President Tries To Clear Air

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says he was misunderstood when he told newsmen in Denver Charles Manson was "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

"To set the record straight," the President said in a statement drawn up while the presidential jet circled Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington for half an hour, "I do not know and did not intend to speculate as to whether the Tate defendants are guilty, in fact, or not.

"All the facts in the case have not yet been presented. The defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Corte Madera Ferry Center Envisioned

$4 Million Proposal To Span Board

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A land-use study which seeks to transform nearly 100 acres of East Corte Madera's barren marshland into a bustling ferry terminal complex will be presented tomorrow to the Golden Gate Bridge District board.

The plan outlines a $4 million commuter center at the mouth of Corte Madera Creek for the district, whose directors will also receive long-range water transit system plans drawn by the district's naval architect, Philip F. Spaulding of Seattle.

It Calls for a two-story, five-slip terminal located on a 99-acre square parcel south of and adjacent to Corte Madera Creek. The initial plan provides for a 1,500-space parking lot, access to and from Highway 101 at Fifer Avenue, a bus maintenance area, a marina at the east end of the Greenbrae Boardwalk, commercial areas and unspoiled marshlands.

It also suggests that the days would be numbered for residences along the Greenbrae Boardwalk.

The $7,500 plan was developed for bayside property-owner W.J. Heerdt by Corte Madera planners Livingston and Blayney of San Francisco.

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said yesterday that the town's role in the plan's development was minimal.

"The town only acted as an intermediary between the planners and Heerdt," he explained, adding that Heerdt contracted for the study with the town, which in turn contracted with the planning firm.

In this way, he continued, the town facilitated land-use planning at no cost to the taxpayers and Heerdt was provided a plan which followed the town's planning concepts. Usher added however, that this did not mean the town had approved the study, which will be presented to the town council and planning commission at 7:30 p.m. today.

"I personally would heartily recommend this study," he added, "I think it's a great plan."

The plan, made up of an initial phase and two alternates as final phases, does not concern itself with architectural design.

It does however, specify that the ferry building would contain about 44,000 square feet, have five slips with sheltered loading ramps, three to be used for ferry operations and the other two for alternates.

The types and numbers of ferry boats to utilize any approved facility will not be known until after tomorrow's report by Spaulding. The Spaulding report also is expected to contain recommendations for a terminal site.

Usher yesterday praised Heerdt's plan saying it integrates nearly every other plan developed for bayside land-use and transportation. It also second guesses the Spaulding report estimating a commuter volume of 4,000 round trips per day with ferry frequency estimated at 20 to 30 minutes.

Other reports it embraces, ac-

Israel Backs U.S. Mideast Peace Plan

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel formally accepted today the U.S. blueprint for peace in the Middle East and American officials said a cease-fire might go into effect within a week.

Israeli Premier Golda Meir announced acceptance in a speech to her Parliament in Jerusalem, but she warned that no Israeli troops would withdraw from occupied Arab lands until a "binding" peace treaty is signed.

Secretary General Thant said "there is a real chance to make important advances" toward a settlement as he conferred in New York with peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring on the mechanics of a cease-fire.

At the same time, however, there was no letup in action on the Suez front. Israeli jets attacked Egyptian bases in the canal area for the 76th consecutive day.

Optimism for a cease-fire was expressed in Washington by a State Department spokesman after Israel's Ambassador to the United States, Yitzhak Rabin, delivered his government's formal affirmative reply to the American call for a three-month cease-fire along the Suez front and negotiations under U.N. auspices.

PROTOTYPE DISPLAYED

Builders Show Off New Hydrofoil Water Carrier

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

It's sort of a cross between a metal grasshopper and a Venetian gondola, but its builders claim it is the answer to the need for high-speed water transportation between Marin and San Francisco.

What it is, is a 28-foot prototype of a new approach to hydrofoil design — a prototype of a 112-footer carrying 300 persons at a comfortable 54 miles an hour.

That works out to a nine-minute run between Tiburon and the Ferry Building in San Francisco.

The cost? Up to $2.5 million each, according to Richard J. Stach of San Francisco, promoter of the Hydrodyne Marine Corp. which had the hydrofoil built.

He named it Pegasus I, after the mythological flying horse. "This is flying horsepower, horsepower being the key to economics," Stach told the Independent-Journal in a demonstration yesterday on the San Rafael Canal.

What makes Pegasus I different, he explained, is its ability to get up on its three foils faster and with less horsepower than other hydrofoils. The resulting increase in economy makes the design economically feasible, a problem that has beset other designs, he said.

Also on hand to explain the prototype was Leon J. Danforth, manager of the oceanographic department for Rados Western Corp., which built the hydrofoil for Hydrodyne.

He said that the new design was based on the hull configuration of seaplanes, while other hydrofoils generally used the configuration of conventional boats. Also new, Danforth said, was the "hybrid hydrofoil," which is a combination of fully submerged and surface-piercing foils.

Stach said that he had formed the company two years ago to develop a hydrofoil to sell to the Golden Gate Bridge District for its planned water transit system. The district's directors will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow in toll plaza offices to get the long-range water transit system plans drawn by the district's naval architect, Philip F. Spaulding of Seattle.

Danforth estimated that Pegasus I had cost some $200,000 to develop.

(The general manager of the bridge district, Dale W. Luehring, told the I-J that the district would consider all manufacturers of hydrofoils. Other corporations working on their design include the Boeing Corp. of Seattle, which reportedly has spent more than $50 million developing hydrofoils.)

The Pegasus prototype has a plywood hull overlaid with fiberglass. It is powered by two 135-horsepower outboard engines, each fitted with 54-inch extensions down the foil supports to the specially geared propellers.

Stach said that the full-size vessel would be powered by twin 2,450-horsepower gas turbine engines, and could easily handle 12-foot seas without discomfort to passengers.

He said that his corporation's plans had been discussed informally a year ago with bridge director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, and with Luehring about six weeks ago. He said he hoped to present his plans soon to the district's board of directors.

Stach stressed that the hydrofoil also could be built for pleasure boating.

The design of conventional hydrofoils has limited them to a 2-to-1 ratio between takeoff and top speeds, he explained, but his prototype had a 3.5-to-1 ratio, thus could get up on the foils at 14 knots in less than 60 feet from a dead start. The full-size vessel would have about the same capability, he said.

A conventional hydrofoil would need about 7,000 horsepower to match the performance of the Hydrodyne vessel, Danforth estimated. And it could "fly" virtually up to its dock before settling into the water at a speed of only five knots, he added.

Fitted with retractable foils, the full-size hydrofoil would draw only about five feet of water he said.

Stach, noting that conventional

Huey Newton Moved To Alameda Jail

OAKLAND (UPI)—Black Panther Leader Huey P. Newton was secretly transferred today to the Alameda County Jail from San Luis Obispo to face a hearing Wednesday that may set him free on bail to pursue his role as a leader in "the American war of national independence."

Newton, 28, who considers himself "a prisoner of war," hopes that the hearing may put him "out on the streets" for the first time in nearly three years.

The prisoner was picked up at 4 a. m. at the California Men's Colony at San Luis Obispo by Sheriff's Sgt. Ronald Pugh and Deputy Joseph Davis. He was whisked to the Alameda County Jail by 8 a. m. and placed in a regulas "tank" with 75 to 80 others being held in the 10th floor jail in the Alameda County Courthouse.

Officers described Newton as quiet and cooperative during the trip, indulging only in "some small talk." He was dressed in khaki pants and shirt.

Newton was scheduled to appear before Presiding Criminal Superior Court Judge Harold Hove on manslaughter charges at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

TEXT OF REMARKS

"As we look at the situation today I think the main concern that I have is the attitudes that are created among many of our younger people and also older people as well in which they tend to glorify and to make heroes out of those who engage in criminal activities. This is not done intentionally by the press. It is not done intentionally by radio and television, I know. It is done perhaps because people want toread or see that kind of story.

"I noted, for example, the coverage of the Charles Manson case when I was in Los Angeles. Front page every day in the papers. It usually got a couple of minutes in the evening news. Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason.

"Here is a man yet, who, as far as the coverage was concerned appeared to be rather a glamorous figure, glamorous to the young people whom he had brought into his operations, and, also, another thing that was noted was the fact that two lawyers in the case — two lawyers who were, as anyone who could read any of the stories could tell — who were guilty of the most outrageous, contemptuous actions in the courtroom and who were ordered to jail overnight by the judge, seem to be more the oppressed and the judge seemed to be the villain.

"Let us understand, all judges are not heroes. All policemen are not heroes. And all those charged with crime are not guilty. But let us well understand too, that the system — the system in which we protect the rights of the innocent, in which

Fulbright Sees President's TV Access Dangerous Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright said today exclusive access to television, which he said a president comes close to having, "is a dangerous, unchecked power."

Fulbright said "as matters now stand, the President's power to use television in the service of his policies and opinions has done as much to expand the powers of his office as would a constitutional amendment formally abolishing the co-equality of the three branches of government."

Contending there can be no justification for denying equal time, the Arkansas Democrat suggested adoption of a bill requiring television and radio to give Congress air space at least four times a year to present its views on issues of public importance.

Fulbright said the same provisions should apply to the judiciary if it wanted to claim the privilege.

He was to appear as the opening witness at a hearing by the Senate Communications subcommittee which is seeking guidelines for political broadcast time.

Fulbright conceded that a president does not have exclusive access to television but added "he has something close to the functional equivalent of exclusive access.

"Whenever he wishes, he can command a national television audience to hear his views on controversial matters at prime time, on short notice, and at whatever length he chooses, and at no expense to the federal government or to his party.

In contrast, Fulbright said, senators and representatives have to rely on the most part on news spots and interview programs.

He said, with luck, news spots "may even convey a fragment or two of our thinking on some public issue.

"As likely as not it will be an extraneous fragment, but at least we are given the chance to make a contribution to public discussion — even if it isn't exactly the contribution we would have liked to make."

Fulbright said nothing in the Constitution gives the President, of all elected officials, the right to communicate with the American people.

"Communication is power and exclusive access to it is a dangerous unchecked power," he said.

Under provisions of his bill, Fulbright said, the time afforded by television and radio would not be "a matter of responding to presidential speeches or interviews."

Harvard Nutrition Expert Blast Poor Ratings Given To Cereals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of Harvard's Nutrition Department today denounced a critical rating of breakfast cereals as "absolutely meaningless." He said a breakfast built around cereal and milk is better for most people than bacon and eggs.

"For the information of Mr. Choate and associates, Popeye's spinach doesn't begin to compare with the overall nutritional worth of breakfast cereal — any cereal — although it like other 'greens' makes a contribution to the total nutritional value of a meal," Dr. Fredrick J. Stare said in prepared testimony.

Stare and four other witnesses appeared before the Senate Commerce Committee's consumer subcommittee in a vigorous industry rebuttal to testimony July 23 by Robert B. Choate, a Washington, D.C., civil engineer who has worked on a number of government nutrition projects.

In his appearance, Choate rated 60 brands of cold cereal on a nutritional scale. He said the bottom 40, including many of the nation's best sellers, offered little except "empty calories."

But Stare, testifying at the request of Kellogg Co. and the National Biscuit Co. (NABISCO), said Choate used an "absolutely meaningless" rating system and ignored the fact that milk is poured on cereal 95 per cent of the time. He said the ratings were so badly in error that "No. 60 on Mr. Choate's list, Shredded Wheat, is one of the best and because it is made from whole wheat and includes the wheat germ, it even ought to satisfy my many food faddist friends."

"Breakfast cereals are good foods," Stare said.

". . . Breakfast cereals with milk contribute importantly to the nutritional quality of the total breakfast. They provide approxiately the same amount of protein and calories as a bacon and egg breakfast, substantially more calcium, riboflavin, niacin, thiamine, and iron, and substantially less saturated fat and cholesterol.

"These are health pluses!" he said.

Stare said he has been professor of nutrition and chairman of the Department of Nutrition of the Harvard School of Public Health, Boston, since 1942. He said he holds an M.D. degree, a Ph.D in nutritional biochemistry, writes a syndicated newspaper column, is a director of Continental Can Co. and serves as consultant "for a number of trade associations and food companies . . . including the cereal industry."

L.M. Henderson, professor and head of the Department of Biochemistry, College of Biological Sciences, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, called Choate's rating system as "manifest absurdity."

Henderson said if too many cereals and other foods are fortified with extra nutrients, "it will become possible for the consumer to receive 5 to 10 times his requirement for nutrients, which is for some nutrients approaching dangerous levels."

A subcommittee spokesman said Henderson appeared on behalf of General Mills, a Minneapolis-based cereal and milling firm.

Celia Cuts Texas Path Of Death, Destruction

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Celia, which mauled the resort coast with 161-mile-an-hour winds Monday, scattered fire and floods and devastated scores of towns today on a 250-mile path up the heart of Texas.

An area hundreds of miles from the seafront at Corpus Christi to the border of Mexico at Del Rio, Tex., was paralyzed. There was no power, no telephones, little food and water.

"I think everybody suffered a little bit," said Jim Reed of the Small Business Administration, who arrived to help the hurt, homeless and helpless.

Police and Civil Defense reported four persons dead in Corpus Christi, a fifth missing and presumed drowned at Aransas Pass across the bay and at least one thousand injured in town after town along Celia's path of destruction.

"I'm just afraid we're liable to find more..." Corpus Christi Police Cmdr. C. C. Hagan said as the search for bodies spread.

Mayor Jack Blackmon estimated damages in Corpus Christi alone were more than $200 million. Gov. Preston Smith called out 450 National Guard troops to help clean up and prevent looting.

"We will have no looting. We just won't stand for it," Blackmon said. "The city is virtually paralyzed. But the people's spirit is remarkably good and optimistic."

The Red Cross said 34,000 persons in Corpus Christi sought refuge from Celia's fury in 30 shelters in churches, schools and courthouses during the night.

One of the dead was a baby boy crushed when a house trailer crumbled about him.

Celia, the first hurricane to strike Texas in three years, was still alive today. She kicked up 89-mile-an-hour gales through Del Rio, a town on the Mexican border 250 miles northwest of where the storm swirled ashore 13 hours before at Corpus Christi.

"We have a bad situation everywhere," Blackmon said.

Warhead Use Closed After Missile Test

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The flawless long-distance performance of the first Poseidon missile launched from a submerged submarine moves the Navy closer to deploying 16 of the rockets equipped with multiple warheads early next year.

Both stages of the stubby, 34-foot missile performed as planned Monday, according to authoritative sources, driving its dummy MIRV multiple warhead toward an Atlantic Ocean target area 2,760 miles away.

"The operation ended completely successfully," said Capt. William C. Dotson, commander of the support ship Observation Island, despite the harassment of the Soviet spy ship Hariton Laptev in international waters 30 miles east of the Cape.

The Russian vessel was a 300-foot oceanographic ship converted into a submarine snooper loaded with intelligence eyes and ears. At one point, it risked collision with both the Observation Island and the U.S. Destroyer Escort Calcaterra in a futile attempt to beat Americans to debris ejected from the submarine launch tube.

Dotson blew five warning blasts from the Observation Island's horn and put the ship's engines in reverse to avoid hitting the Russian ship amidships. At that point, the Soviet vessel was 150 yards away.

Later the Hariton Laptev ignored another warning signal and passed only 80 yards from the Observation Island. The crewmen, wearing blue shorts and open shirts, stood along its rails, looking, taking pictures and waving.

Towing Firm Hit With Suit

OAKLAND (UPI)—A $15 million civil suit was filed Monday against the firm which hauls autos from tow-away zones in Berkeley, charging it with overcharging 15,000 persons between 1966 and 1969.

The suit against Hustead's Towing was filed by Berkeley Neighborhood Legal Services in Alameda County Superior Court.

It accused Hustead's of charging people as much as $12.50 for tow-aways while the city council had authorized basic charges of only $2.50. A punitive fine of $1,000 was asked for each violation. The basic charge was raised by the council to $10 last January.

Meeting Canceled

A meeting of the board of the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council set for Aug. 12 has been canceled. The board's next regular meeting will at at 8 p.m. Sept. 9 at the county hall of justice.

O'Donnell Feels LBJ Wanted Pullout, Too

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House adviser Kenneth P. O'Donnell said today he felt President Lyndon B. Johnson was at least as determined as John F. Kennedy to pull U.S. forces out of Vietnam before deciding on a major buildup in 1965.

O'Donnell has written a book, to be published soon, on his years as a close adviser to President Kennedy, and later to Johnson, and a portion of it appears as an article in the current issue of Life magazine. O'Donnell said Kennedy intended to make a complete withdrawal of American forces in 1965.

O'Donnell said today Johnson may have been even more determined than Kennedy to withdraw, but said Kennedy died before having to face, as did Johnson, the decision whether to inject troops to aid beleaguered South Vietnamese forces or pull out the few thousand U.S. advisers then there.

In an interview on NBC-TV's Today Show, O'Donnell was asked if he felt Kennedy would have stuck by his withdrawal plans. He said he believed Kennedy would have done so.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said, when questioned after publication of O'Donnell's article, that Kennedy also told him in 1963, not long before his death, that he had decided to get out of Vietnam in 1965 — and Mansfield said, like O'Donnell, "I think Kennedy would have followed through."

In the article, O'Donnell also said Kennedy chose Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he felt he would be able to operate better with Mansfield succeeding Johnson as Senate Democratic leader.

O'Donnell said today that Kennedy picked Johnson also to soothe Speaker Sam Rayburn, a strong Johnson backer for the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention that year.

On Vietnam, O'Donnell said the advice given Kennedy by aging Gen. Douglas MacArthur — who O'Donnell said warned in 1961 against becoming involved in land combat in Asia — was "tremendous and that he had no doubt that Kennedy would order a pullout in 1965, assuming his re-election as President.

Critics Of Douglas See Probe A Farce

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional critics of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas have indicated they consider a House Judiciary Committee investigation of his conduct a farce.

But they made clear they are not giving up the battle to impeach the 71-year-old justice, whose liberal views, off-the-bench activities and marriages have made him a target of controversy.

The Judiciary Committee began investigating Douglas last April and is scheduled to submit a final report by Aug. 20.

In statements Monday, anti-Douglas congressmen called the committee inquiry "a whitewash" and "a travesty." They complained the committee has met only six times on the question, interviewed 12 persons, held no public hearings and questioned no one under oath.

The advent of organ transplants led 37 states to pass anatomical gift legislation in 1969.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Belfast Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Roman Catholic mobs pelted British soldiers with stones and bottles in Belfast Monday night and today, at one point using pickaxes and a mechanical digger to tear up more paving stones to throw.

At least 25 soldiers were injured by the crowds in the city's fifth successive night of violence. It was the highest casualty count reported by army spokesmen since the new trouble began in the province's capital Thursday.

In Newry, 40 miles to the southwest, explosions damaged the British legion hall and the Ulster bus offices but no injuries were reported. An unexploded bomb was found in the town's power company offices.

Near Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee has moved closer to approving an import-restricting trade bill by finishing work on a provision that would give the President power to impose quotas on goods which suddenly flood U.S. market.

The committee Monday worked out a problem it had struggled with for more than a week by settling on language for the catch-all plan. It would give the President discretionary authority to impose quotas or other restraints on foreign products which arrive at such a level as to disrupt U.S. markets.

In addition, the bill contains provisions placing quotas or ceilings on imported shoes and textiles. President Nixon has said he is opposed to the quota concept.

Plane Explodes

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev. (UPI) — Lightning apparently struck a military antisubmarine warfare plane seconds before it exploded in flight Monday killing all 10 Navy men aboard.

A spokesman for the Clark County sheriff's office said the aircraft, a P3B Orion, was on a routine training flight when it encountered a lightning storm.

The spokesman said one witness reported the four-engine turboprop aircraft was hit by lightning bolt and exploded.

The charred wreckage of the craft was scattered over a quarter mile area near a remote ridge 10 miles northwest of this small desert community.

The victims, three Navy officers and seven enlisted men, were not immediately identified.

Mideast Juggling

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — With an admonition to pursue "quiet diplomacy," Gunnar V. Jarring, the U.N. Middle East peace envoy, got down to the business today of bringing Arab and Israeli into indirect peace talks under the U.S. settlement plan.

Top echelon representatives of the United States and the United Nations conferred with Jarring for 90 minutes Mondlay on the acceptance by Israel, Egypt and Jordan of the U.S. proposal to stop shooting and start talking.

The American plan calls for a three-month cease-fire and indirect negotiations between the Arabs and Israelis through Jarring. The talks would be based on the 1967 Security Council resolution calling in part for Israel's withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

Jarring, a devoted disciple of quiet diplomacy who has earned a reputation as the most close mouthed of all U.N. officiasl, refused to disclose his plans for putting the plan in motion.

Fulbright, Spain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has accused Sen. J. William Fulbright of revealing secret information about a proposed agreement covering U.S. military bases in Spain.

Fulbright denied the allegation, saying the information he aired in news releases and in a Senate speech Monday came from news reports and from "leaks" in the government.

The State Department objected to Fulbright's sattements that the United States planned to give Spain about $400 million in aid during the next five years in exchange for continued use of four bases, and that the assistance would include a shipment of 36 used jet warplanes.

The Arkansas Democrat Monday attacked the deal, claiming that it could involve a commitment to defend Spain against attack from without, and saying that the agreement should be submitted to the Senate for consideration as a treaty.

NEW LOOK IN HYDROFOILS — A 38-foot prototype of a new hydrofoil design was on display yesterday in San Rafael, and its builders say larger vessels of its kind are the answer to the need for high-speed transportation on San Francisco Bay. The boat has a seaplane-like hull. (King Harrington Jr. photo)

Prototype Of Hydrofoil Is Displayed

al hydrofoils cannot compete with the lower cost of displacement hull vessels on short runs, claimed that his design was so efficient that it would be more economical than displacement hulls even on short runs.

Construction of the first full-size hydrofoil would take 18 months, and production could reach one per month, Stach predicted. He said there was a potential market for 40 such vessels in the Virgin Islands, New York City, San Francisco Bay and Hawaiian Islands.

He said the estimated cost of $2.5 million was based on producing five hydrofoils.

Hydrodyne's vessel is maneuvered by flaps on the two rear foils. The full-size version would have a movable foil forward to increase maneuverability in tight quarters. The flaps also are used to bank and trim. There is no rudder.

The prototype was trucked to Garvie's boat yard on Saturday from its shipyard at Port Hueneme, Ventura County.

If the hydrofoil commute service is implemented on San Francisco Bay, it will follow the style of New York and Seattle which have been testing similar operations, but with limited success.

United States Hydrofoil, Inc., began one-craft service in New York three weeks ago for the eight-mile trip from 90th Street to Wall Street over the East River. The trip takes 15 minutes.

The craft seats 28 persons and has been operating at only 65 percent capacity on its six daily runs. One way fare is $3.75 and monthly commutation tickets cost $110.

Hovercraft service between Victoria, B.C., and Seattle was discontinued without explanation in November 1969 after six months of service.

Hovercraft service was attempted in the San Francisco Bay a few years ago but it came to a quick halt when it took an embarrassing dunk in the Bay with several newsmen aboard. The Hovercraft operates on a cushion of air.

Stach said the "water is our other freeway" in the Bay Area and that hydrofoil service is logical for quick transportation and also in the fight to keep auto transportation at a minimum.

cording to Usher, are the bay plan of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, Corte Madera's Westshore Master Plan, the San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee's ferry system study and the Golden Gate Transportation Corridor Study by Kaiser Engineers and Okamoto/Liskamm.

The initial phase of the Corte Madera plan also shows a bus ramp would feed the second story of the terminal while autos would serve the first thus providing a separation of the two.

Wings at either end of the ferry building would provide space for restaurant and convenience shops ancillary to terminal activities.

The bus maintenance and storage area, designed to avoid conflicts with parking area traffic movements, would accommodate 132 buses.

The main parking lot features a one-way peripheral drive, a passenger drop-off area, and two two-way aisles through the central portion of the lot.

The marina would provide berths for 220 boats. Fishing piers, accessible from smaller parking lots within 800 feet, would be located at the ends of the ferry basin on both sides.

The initial plan calls for retention of the Greenbrae Boardwalk and about 10 acres of marsh on which it is located. Another 40 acres of marsh would be preserved south of the terminal and plans call for a nature study center.

The two alternate final plans deal mainly with the introduction of rapid transit, but leave uncertain the future of the boardwalk as it now exists.

The first alternative, like the second, calls for rapid transit use of the existing Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way adjacent to the proposed complex. It differs however, in that it would locate a rapid transit terminal adjacent to the ferry building, whereas the second would keep the rapid transit terminal on the right-of-way. A moving sidewalk would carry passengers into the ferry building from the rapid transit terminal.

The planners perceive that economic pressure to upgrade the area would be considerable and that "it would be highly desirable to provide opportunities for a substantial number of people to live close to the terminal. Although it is possible that the boardwalk will remain and may be upgraded by replacement of existing dwellings with more substantial buildings . . . "

Alternate One suggests about 250 townhouses will eventually line the boardwalk, while Alternate Two shows the boardwalk as giving way to 200 townhouses overlooking three semi-private marinas.

"It should be remembered that this is a concept only," Usher said, stressing it is not a definite plan.

He added that the plan has been kept under wraps by the planners to preclude massive land speculation in the area prior to getting a quoted price from Heerdt to the bridge district.

He said yesterday Heerdt has made the offer, good for one month with a one year option attached, but refused to quote the price tag.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager for the bridge district also refused to quote the price the district has been offered. "That had best come from the other end (Heerdt)," he commented.

Heerdt could not be reached.

Luehring added however that it would be nearly impossible for the bridge district to respond to the offer within a month since any proposed site must still go before the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Committee for approval.

He said he felt that if the board is interested, following the Spaulding report, tomorrow it will probably take the option.

Luehring speculated development of the Corte Madera plan, which he has seen, would take about a year to 18 months to complete if and after the district directors approved it.

"The dredging of the channel (leading to the site) will take a year alone," he commented, saying that it could be accomplished while construction was in progress at the site.

Luehring also indicated that the Corte Madera study may not be the only plan to come before the district tomorrow.

According to Luehring, Larkspur City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst "has indicated he will try to have a presentation."

Meeting Canceled

Tonight's meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency has been canceled since a majority of commissioners are on vacation, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, acting executive director.

Crashes Hurt Three On Marin Roads

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two separate accidents on Marin County highways yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Duane M. Reid, 15, of 1331 Idylberry Road, Marinwood, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a fractured pelvis and multiple scrapes.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Jeremiah P. Taylor Jr., 17, of 27 Fowler Court, San Rafael, which left a curve on Lucas Valley Road two miles west of Mount McKinley Road and overturned at 5:15 p.m., officers said.

Taylor said he would see his own doctor for back scrapes. Another passenger, Pernell S. Johnson, 15, of 38 Oak Mountain Court, Marinwood, was treated for an arm fracture.

Pam Cesak, 23, of Glendale, was treated for a cut nose after a car driven by Walter A. Cesak, 30, collided with two other vehicles on Highway 101 at 3 p.m. The patrol identified the other drivers as Quentin C. Watson, 50, of Santa Rosa, and Virgilio C. Casaccia, 71, of San Francisco.

Car Burglarized

Tape deck equipment and a radio valued at $258 were reported stolen from the car of Carol E. Monroe of Hamilton Air Force Base while it awaited repairs at Doug Dickers Sports Car Center, 933-A Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, between 7 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. yesterday.

Chronicle Picketing Ruled Illegal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Federal appellate court has ruled that picketing of the San Francisco Chronicle by union members on strike against the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner is illegal and picketing of the San Francisco Examiner is "questionable."

The U. S. Court of Appeals modified an order by a federal judge dissolving a preliminary injunction against picketing of either paper or their joint production company, San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co.

All three were shut down in 1968 by members of unions striking the Los Angeles newspaper.

A National Labor Relations Board examiner in March, 1968 ruled that picketing of the Chronicle and printing company was unfair. Picketing of the Examiner was not, he said, because both the Examiner and the Herald-Examiner are divisions of the Hearst Corp.

Last April 6, Federal Judge Alfonso Zirpoli dissolved a court injunction because the full NLRB never ruled on the matter. The injunction had been in effect "an unreasonable length of time," Zirpoli said.

The appellate court said that no matter what the NLRB does or does not rule, picketing of the Chronicle and the printing company "appears to be a clear violation of the law." Picketing of the Examiner is merely "questionable," he said.

Council To Hear Arts Center Plea

The Sausalito Arts Center will appeal to the Sausalito City Council today at 8 p.m. in City Hall for permission to use amplified sound outdoors during the center's annual arts festival on Labor Day weekend.

An application to permit amplified sound on an adjacent Little League field from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on the weekend and during certain hours on other Sunday afternoons was denied by the city planning commission July 19.

The council will also discuss animal control, the Faustman traffic report and bicycle paths through the city and will consider repeal of the city's recently-initiated take-out-food tax.

Loss $24,000 In Novato Fire

The fire started in the dining room and gutted the kitchen, dining area, living room and part of the hallway and damaged redwood paneling on the outside of the house, Kidder said.

The home is owned by Dennis Weaver of Tahoe and was occupied by three persons identified as Leo Gallagher, Pat Halloran and Sharon Swenson, Kidder said.

The fire was reported at 1:41 a.m. and declared under control at 1:58 a.m.

Manson Judge Refuses Probe Of Nixon Story

ants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Nixon had referred to reading about the Tate case during his stay in San Clemente as an example of how the news media covers sensational matters and "tend to florigy and to make heroes out of those who engage in criminal activities."

NIXON

cent at this stage of the trial."

Nixon had hoped to rally support for his anticrime measures Monday at a Denver meeting of state law enforcement officials. Instead he found himself embroiled in a legal controversy that threatened to disrupt one of the nation's most sensational murder trials.

Appearing before reporters at the beginning of the meeting, he chided the news media for its tendency to "glorify and to make heroes of those who engage in criminal activities," and added:

"I noted, for example, the coverage of the Charles Manson case when I was in Los Angeles. Front page every day in the papers. It usually got a couple of minutes in the evening news.

"Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reasons." He said despite this, there was a tendency to glorify Manson.

Manson's lawyers immediately sought a mistrial when the President's statement, and the country's legal fraternity reacted with surprise that Nixon, himself a lawyer, would say such a thing.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler called newsmen together a short time later and said the president had not intended to presume the guilt or innocence of Manson and had intended to use the word "alleged."

Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who was standing by the President when he made the statement, said he did not think the President "had made a charge or implied one."

Then, as Air Force One circled Andrews, the President issued another statement to the pool of newsmen on the plane. It said in part:

"My remarks were in the context of my expression of a tendency on the part of some to glamorize those identified with a crime.

"The last thing I would do is prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances."

Nixon stopped in Denver on the way home from a 10-day working vacation in California for a meeting with state planning directors of the law enforcement assistance administration, which coordinates federal-state anticrime measures.

He used the occasion to criticize Congress for its failure to act on 12 of the 13 crime fighting measures he proposed more than a year ago.

"Now if we don't get a better batting average than one out of 13, we are going to have to get some new batters at the plate," he said.

He said Congress should feel "a sense of urgency" to pass his measures, particularly the ones dealing with organized crime, narcotics and pornography.

Fitzgerald said that presidential comment on a criminal trial in a state court might well be unprecedented in the history of the United States.

The defense lawyer said jurors could look out the windows of the bus in which they are transported and see newspaper headlines. The first edition of the Los Angeles Times Tuesday morning carried the banner: "Manson guilty, Nixon declares."

Nixon also referred to "two lawyers who were . . . guilty of the most outrageous, contemptuous actions in the courtroom and who were ordered overnight to jail by the judge."

The President's reference was to Kanarek, the lawyer for Manson, and Ronald Hughes, who represents Susan Atkins.

Hughes, a bearded, roly poly man trying his first case in a courtroom, termed the President "contemptuous" for making such a reference to the trial "in violation of due process of law."

Kanerek entered the formal motion calling for a mistrial but declined to comment further on the matter.

The uproar over the President's remarks overshadowed the cross examination of the state's key witness, Linda Kasabian, who still was on the stand when the trial recessed Monday.

Under caustic cross examination, the 21-year-old blonde admitted she did not try to flee the Tate murder scene, that she never tried to tell police what happened and that she accompanied the "Manson family" on a second savage foray to the LaBianca home the next night.

Robbery Brings Prison Term

Oscar Moon Hill, 29, of Richmond, yesterday was sentenced to state prison for the armed robbery of the Short Stop Market at 141 Bellam Boulevard, San Rafael, in which Hill and a partner took $299 on April 11, 1969.

San Rafael police had arrested Hill and Larry D. Prude, 26, also of Richmond, moments later. Prude was sentenced to prison earlier.

Hill, on probation for a marijuana offense, was sentenced by Judge E. Warren McGuire after a 90-day observation period at Atascadero following his conviction in a nonjury trial.

Registration Plea Aired By Demos

Marin County Democrats have launched a drive to register 5,000 new party members.

Registration for the June 2 primary election was 41,989 Democrats and 45,287 Republicans.

Ross School Budget Set At $526,641

The Ross School District board last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $526,641, according to Supt. Thomas A. Anderson.

The total reflected an increase of $3,600 over the publication budget which will be used for the modifications of fire alarm systems as required by the office of the state fire marshall, he said.

In addition, he said, resolutions were adopted requesting the county superintendent of schools and the board of supervisors to consolidate the election of a trustee to succeed L.G. Maclise with the general election on Nov. 3.

Four out-of-district children were granted permission to attend school next year in the Ross district and biographical information was heard on the new district speech therapist and psychologist Glenn T. Hill and Rick Sheziokov.

Suspended Term On LSD Charge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Robert McKinstry, 19, of Mill Valley, arrested last October in Sausalito on a federal charge of possessing LSD for sale, has received a suspended sentence and been placed on two years' probation in U.S. District Court.

McKinstry and a companion, Daniel Marcus, 22, of New York, were arrested after they sold thousands of LSD tablets to federal narcotics agents at the Seven Seas Restaurant.

Equipment Is Stolen From Lawyer's Office

Office equipment worth $565 was taken from the office of attorney Lee V. Holman in the Del Prado building at 880 Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda, between 2 p.m. Friday and 9:40 a.m. yesterday.

Sausalito Fire Hits School Service Shop

A fire which began in a debris box gutted a small service shop at the old Bayside School last night, causing about $4,000 damage, Sausalito firemen reported.

The fire department said the blaze began about 6:41 p.m. in the 70-by-20-foot shed, located north of the old school auditorium. One band saw was destroyed by the flames, but most of the remaining equipment in the shop, still being used by the Sausalito School District, was saved, according to firemen. Cause of the blaze is under investigation.

Windows Smashed

Six windows worth $200 were smashed at General Tire Service, 160 Bellum Boulevard, San Rafael, between 6:30 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. yesterday. Police said a B-B gun was used.

the guilty man receives a fair trial and gets the best possible defense — that system must be preserved.

"And unless we stand up for the system, unless we see that order in the courtroom is respected, unless we quit glorifying those who deliberately disrupt, and unless we begin to recognize that when a judge necessarily, after intense provocation, must hold individuals in contempt of court that judge is justified, that he is acting in our behalf, then the system will break down. The innocent will suffer, but more important or just as important, I should say, the guilty will suffer as well because in a society without law the guilty then have no trials."

"I've been informed that my comment in Denver regarding the Tate murder trial in Los Angeles may continue to be misunderstood despite the unequivocal statement made at the time by my press secretary.

"My remarks were in the context of my expression of a tendency on the part of some to glamorize those identified with a crime.

"The last thing I would do is prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances.

"To set the record straight, I do not know and did not intend to speculate as to whether the Tate defendants are guilty, in fact, or not. All of the facts in the case have not yet been presented. The defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial.

"To repeat what I said at the IEAA conference in Denver, our American system of justice requires the constant support of every citizen to insure a fair trial for the guilty and innocent alike."

Vatican Offers Help In Release Of Two Hostages

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — The Vatican has offered its help in efforts to gain the release of an American and a Brazilian kidnaped by antigovernment Tupamaros terrorists. The government seized four more suspected Tupamaros and a cache of weapons.

Papal Nuncio Msgr. Auvustin Sepinski issued a statement Monday night saying, "if in any way in any circumstance and at any time I can be of help, I am here." Sepinsky said he was speaking in the name of Pope Paul VI.

The terrorists Friday seized Dan Mitrione, 50, of Richmond, Ind., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41. Two U.S. diplomats, attache Nathan Rosenfeld, 48, of Herkimer, N.Y., and second secretary Gordon Jones of San Luis Obispo, Calif., foiled kidnap attempts the same day.

OBITUARIES

Christina Leach, 84, Succumbs

Christina Leach, 84, a Petaluma resident since 1900, died yesterday at a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness.

A native of Yankee Jims, a mining camp in Placer County, Mrs. Leach moved to Petaluma with her family at the age of 14. In 1915 she married the late John Leach, who was chief engineer on the paddle wheel steamer Gold on the Petaluma River until his retirement in 1949.

Mrs. Leach had lived at 911 Western Avenue until six months ago when she moved to Santa Rosa. She was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma, and the SPRSI, Portugese society.

She is survived by a daughter, Frances Realy of Santa Rosa; two sisters, Anna Peterson of Concord and Margaret Marall of Santa Rosa; a brother, Albert Marall of San Rafael; and two granddaughters.

Requiem mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent de Paul Church. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

HENRY D. HART

Henry Dixon Hart, 49, died in his sleep today at the Cedars Development Foundation home in Ross, where he had lived nearly 30 years.

The Marin County coroner's office said Hart, who had a history of chronic epilepsy, died apparently of natural causes.

Hart was born in Portland, Ore.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Raymond G. Handley, and a brother, Phillip Hart of New York.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

MARIE DALGAARD

Funeral for Marie C. Dalgaard will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Dalgaard, 87, died Sunday in a San Rafael convalescent hospital where she had lived since 1964.

Born in Sjaltrinz, Denmark, she moved to San Francisco in 1908.

From 1915 to 1955 she was active in a dairy operated by her family in Winters.

She moved to North Sacramento in 1955 from where she moved to Marin in 1964.

Mrs. Dalgaard is survived by a son, Norman Dalgaard of Dixon; a daughter, Ruth Pedrick of Fair Oaks; a brother, Martin Nielsen of Raame, Denmark; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Inurnment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

ROBERT NEDERMAN

Robert B. Nederman, brother of former San Rafael and Greenbrae resident Paul I. Nederman, died today in a Los Gatos hospital after a long illness. He was 72.

Nederman was vice president of Brown and Bigelow of St. Paul, Minn., when he retired in 1955.

Born in St. Paul, he lived there until he was transferred to New York City in 1944. He retired to Tucson, Ariz., then moved to San Jose in 1967.

After serving as an Army artillery lieutenant in 1919, he attended the University of Minnesota taking a degree in marketing in 1923.

His brother Paul, now of San Mateo, lived in Marin from 1948 to 1959 and was president of CVA Co., Roma Wineries, Inc. and Cresta Blanca Wineries Inc.

Also surviving are a son Robert A. Nederman of Overland Park, Kan. and two grandchildren.

Interment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

ANTONIA LETINICH

Antonia M. Letinich, 72, of Petaluma, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Yugoslavia, she was educated there and came to the United States in 1929 settling in New Orleans, La. Mrs. Letinich had lived in Petaluma since 1949.

She was the wife of Bortolo Letinich, who died Thursday.

She is survived by a son, John Letinich of Petaluma; a daughter, Mary Serpas of New Orleans, La.; a sister, Maria Svorinich of Argentina; and four grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be offered at 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent De Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

Recitation of the rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Contributions may be made to the Shriner's Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

Residents Only, Library Decides

The San Anselmo Library Board last night decided that only residents of San Anselmo and Larkspur should benefit from a joint agreement between the libraries of the two municipalities.

Head librarian Lucy Palo said this was the only change in the agreement referred back by the city council at its July 28 meeting to iron out some difficulties.

Residents of other areas belonging to the two libraries will not be allowed to use the exchange program, she said.

Mrs. Palo said the board foresaw no difficulties in an informal agreement with the county which allows Corte Madera residents to use the Larkspur library in exchange for rights to use the county library. The council had seen this as a possible problem area.

Complaint Dropped In Shell Oil Games Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has dropped a proposed complaint against three promotional games — "Mr. President," "States of the Union" and "Men in Space" — offered by Shell Oil Co. last year.

The commission said the alleged violation, involving the mixture of winning and nonwinning game pieces, occurred before a rule governing the matter came into effect last Oct. 17. It also said it had accepted the firm's promise to follow the rules in future games of chance.

Stanford Grad Guilty In Anti-ROTC Ruckus

STANFORD (UPI)—A former Stanford University graduate student in communication is to be sentenced Aug. 18 for malicious mischief in connection with campus anti-ROTC demonstrations.

A jury convicted Diarmuid R. McGuire, 28, and then Judge William Ingram in Municipal Court set the date for sentencing.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

When Trials Go To Scene

Sometimes in a jury trial, the 12 jurors, lawyers, the judge, bailiffs, and the like have to go to the scene. The judge will then ask someone who can show the property in the presence of the court, and who, with the judge's permission, can comment on what is there.

The judge decides whether to view the property. Nearly always a first-hand view of the scene is better than maps, photos, or the like. But a judge has to weigh costs against the convenience and other benefits of a visit.

No juror should go to the scene alone, in effect, to "receive evidence." If he does, the court may have to declare a mistrial, causing inconvenience to all parties and cost to tax payers.

As a rule, juries do not hear testimony on such excursions. But if the conditions are right, the jurors may do so and the court may allow the opposing attorney to cross-examine. The court will apply the rules of evidence just as if the case were heard in a regular courtroom.

Sometimes such a view of the scene may decide the case. Did the railroad keep adequate warning signals at the crossing? Is the property a nuisance? Did the neighbor's wall prevent drainage of surface waters? Seeing is believing.

Sometimes the prosecution needs the testimony of a witness who is in a hospital or confined to his home. The court may convene at the hospital or home to hear the witness.

Of course, the defendant can also cross-examine. Again the whole court goes along. In one paternity case the court went to the hospital to compare the physical features of a child and its alleged father.

Sometimes the court will do certain experiments at the scene so as to answer key questions: Could anyone hear a woman's scream there? How fast would a loaded car roll down a particular street? How much can a person in a moving car 100 feet away see from the intersection?

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

ON A CLEAR DAY ...

Fully absorbed by a sunny Marin day — "stoned on light," was the way he described it — Kurt Allan Schmel, 22, gets a light from San Rafael patrolman Joseph Leonard at a city fire station at Third and Union streets after a fire alarm box failed him yesterday. Schmel said he was hitchhiking on Third Street when he observed the box in front of the station. He said he needed a light for his cigarette and the box clearly said, "Pull for Fire." So he did. Schmel, of Gig Harbor, Wash., said he was in Marin to organize a rock concert on Mount Rainier. Schmel was taken to the Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital.

Mill Valley Board Approves Budget

The Mill Valley School District Board last night adopted a $3,263,000 budget for 1970-71, some $201,000 less then originally recommended by Supt. James A. Collins.

The reduced spending program reflects the loss of about $100,000 in state funds, Collins said: $70,000 when the state classified the district as a basic aid district rather than an equalization district, and $30,000 for its reading specialist program.

As a result, the $115,000 reading program, which concentrates on children with reading problems, had to be eliminated from the budget, Collins said.

"This was a very productive program and the board was extremely reluctant to take it out," Collins said. There is a chance, however, that the district will receive partial state funding and be able to hire four teachers for the program instead of seven, Collins said.

Other cuts, which the board upheld in adopting the budget, include: school library clerks program, $18,000; student exchange with the Sausalito School District, $15,000; one guidance counselor, $10,000; reassignment of music and foreign language teachers, $20,000; educational contracts, $10,000; and transportation, $9,000.

The spending program is expected to maintain the tax rate at this year's level of $3.10 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Collins.

No provision is made for salary increases, Collins said, although a $200,700 reserve fund was established to be used for that purpose when the board reopens salary negotiations with teachers in September.

The board in June adopted a goal of providing a 5.6 per cent cost-of-living raise, and Collins said it still hopes to grant such raises. Their cost would come to about $130,000, he said.

The Mill Valley School District Also:

BOND ISSUE — Heard a report that the Sept. 15 election to raise the interest rate on $760,000 in bonds from 5 to 7 per cent must be passed by a two-thirds vote, despite a recent California Supreme Court ruling that a simple majority is sufficient.

GRANT — Applied for a $19,000 federal grant to hire additional teachers at Park and Tamalpais Valley schools under the Title 1 compensatory education program.

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Heard a report that bids will be accepted Aug. 14 and opened Sept. 11 for construction of the middle school.

PLAYFIELD — Deferred action on a request by several Tamalpais Valley organizations to allow them to build a little league field on the playground at Tamalpais Valley School.

POLICY — Adopted a policy that any district which sends to Mill Valley more students than Mill Valley sends to that district must pay the actual cost of educating the child.

TRANSFERS — Approved eight renewals of interdistrict transfers but denied 17 new applications. The board instructed Collins to help the parents appeal the refusal to the Marin County Schools Office in hopes that the office will help Mill Valley cope with the influx of students from the Sausalito School District.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Robert Kreischer, an intern from Dominican College, as a math-science teacher at Edna Maguire School for $6,000 a year.

CLOSED SESSION — Met in closed session and then announced its intention to offer Collins a new four-year contract at $24,000 a year, compared to his 1969-70 salary of $21,000. The board will hold a special meeting Friday at 6 p.m. at the district office to discuss the contract.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

9:28 a.m., Novato — Fire in engine compartment of automobile owned by Sidney Pylant of Richmond, Ga., one-half mile north of Grant Street on Highway 101 extinguished by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crew before arrival of fire department. Fire caused by faulty fuel line; no estimate of damage.

10:34 a.m., Forest Knolls — Smoke report on Arroyo Road turned out to be fireplace chimney. Marin County Fire Department responded.

11:14 a.m., Larkspur — Small grass fire behind Greenbrae School, 74 Eliseo Drive, was out on arrival of fire department. No damage.

11:37 a.m. Kentfield — Small grass fire near Hillside Avenue parking lot of College of Marin. No damage and cause unknown.

12:02 p.m., Greenbrae — Washing machine fire caused by electrical short at residence of Michael A. Muth, 10 Corte Comoda; no damage. Kentfield Fire Department responded.

12:59 p.m., Novato — Children playing with matches set grass and debris fire near the end of Via Escondido which destroyed piles of logs and debris and several oak trees; no monetary damage.

4:57 p.m., San Rafael — False alarm from box at Third and Union streets.

5:20 p.m., San Rafael — Shorted electrical fluorescent light at Angelico Hall on Dominican College campus; no fire and no damage.

6:41 p.m., Sausalito — Fire in school service shop behind old Bayside School auditorium on Nevada Street caused approximately $4,000 damage; cause under investigation.

7:36 p.m., Larkspur — Garage fire at residence of Norman D. Beal, 47 Madrone Avenue did minor damage; cause unknown.

8:30 p.m., Richardson Bay — Unfounded report of smoke on dry docks. Marin County Fire Department responded.

8:35 p.m., San Anselmo — Grass fire burned about 2 acres on fire trail above Dutch Valley Lane, Sleepy Hollow; no damage and cause under investigation.

9:52 p.m., Larkspur — Oil heater started fire in trailer of Barbara Lane at the Marin Trailer Court and did minor damage to trailer.

10:10 p.m., Novato — Grass fire in creek bed behind Safeway store at 448 Ignacio Boulevard burned 10 by 50 foot area; no damage. Fire probably caused by children playing with matches.

TODAY:

1:41 a.m., Novato — House fire at 1253 Yukon Way did approximately $20,000 to house and $4,000 damage to contents of house; cause undetermined.

Novato School Board Restores Budget Cut

The Novato Unified School District Board last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $10 million, restoring to the operating budget $132,241 for services cut before the tax rate increase election defeated July 28.

Restored to the budget were $6,000 for athletics, $11,113 for elementary library services, $26,653 for counselors, $12,000 for books, $18,000 for classroom supplies, $13,344 for building upkeep, $3,500 for public information services, and $3,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

The transportation budget was brought to a total of $85,963 by addition of $38,631 to provide what Supt. James G. Bunker called a minimal transportation system. The budget includes $11,000 for athletic and field trips.

Home-to-school transportation is expected to be provided all high school and junior high school students living east of Highway 101, high school students living more than 3.5 miles from school, junior high students living more than 2.5 miles and elementary students living more than 1.5 miles from school.

The Novato Unified School District Board Also:

LUNCHES — Authorized ARA Slater School and College Services of San Francisco to prepare a contract to operate the food services program. The contract is to be reviewed by county counsel and considered by the board. Under the contemplated agreement, Slater would pay the same employees now engaged in the school lunch program but the district would continue to provide fringe benefits. Lunches would cost 45 cents and would be primarily cold.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Gloria Ford of San Ramon School, Patricia Graham of Novato High School and John McBeath and Donald Singerman of Pacheco School.

HIRED — Hired nine new teachers: Linda Baxter for San Jose Junior High School at $8,108 a year, Ronald Butori for San Marin High School at $9,790, Pamela Carson for San Ramon School at $8,897, Gary Fisher for Novato High at $8,108, Marcia Munson for Novato High at $7,111, Larry Ridgel for Hamilton School at $9,393, Lawrence Siegel for San Marin at $8,108, Rudolph Tassano for San Jose Junior High School at $8,719 and Richard Whitney for San Marin at $7,607.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE — Granted Larry Schwartz of Sutton School a one-year leave of absence.

Marin Sailor Wins Bid From Active Duty

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—A young California sailor who said he became a conscientious objector after reading the Bible, Thoreau, Newsweek, Playboy, Popular Photography and several underground newspapers won his bid yesterday for release from active duty.

The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered the Navy to discharge James Lehman III, 20, of San Rafael, "as soon as possible" because his objection to war on "a personal moral code" had been upheld by the Supreme Court as sufficient to claim conscientious objector status.

The Navy refused to reclassify Lehman, it said, because his beliefs were not based on religion and he was opposed only to the Vietnam war rather than to war in general.

Guard Sentenced In Manslaughter

San Quentin prison guard Denton Stanley Dixon, 45, of Bodega Bay, yesterday was placed on one year's supervised probation on a manslaughter charge, and the offense was declared a misdemeanor.

Dixon had pleaded guilty to the charge, arising from the death of another San Quentin guard, Hector Cantu, 27, of San Francisco, on March 16, after the two men had been celebrating Dixon's birthday.

Dixon was driving a car which struck Cantu, standing beside his own car in a San Rafael street.

Council Forms Plan In Police Pay Fight

Faced with a Friday strike threat by police, the Petaluma City Council huddled for 90 minutes in closed session last night with City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer in hopes of settling the wage dispute.

Mayor Helen Putnam said Meyer presented the council with the latest police proposal and that the council, in turn, offered direction for further negotiations.

Meyer and James F. [illegible], attorney for the Petaluma Police Officers Association, met for negotiations this morning. Meyer said the city proposal would be presented to the police by Kemp, with a response to be received by tomorrow.

"We're still operating on a positive basis," Meyer said, noting he would meet as often as necessary to get the matter settled.

Mayor Putnam said she had on plans to call a special council meeting later this week.

Meyer felt that if little progress had been made as the Friday strike deadline approached, a special council meeting with Kemp and police representatives might be necessary.

Kemp told members of the police department that if accord isn't reached, he would seek a meeting Thursday night in an attempt to avert a walkout.

The Friday 8 p.m. strike was called last week by Dolph Camilli, president of the police association. He said that if wage increase demands were not met by then, all 14 patrolmen would walk off the job.

Camilli said that sergeants, lieutenants, the captain and chief would remain on duty to protect the city.

Also observing the strike would be the dispatchers, parking meter enforcement officers, animal control officers and reserve police officers.

In the negotiations, police representatives have maintained that they are underpaid in comparison with salaries of officers in nearby cities they are reportedly seeking a 17 per cent increase.

Current monthly salaries for patrolmen are $644 to $782 and for sergeants, $727 to $883.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

REZONING — Introduced an ordinance to rezone 48 acres between South McDowell Boulevard and Lakeville Highway from agricultural to single family residential, multifamily residential and highway commercial.

SHOPPING CENTER — Introduced an ordinance rezoning 10 acres adjacent to the Petaluma Plaza Shopping Center from single family residential to community commercial.

INSURANCE — Appointed councilmen Robert A. Brunner, Fred V. Mattei and John W. Cavanagh Jr. to a committee to study public liability insurance coverage.

STREETS — Adjourned to Monday at 7:30 p.m. to study the street resurfacing program for 1970-71 and to review mud slide insurance.

Forum On Draft Set Tomorrow

An open forum on "The Pre-Draft Dilemma" will be held at the College of Marin at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 2 under the sponsorship of the Community Mental Health Center.

The forum is part of the Wednesday lecture-discussion series, and is being moved to the College of Marin because of the need of additional space.

Held under the direction of Michael Adams and Roger Moore, both on the staff of the center, the forum will focus on personal conflicts surrounding the draft, and will provide an opportunity for draft-age young men to meet with mental health workers and discuss these conflicts.

Cronkite Airs It As It Is: Hair Is Real

NEW YORK (UPI) — The hair on Walter Cronkite's head is the real thing and he wants the world to know it.

"The following is broadcast at the request of our hard-working secretaries in the hope of stemming a tidal wave of telephone calls and letters," the CBS newscaster said Monday night as he bang the final story on his show.

"It seems, strangely, that there is some concern that the windblown, sun-bleached look with which a television newsman returned from his vacation has set loose a spate of speculation that he now is sporting a wig.

"This really wouldn't matter to the correspondent himself except for the suggestion by some letterwriters that a man who hid his baldness under a rug couldn't be trusted to tell the news as it is.

"That hurts.

"Well, the secretaries asked us to assure the writers that that is the correspondent's real hair.

Doubters are invited to ask themselves, 'What nut would wear a hair piece that looked like that.'

To Consider Budget

An operating budget for 1970-71 will be considered by directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Richard White residence on Seascape Drive, Muir Beach, according to secretary Hazel M. Melo.

Police Recover Car Stolen Last Night

A car belonging to Richard G. Munson of 43 Manor View, Fairfax, was reported stolen from A Street south of Fourth Street in San Rafael at 11:45 p.m. yesterday.

However, San Anselmo police recovered the vehicle at 2:20 a.m. today at 125 Floribel Avenue.

Hub Planners Ask Probe Of Building

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night asked the city council to investigate why a residence has not been built at 1506 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in accordance with plans approved by the building inspection department.

Secretary Catherine Mullins said Mrs. Bodil B. Peterson's plans to build on the lot were approved May 27, but no building has ensued.

The commission also directed the staff to prepare a report on the procedure and cost of obtaining federal flood and mud slide insurance following a report on the subject by Jan L. Warnshuis of the state Department of Water Resources, she said.

Suspect Detained On Drug Charge

A 20-year-old arrested today in Novato for traffic warrants was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing illegal drugs after he attempted when searched to conceal a paper packet containing 13 pink pills, police reported.

James Patrick Larkin, of no known address, was stopped originally because his rear license plate showed no registration sticker. The proper registration of the car was confirmed but a routine check turned up the traffic warrants.

Larkin was held to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Police Talk Man Out Of Jumping

An unidentified man climbed under the deck of the Golden Gate Bridge today an held off California Highway Patrol officers for three hours with a .22-caliber revolver.

The man threatened to jump but the officers finally persuaded him to climb off girders under the bridge's north tower.

The highway patrol said the man, upon returning to the bridge deck, was embraced by his wife and sister.

The patrol said the man drove up to the bridge toll plaza about 7 a.m., let his wife out of the car, and told her he was going to jump.

At 9:30 a.m., he was reported standing under the deck while officers tried to persuade him not to jump. No shots were reported fired.

Novatan Sentenced For Pot Conviction

Russell Raymond Radcliffe, 24, of Novato, yesterday was placed on one year's summary probation, ordered to pay a $200 fine in installments, and sentenced to three weekends in Marin County Jail, on a marijuana possession conviction.

Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense a misdemeanor. Radcliffe was arrested May 11 in Novato, when police stopped him for a traffic violation and spotted marijuana in his car.

Fairfax Councilmen Beat Motion To Cut Off Their Own Salaries

By C. P. Mc CARTHY

The Fairfax City Council, seeking to cut approximately $21,000 out of a proposed $556,-171 budget in order to hold the tax rate at $1.74 per $100 assessed valuation, last night voted against dropping councilmen's $150-a-month salaries.

The budget session, the sixth on the 1970-71 budget, saw the council take its first action on the proposed budget as it deleted items totaling $6,950.

The council last week decided to let the voters decide in November whether councilmen's salaries should be cut to $25 a meeting with a maximum of $75 a month.

It will cost the city $500 to place the question on the ballot. Last night, in an effort to save the $500, Mayor Frank J. Egger moved that $9,000 for council salary be deleted entirely.

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell seconded the motion for discussion and said he would vote against it.

"The $9,000 looks like the easiest cut in the world," he said, "but what are you going to cut next year?" He said he would remain on the council if the salary was dropped, but "my conscience doesn't bother me taking $150 a month."

The question of council pay is nothing but a political football, O'Connell said, to which Egger replied that he thought the motion last week to put it on the ballot was a political football.

Councilman Lee Nelder, who made he ballot motion last week, tore into Egger, accusing him of making "nothing but a grandstand move."

From the audience, Roberta Laidley of 34 Meadow Way, asked the councilmen why they would want to rescind last week's motion by approving Egger's motion. She said she throught the $25 a meeting fee was "reasonable and fair," so why were they bringing it up all over again.

"Tonight you're just putting each of the councilmen on the spot and not giving the people a say," Mrs. Laidley said.

Egger replied that the proposed election doesn't really give the people a say about whether councilmen should be paid. It will only let the people decide how much they are paid, he said.

A vote was called for and Egger's proposal was killed with his the lone vote in favor of it.

Last night's meeting began with a discussion of salaries and City Administrator Frances R. Lestanguet's recommendation of a 5 per cent increase for all full-time employees.

Egger proposed that city department heads be given a 2.5 per cent increase now and another 2.5 per cent in January, and all other employees be given 5 per cent now and an additional 2.5 per cent in Jauary.

Egger, attempting to justify his salary proposal, went through the proposed budget and detailed $14,140 in suggested cuts, $391 in additional expenditures and $7,600 in additional revenue.

Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet moved adoption of Egger's proposal, but withdrew the motion after objections to some of the cuts from Mrs. Lestanguet and Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton.

As the hour grew late, the council began making its first decisions on the budget, cutting out the entire $5,000 slated for a contingency fund; deleting $150 proposed for a telephone credit card for Souza and cutting telephone allocations for all departments 10 per cent of 1969-70 actual expenditures, with an estimated saving of $550, and cutting to $1,250 a proposed allocation of $2,500 for creek cleanup.

The council then adjourned to its seventh budget session at 8 p.m. today.

British Vocalist Collapses Again

LONDON (UPI) — Marianne Faithfull, the actress and singer, collapsed Monday night at Heathrow airport after arriving from Ireland and was hospitalized.

A spokesman at Hillingdon Hospital near the airport said Miss Faithfull, 23, "is quite comfortable but we are not prepared to discuss details of her illness."

Last year Miss Faithfull collapsed in Sydney, Australia, where she was to star in a film about Australian outlaw Ned Kelly. She had to give up the part.

Sonoma Board Blocks Move To Quit ABAG

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday rebuffed another attempt by Supervisor Robert Theiller to withdraw the county from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Theiller said he had no objection to ABAG "as now constituted," but said he was afraid it would lead to a regional form of government with broad powers.

He noted that fellow Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella, ABAG president, and the organization were fighting against governmental status, but said he doubted if they would succeed.

Theiller said the county should consider withdrawal and a new alignment, perhaps with counties to the north that would be more compatible with Sonoma County.

Theiller said he considered the decision so important that it should be included on the Nov. 3 general election for the voters to decide. He moved a resolution to the effect, but it died for lack of a second.

Vella countered that Theiller had not answered the necessary questions about an alternative to ABAG membership that he had put to him last week.

He said the supervisors should first get opinions from the cities ABAG members and also consult with the federal and state governments to determine if another association of governments would be recognized to process financial assistance grants as does ABAG.

Since Theiller is planning a vacation next week, Vella said he would seek the answers and have them prepared for Theiller's return in September.

Supervisor Arthur Ruonavaara, angered that Theiller's presentation wasn't in writing, left the meeting saying, "I don't want to sit here and listen to your arguments."

Theiller said he was merely living up to his 1968 campaign promise to fight against ABAG and said he would assist any group that wanted to place the matter on the November ballot by initiative.

U.S. Air Aid Helps Ease Cambodian War

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Pressure from the latest Communist push north of Phnom Penh eased today with reports Cambodian troops had driven the guerrillas from Kompong Thom and U.S. planes had joined the battle for the town of Skoun.

Allied planes pounded an estimated 1,500 guerrilla troops as they withdrew from Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh after a five-day battle. Cambodian losses in the fighting were put 32 killed and 74 wounded, among the heaviest yet reported.

Spokesmen said the Communist lost at least 111 killed, with an undetermined number of dead and wounded carried off the battlefield.

Heavy fighting continuer at the district town and road junction of Skoun, 35 miles north of Phnom Penh. Cambodian spokesmen said government troops were battling Communist forces in the town's market place.

Cambodian commanders sent another battalion to reinforce the garrison at Skoun, a town of 3,000. Staff officers at a command post directing the battle for Skoun said U.S. F4 Phantom jets had flown direct support strikes for the Cambodian troops.

Spokesmen at American headquarters said North Vietnamese antiaircraft guns opened up on a U.S. Air Force RF4 Phantom photo plane as it swept over the Communist nation's southern panhandle. The unarmed jet and two armed escort fighter-bombers fled the guns five miles west of Dong Hoi without any damage.

Fighting involving U.S. troops in Vietnam was light and scattered although five Americans were killed and 25 wounded in small ground clashes and booby trap explosions. Two other Americans were wounded in 15 overnight shelling attacks. The fighting at Kompong Thom had been in progress for weeks and the city of 10,000 persons was encircled and under attack for three days before the Communist withdrawal.

The Cambodian casualty figures were among the heaviest officially confirmed since Cambodian troops began fighting the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese following the March 18 ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Fighting continued at the district capital of Skoun, 35 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. The battle in the streets and buildings of the town of 3,000 persons began Friday. Skoun is a key road junction linking Phnom Penh with the capitals of Kompong Chan and Kompong Thom provinces.

Field reports said U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets are flying is support of the Cambodian troops at Skoun and took part in strikes designed to open Highway 4, linking Phnom Penh and the nation's only deepwater port.

The fighting in Skoun centered in the marketplace. A spokesman said 13 Cambodians had been killed and 63 wounded — casualties representing nearly a third of the number of original defenders. Communits losses were unknown.

Battle reports said half the troops stationed at Skoun had to withdraw late Sunday when they ran out of food and ammunition.

Gahal Party Quits Over Mideast Plan

By U.P. International

Israel's militant Gahal party formally resigned today in protest over Premier Golda Meir's acceptance of the U.S. plan for Middle East peace. Israeli warplanes tightened military pressures on the Arab world with the 76th consecutive day of air raids along the Suez Canal.

Even as the Gahal party turned in its formal resignation to Mrs. Meir, her cabinet took another step toward implementing the American blueprint for peace. It approved the draft of an affirmative, official reply to Washington.

The move in Jerusalem gave Israel a more flexible peace stance and added impetus to efforts at U.N. headquarters in New York to work out the mechanics of a Suez Canal cease fire. The U.S. plan envisages peace talks under the auspices of U.N. diplomat Gunnar V. Jarring.

The premier of Libya, Col. Moammer Al Khadafy, pressed on with his unity mission in the Arab world. He returned to Cairo today for more talks with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser after visiting Iraqi leaders in Baghdad and Syrian chiefs in Damascus in a move to get their approval of Nasser's acceptance of the U.S. plan.

It was expected that Arab defense and foreign ministers would proceed with a meeting in Tripoli, Libya, which had been postponed because of the political rift between Egypt and Iraq.

A communique from Tel Aviv said Israeli jet fighter-bombers swept across the Suez Canal today and raided Egyptian "military objectives." A spokesman said all planes returned safely.

A Cairo report said 34 Israeli planes took part, and that Egyptian air defenses "prevented them from reaching their targets."

The formal Gahal resignation was turned in at the Israeli cabinet meeting in Jerusalem today by the party leader, Menahem Begin. It becomes effective Thursday.

French Financial Outlook Improves

PARIS (UPI) — France almost tripled Monday the amount of currency French travelers may take abroad.

The Finance Ministry announced at the same time that the country's improving financial situation will permit it to repay in September $200 million to the International Monetary Fund. The payment will be the first installment on $246.2 million France withdrew from the fund during the 1968-69 economic crisis.

The ministry said that French citizens now will be allowed to take the equivalent of $90 with them when going abroad. They previously were restricted to a maximum of $36. The change comes in time for the vacation rush.

Issue Of Cascade Reservoir Opening, Closing Aired Again

The issue of Cascade Reservoir bubbled to the surface at last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting, with citizens both urging the council to reopen the reservoir area and to keep it closed.

Although not on the agenda, discussion of the fate of the reservoir, closed July 20 by the council, consumed half an hour.

Ruth Scott, of 340 Vista Linda Drive, told the council that "I cannot believe that any of you can think of destroying Cascade Reservoir. I'm afraid that I'll wake up one morning and find that the lake was drained between midnight and 6 a.m.," she said.

She told Mayor George E. Wickham that certain rules should be established to permit continued use of the reservoir, and suggested two:

"First ban all fires, and then install a gate, maybe at the bottom of the canyon, with a sign saying, 'no vehicles except residents and guests, but hikers welcome.' "

She pleaded with the council for "more time. Every proposal has not been considered."

Wickham replied that "it's not the intent of the council to drain the lake. We want to maintain it as a passive recreation area if at all possible."

But he warned that "the dam itself is not safe. To make it safe we'd have to start from scratch and build a new one."

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala confirmed that the dam is unsound. "I don't believe it would pass engineering tests, and that was a factor in the water district's giving it up," he said, in reference to the 1960 annexation of the lake and surrounding area by the city from the Marin Municipal Water District.

He said that the dam in past years was enlarged without improving the foundation, and that it is in danger of collapsing in an earthquake.

Supporting closure, Wayne R. Speckmann, of 766 Lovell Avenue, told the council that "you passed the ordinance and now you should enforce it. The cost of making that area into a park is prohibitive."

He warned of poetntial loss of human life in a fire."If we had a fire in the canyon, many people would lose their lives as well as their property. The whole matter," he said "should be dismissed and not brought up again."

William C. Wilber, who said he represented a group called the Save Cascade Committee, formed at a meeting of residents Sunday, asked the council for two assurances: the cooperation of the city in seeking an alternative to closing the reservoir and the postponement of any irreversible action such as demolishing the dam.

"Give us time," he asked. "We plan to call on professional assistance from those who want to save the reservoir for themselves, their children and the next generation."

Wickham said that any information possessed by the city is available to the public, but stopped short of pledging the council's assistance.

He did, however, promise that any irreversible action would be publicly discussed by the council before a decision is made.

Free Pickup Of Rubbish Is Scheduled

Free pickup of rubbish placed at curbside will be conducted in Mill Valley next week, the city council was told last night.

The contents of up to 21 30-gallon garbage containers placed in a neat pile at curbside will be collected on the regular garbage pickup day, City Mgr. William H. Cunningham announced.

No refrigerators, stoves or other appliances will be picked up, Cunningham said. The service will be performed by Mill Valley Refuse Service.

The council also extended the firm's contract with the city to 1975. It previously had been extended every two years.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

CERTIFICATES — Awarded certificates of appreciation to Leonard Anderson for service on the youth commission and Alan Barnett for service on the library board.

SEWERS — Awarded to Gibraltar Securities Co. a bid to purchase $77,506 worth of sewer bonds for 96.27 per cent of the face value plus 7 per cent interest on the unpaid balance.

FISH AND CHIPS — Deleted two stipulations from the requirement for a use permit for a Fish and Chips restaurant at 27 Miller Avenue: that the applicant, Paul Skvaril, build an outdoor eating area and that a review of the permit in six months consider any nuisance the restaurant might create.

PERMITS — Approved on second reading an ordinance requiring a use permit for takeout and drive-in restaurants.

UNDERGROUNDING — Approved on second reading a resolution permitting the establishment by ordinance of underground utility districts.

FIRE LINES — Deferred to its budget session Thursday discussion of appropriating about $13,000 to build a fire main along Monte Vista Avenue.

BOND — Stated it would not place a proposed capital improvement bond issue on the November ballot.

MEETING — Agreed to meet Aug. 26 at 8 p.m. at city hall with the planning commission to discuss planning policies. The commission asked for the meeting after the council rejected a proposal by Cal-Fong Investment Co. to build 120 garden cottages in Alto Bowl after the commission had approved the project.

FLOODING — Approved revisions in an agreement with the Richardson Bay Flood Control District to use $4,000 of district money to remove debris from culverts and creeks.

APPOINTMENTS — Heard Wickham nominate Jack Benjamin to serve as an adult member of the youth commission and confirmed Wickham's appointment of Jane Huber to the commission.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Thursday at 8 p.m. at city hall to consider and possibly adopt the 1970-71 budget.

Final Nuclear Test

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI)— France has scheduled the final nuclear explosion in its current series of eight tests for Aug. 6 or 7 depending upon the weather, military sources said today. The seventh test was Sunday.

More Public Participation Urged In Charting The Future Of Novato

A meeting last night of the Novato City Council, planning commission and downtown study committee for presentation of the Sedway-Cooke downown plan ended with debate on public participation in the city's decision making process.

(A detailed report of the plan was published in the Independent-Journal July 25.)

Ben Ostlind — whose plan to build a pizza hut at the corner of Machin and De Long avenues has long been delayed by city requirements, most recently to await receipt of the downtown plan — fidgeted through the presentation of the plan and a short discussion of it by the three groups.

He took the floor as soon as questions from the floor were invited to complain that the public had not been given sufficient opportunity to participate in discussions on the plan and to request that all future hearings be widely advertised public hearings.

City Mgr. Brian Mattson answered that he thought "there has been a tremendous amount of public participation" in formulation of the city's contribution to the plan.

Resulting discussion of public contributions to and possible disruptions of proceedings led Vice Mayor Joseph Gargiulo to direct that widespread publicity be given the joint meetings of the planning commission and study committee when they consider recommendations on the report.

Gargiulo said that whether public comment was to be solicited at the meetings and whether a time limit would be placed on such comment was to be decided by the chairman.

The first of a planned series of meetings was set by Mattson for Aug. 13 at 8 p.m. to decide what recommendations should be made on three major options and four major goals for development set forth in the plan and to discuss properties whose development was delayed pending receipt of the plan.

The major options for development set forth in the plan are for a major regional shopping center on the Pinheiro ranch property, placement of a major center in the San Marin East area or developing a smaller shopping center at the present location of the downtown shopping center if major regional development were not undertaken.

Thomas Cooke, of the consultabt firm of Sedway and Cooke, said that the Hanna property bounded by Highways 37 and 101 and Novato Creek was not considered for placement of the contemplated shopping center because the location would detract from development of the downtown area planned.

The four major goals set forth in the plan are to strengthen the retail role of the downtown area; increase office, professional and business uses downtown; extend use of the area for public activities and offices, and improve the visual and functional quality of the area by redesign of major commercial streets and preservation of natural features.

There was some discussion but no decision on a suggestion by George Quesada that the city council also attend the meetings of the planning commission and downtown study committee to save time in acting on the plan and increase the council's understanding of the commission's recommendations.

Cooke told the meeting that two documents remained to be prepared under the contract for the report, a final plan including recommendations on the preliminary study by the city government and a simplified presentation designed for public consumption.

The final report, according to Cooke, will not be a fixed plan for the area to be adopted at once but a general one directed toward guiding decisions the community will have to make both in the immediate future and as much as 10 years from now.

45-Day Term Given On Car Theft Charge

Louis Ray Jones, 23, of South Lake Tahoe, yesterday was placed on two years' summary probation and ordered to report at 5 p.m. Thursday to start 45 days in Marin County Jail, on a car theft charge.

Jones had pleaded guilty to the felony count after being arrested in Tahoe Oct. 15 for taking a sports car from the Rossi Garage in San Rafael on May 20, 1969. Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Trustees Put Approval On Tam Budget

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night adopted a $10.2 million budget for the 1970-71 fiscal year, a budget which calls for a 5-cent reduction in the district's overall tax rate.

The trustees voted unanimously to approve the $10,257,608 budget which is expected to carry a tax rate of $2.09 per $100 assessed valuation. Last year's tax rate was $2.14.

The tax rate will dip five cents despite the fact that this year's budget is $358,513 higher than last year's because of a large jump in the district's assessed valuation, Frank Cassou told the board. He said the assessed valuation of the district is estimated to have climbed 9.5 per cent.

Cassou also said the average cost per pupil was up 5 per cent over last year. Board members, in adopting the final budget last night, said that the 5-cent cut in the tax rate was accomplished without any reduction or elimination of district programs.

The district's general operating tax rate was actually cut eight cents —from $1.935 last year to $1.850 this year — but increases in special taxes and overrides tacked on an additional three cents.

A breakdown of the district's total tax rate shows general fund, 5 cents; classified retirefund, 5 cents; classfiie dretirement fund, 2.4 cents; social security, 1.4 cents; health and welfare premiums, 9 cents; community services, 2 cents, and Opportunity School, 4.5 cents.

The budget provides an 8 per cent pay hike for teachers and administrators. The board is still negotiating with the classified employees, but the outcome of those negotiations is not expected to affect the tax rate.

The board last night also approved transfer of $300,000 from the general fund into unappropriated reserve for the coming year. The district is seeking to build a reserve to fund its planned expansion programs in the next few years. Last night's transfer hikes the building fund to $500,000.

The budget approved last night will give the district a $1.2 million total reserve for the coming year.

The Tamalpais High School District board last night also:

ALCOHOL — Authorized the district superintendent to sign forms required by the Internal Revenue Service because the district stores alcohol for use in science labs.

ELECTION — Authorized the County of Marin to consolidate the district's election for a new trustee to replace resigned board member Gloria Melbostad with the Nov. 3 general election.

MEMBERSHIP — Approved joining the California School Board Association for another year at a cost of $1,053. Vote was 3-1 with Robert W. Corlette dissenting because he didn't feel the district got its money's worth from the association. The board named trustee David D. Ring the district's delegate to the association's assembly.

CARPET — Awarded the contract for carpeting the Redwood High School library to RGS Inc. for $6,235.

BILL — Authorized payment of $173 to Harding, Miller, Lawson and Associates for soil engineering services in connection with relocatable classrooms at Redwood High School.

RESIGNATION — Approved resignation of Carol Hier-Johnson Thomason from Redwood High School and hired Pamela Deschler to replace her at a salary of $9,770 per year. Mrs. Thomason resigned because her husband has been transferred from the area, she said.

CLOSED MEETING — Held a closed meeting at the end of the regular meeting to meet with its salary negotiating committee which has been working on nonteaching salaries.

MARIN CITY — Deferred action on a request from the Marin City Community Services District to use some school property in Marin City for a special labor day program. No representative from Marin City appeared at last night's meeting to outline what type of activities are planned.

Nelder Asks Control Over Movie Licenses

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The Police Department,rather than the Fire Department and the building inspector, should license San Francisco's sex movie industry, Police Chief Alfred J. Nelder contends.

An ordinance he proposed Monday would forbid pictorial representations of nude persons in advertisements and the use of certain words in advertising. It also provides for police inspections with the power to revoke or suspend licenses.

Racial Balance School Plan Is Given Approval

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — The Board of Education of Inglewood Monday night approved a plan to achieve racial balance in public schools starting this year in compliance with a Superior Court order.

The board voted 4-1 for the plan which includes busing, the longest distance of which would be three miles.

The plan was to be submitted to Judge Max Deutz, who ordered the racial balance, later this month.

The plan calls for "pairing" kindergarten through third grade schools with fourth through six grade elementary schools. On the secondary level, it calls for changing the present north-south dividing line of the 10-square-mile district, which has the effect of concentrating the largely black east side population in the same schools.

The division will be made on an east-west basis.

Jailed Millionaire Pleads For Bail

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Jack Van Sickle, a millionaire who is accused of conspiring to kill his ex-wife and five other persons, wants the Nevada Supreme Court to reconsider an order revoking his bail.

Van Sickle, charged in California, is fighting extradition and the Supreme Court voted 3-2 on July 3 that he is not entitled to bail.

In California's Stanislaus County, the Carson City resident is accused of trying to hire two men for $5,000 to kill his ex-wife, a California judge and four attorneys who were involved in his divorce proceedings.

Bill Proposed Against Disposable Containers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Joseph P. Vigorito, D-Pa., has introduced legislation designed to outlaw the interstate sale of beer and soft drinks in throwaway containers. He said if the problem is not tackled in this decade "we will end up being [illegible] garbage."

Vigorito said "the soft drink and beer industries have for too long been interested only in the consumption of their product and the making of a profit. It is time they realize they too have a moral obligation to consider what happens to the containers which they make so easily disposable."

Utah-N. Mexico Missile Found In Mexico Field

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The radioactive remains of the head of a U.S. Athena missile have been found in a field in Mexico's northern state of Chihuahua, the Foreign Relations Department announced.

The pieces were from a missile fired July 11 from a point near Green River, Utah, that overshot its target in the White Sands missile range in New Mexico. The remains of the 100-pound missile were located at a site 11 miles from the town of Carrillo in Chihuahua state.

The department said in its announcement Monday that the missile head dug out a radioactive hole 50 feet long, 15 feet wide and 10 feet deep when it hit. It said the United States was authorized to collect the radioactive material.

Cannery Workers Ratify Contract

BURLINGAME (UPI) — Cannery workers represented by the Teamsters Union have ratified a contract that gives them wage increases ranging up to 98 cents an hour, plus an additional 14 cents in cost of living boosts.

The union announced Monday its California Council of Food Processing Unions' pact will cover 65,000 persons during the state canneries' peak season.

A 10 per cent boost is retroactive to last March. That will range from 27 cents to 51 cents an hour, depending on job classifications.

Another 5 per cent will be added next July 1 and another 5 per cent on July 1, 1971.

For increases in the cost of living, members are to get 7 cents more an hour in July 1971 and again in July 1972.

Army Bans Traffic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has decided to ban most car traffic from Arlington National Cemetery starting Nov. 1, leaving visitors the choice of walking or riding a new tourmobile.

A Picasso Stolen

LONDON (UPI)—A thief stole a Picasso ink drawing valued at $12,000 Monday from the Redfern galleries in London's Mayfair district, police said. The drawing, called "La Femme," shows a crouching woman.

Town Council Approves Library Plan

The long-sought Corte Madera Regional Library, a joint venture between the town and Marin County, last night was given final approval by the town council, which signed its half of a joint powers agreement. The Marin supervisors were expected to follow suit today.

In signing the contract, the council obligated town property owners to split with county library taxpayers the payment of $650,000 in revenue bonds needed to build the facility.

Bids for the library, to be located at Meadowsweet Drive and Sanford Street, will be sought following county approval and creation of a governing board. The board is to be made up of three supervisors and two councilmen.

The council last night appointed Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilmen Robert P. Simmons to serve on the governing board, which will supervise financing and construction of the project.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

PARKING — Approved 3 to 2, Councilmen Holmes S. Norville and Byron D. White against, an ordinance authorizing the town engineer to set future off-street parking standards.

CREEKS — Approved unanimously an ordinance holding property owners financially liable for removal of waste obstructing watercourses on their property.

BICYCLE SIGNS — Rejected unanimously a Parks and Recreation Commission recommendation that bicycle path signs be posted at the intersection of Tamalpais and Paradise drives denoting Paradise as a bicycle route and signs restricting bicycles from San Clemente Drive.

ANNEXATION — Approved unanimously a resolution approving the circulation of a petition by Meadowsweet Drive residents to annex about six acres to the town. The action was prompted by receipt of a notice of intention signed by 20 area residents. The area seeking annexation includes Marin Joe's Restaurant, Casa Buena Motel, duplex and apartment buildings.

TRACTOR — Approved specifications for a tractor-backhoe which was previously approved during June's budget sessions. Bids will be opened Aug. 14 at the Town Hall.

PUMPS — Approved unanimously the awarding of a $9,116 contract for four flood control pumps from Byron Jackson Pump Co. of San Francisco. Four other companies submitted bids ranging to a high of $14,792.

PUMP INSTALLATION — Approved plans and specifications for installation of four flood control pumps. Bids will be opened Aug. 17 at the Town Hall.

IRRIGATION — Delayed until the next meeting consideration of a $3,830 conversion from a manual to automatic sprinkler system for the southwest section of the town park.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until the next regular meeting Aug. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

"APRICOT BLOSSOM Lantern" is the name of this dance that Lesandre Bailey, left, and Mimi Janislawski are performing in costumes that are copies of those worn by Chinese statues of the Tang Dynasty.

THIS DANCE was inspired by an Egyptian frieze in the oldest wall painting in Egypt dating back to about 3,500 B.C. Standing, Lesandre represents Shu, God of the Air, and Mimi represents Neb, Goddess of the Earth.

Ethnic Dance-Art Created

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mimi Janislawski, young Sausalito dancer, and her partner, Lesandre Bailey of San Francisco, have created a new kind of ethnic dance-art of special interest to universities and other educational institutions and to club program chairmen.

They are highly trained professional dancers who perform dances of the Orient based on research they have been doing for five years in British museums while performing as students with the Royal Ballet School in London and studying privately with Chinese and Indian teachers there.

"We created our dances and made our own costumes after studying the history, religions, art, literature and fragments of ancient documents on dance," Mimi explains. "We even lived on the native foods, such as dried figs, pomegranates, seaweed and barley, of the countries we were studying, partly to save money," she confesses.

"AT ONE TIME we existed solely on tsampa, a hot buttered Tibetan tea with roasted barley flour. It's great for a cold climate."

The girls say they paid their expenses partly through money they received from home, partly through scholarships and from working.

"It was very difficult to work and support ourselves and dance at the same time," Mimi admits. "We couldn't be permanent members of the Royal Ballet because we were not British citizens. I had to resort to housework and baby sitting, and Lesandre got a job with a bank."

There were so few opportunities to dance in England for this reason that the girls decided to return to this country last April to continue their careers.

EACH DESCRIBED her own background.

Mimi, whose real name is Mary Regina, is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Stanley Janislawski of Sausalito. Born in San Francisco, she lived most of her life in Sausalito, attending the old Dominican lower school before the new San Domenico school was built, and Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco.

She started the study of dance at the age of 11 with Jean Hart, a teacher with the Royal Academy of Dance in San Francisco, an affiliate of the Royal Ballet School in London.

She performed with the California Imperial Ballet Company and in the 1965 season of the San Francisco Opera Ballet.

In 1965 at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco Mimi became the first American girl to receive the coveted solo seal from the Royal Academy of Dance and was accepted as a student by the Royal Ballet School in London. She studied there three years before continuing her studies with private teachers.

LESANDRE, a native of Australia, received her early ballet training in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles with the famed David Lichine. Later, studying in New Zealand, she passed examinations for the Royal Academy of Dance and won many scholarships and awards.

On returning to the United States she joined the California Imperial Ballet Company and danced with the San Francisco Ballet Company. She and Mimi met at the Royal Academy of Dance School in San Francisco, and the year after Mimi left for London, Lesandre joined her as a student at the Royal Ballet School.

On completing their studies at the school they continued their studies together and formed their parntership. As dancers with the Incredible String Band, which played many kinds of Eastern type instruments, they toured England, Scandinavia, Ireland and Scotland.

They gave concerts at the Queen Elizabeth and Royal Albert Halls and at British universities and were the subject of a number of films made by the BBC television.

Mimi explains what they believe is a special value of their programs.

"OUR PROGRAMS are composed of many different kinds of Eastern dances that audiences in this country seldom get a chance to see because Indians are the only ones who seem to have touring companies here."

Mimi and Lesandre will present one of their programs on Nov. 17 at Dominican College in the series sponsored by the College's Music Department in cooperation with the Dominican College Music Associates.

DANCERS LESANDRE Bailey, left, and Mimi Janislawski explain to Sister M. Antoinette, O.P. head of the Dominican College music department, how they made the ancient Chinese costumes they are wearing. They will present a concert at Dominican in November. The girls' dances and costumes are based on five years' research they did in British museums while performing as students with the Royal Ballet School in London.

Vows At Tea Garden

Samantha A. Stout and Peter J. De Francesca III, both of Sausalito, were married July 27 in a ceremony performed before the temple in the Japanese Tea Garden in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Polis of Glen Burnie,Md., had as her maid of honor Niki Kerr of San Francisco. The bridegroom, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter J. De Francesca Jr. of Melrose Park, Ill., was served as best man by Steven Gorr of San Francisco.

A reception was held following the ceremony on the bridegroom's houseboat in Sausalito. The couple are living in an apartment in Sausalito.

The bride was graduated from high school in Glen Burnie and is employed as a stewardess with Trans International Airlines out of Oakland. She has eight brothers and sisters living in Maryland.

A graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., the bridegroom is employed with Conco Ltd. in San Francisco. He is the brother of Marie De Francesca of Melrose Park and Mrs. William Bobco of Liephier, Germany.

The Dowdy Midi May Prevent Winter Cold

The fashion industry is facing fall with its hems down. It appears the vast majority of dresses will just cover the knee or drop even longer after a give-and-take fight this spring between the designers and women buyers.

If you think the midi is dowdy, though, take heart — it does have some merit.

It may be healthier, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

For one thing, it will keep you warmer on a cold winter's night. The popularity of maxi coats this past winter proved that knees should neither be seen nor heard (chattering) during the frosty season.

The midi will also probably bring back heavier stockings like the silk gauge ones worn by the heroines of the '30s. They're warmer, too.

A survey of mass-volume and hihg fashion stores in New York in June showed only two out of 15 major outlets planning large purchases of short dresses.

Teen Dreads Family Reunion At Thanksgiving, Desires Day Off

DEAR HELEN:

A while back there was a letter from a teen who enjoyed family reunions. I envy her because to me they're one big dread. Here's why:

1. My step-grandmother can't hold her liquor. The things she says and does make me want to throw up.

2. Dad's family can't stand Mom's family and vice versa. Yet they insist on getting together at least once a year — and it always ends in a fight. With all those cuts being thrown around, I'm usually the one that seems to get slashed up. Maybe it's because I'm an only child.

3. The family gets a big kick from mocking my friends, me, my school. Those from out of town knock the place where we live.

4. Almost everybody uses horrible language and dirty words, especially as they get drunker. But if the kids do — wow!

Helen, I'm almost 17 and this year I don't want to go to our regular Thanksgiving family reunion. Mom understands, but Dad thinks I'm a traiter. There'll be over 30 people without me. How can I get it across to him that I won't be missed?— BOUNCER, REFEREE AND ENGLISH TEACHER

DEAR BR AND ET:

A modest proposal: Why don't all three of you plan a different Thanksgiving vacation this fall? My IGAP says your mother and father suffer as much as you do at these annual disunions, though Pop won't admit it yet. A year off might give everyone a better perspective. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 19, been married six months, and right now my husband is in Vietnam. I'm lonely, but that's beside the point. This may come as a shock, but I'm not going to ask you how to stay faithful. To heck with my sexual needs. I'll survive until Barry gets back. I love him with all my heart.

What worries me is that I love him too much to keep anything from him. He knows I was sort of engaged to another guy when I was 17. He doesn't know I used to tell my folks I was going to spend the night with a girl friend and instead spend it with my steady. It didn't happen often and this was my one and only affair.

Should I confess, after Barry comes home, of course? — TROUBLED YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

Confession may be good for the soul, but not for the soulmate. If Barry hasn't asked, he doesn't want to know, so forget the past and concentrate on having the best of all possible futures. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I want to be an airline hostess, but I talked to my school counselor about it and she advised me to consider something else, after looking at me as if to say, "You'll never make it." I'm not ugly or overweight or anything.

Should I go ahead and show her, or pick another field? Either she doesn't think much of me, or she doesn't approve of airline hostess work. Why? — W.P.M.

DEAR W.:

Quien sabe?

But don't ever let one person's opinion stop you. Apply for a preliminary interview-test at the airline of your choice. This is the only way to learn whether you are suited for hostessing and the fly-life is suitable for you. — H.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Pumps On the Rise

The midi needs a leg to stand on, and pumps, says the American Footwear Institute, are on the rise. They climb at the throatline, where they fold over or button or do the buckle bit. Their heels lose their bulk, shape up in more graceful way, but are never skinny.

Cupples-Waterbury Vows At St. Isabella's Church

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTOPHER L. CUPPLES
(Wallace photo)

St. Isabella's Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding of Peggy Ann Waterbury to Christopher Lee Cupples on Saturday.

Lynn Prosser of San Rafael was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Marilyn Rhoads and Sandra Cupples, the bridegroom's sister. Both are San Rafael residents.

Stephen Cupples of San Rafael served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Brian Waterbury and Paul Lee of San Rafael.

A reception was held afterward in the garden of the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Raymond B. Waterbury.

After a Southern California wedding trip the newlyweds will live in Pullman, Wash.

Peggy is a Terra Linda High School graduate and attended the College of Marin. She will enter Washington State University in September.

Christopher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Cupples of San Rafael. A graduate of Terra Linda High School and the College of Marin, he is a senior at Washington State University. He is also the brother of Martin and James Cupples of San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy K. Wilkie of San Rafael. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Raymond Tofanelli, lives in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Robert Webster of San Rafael was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lenore McIntosh of Susanville, Kathy Rogers of Sausalito, Mrs. Allen Russell of San Jose and Mrs. William Rutan of Chico.

Local grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Barranco of Albany, and her great-grandmother is Mrs. Vincenta Martin of Oakland.

The bride's brother, Mark Wilkie, lives in San Rafael. The bridegroom's sisters are Mrs. Gene Urquhart of Mountain View and Mrs. Sandra Campbell of Los Altos.

A graduate of San Rafael High school, the bride attended College of Marin, and received an associate of arts degree from Foothill College, Los Altos.

Her husband was graduated from Gunn High School in Palo Alto, attended Foothill College and received an associate of arts degree from Canada College in Redwood City.

After traveling for a year in Europe, the couple will return to Chico State College, where they are students.

Pamela Yarling Wed To Michael Bernard Ross

Pamela Sue Yarling of San Rafael became the bride of Michael Bernard Ross of Pacifica on July 25 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edsel P. Yarling in San Rafael.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ross, live in Pacifica. His sister, Mrs. James Karas, lives in Camarillo.

Mrs. John Anderson of Santa Monica was her sister's matron of honor. James Karas was his brother-in-law's best man.

The bride, who was graduated from San Rafael High School, and her husband, who was graduated from Pacifica High School, are both students at Sonoma State College.

After a camping trip through the Pacific Northwest, Mr. and Mrs. Ross will live in Cotati.

Miss Weidner Is Bride Of John S. Dancz

Virginia Helen Weidner of Corte Madera became the bride of John Stanley Dancz of Clifton, N.J., in a July 27 ceremony performed by Judge Peter Allen Smith in San Rafael.

Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Weidner of Corte Madera. A graduate of Redwood High School and the University of California at Davis, she is attending graduate school at the University of Oregon.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dancz of Clifton. A graduate of California Institute of Technology, he is a graduate student at the University of California.

Miss Speeg Is Married

Marilyn York Speeg became the bride of Robert George Anderson Jr. Saturday at Mission San Rafael Archangel. A reception followed at the Greenbrae home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit V. Speeg.

Mrs. Kermit V. Speeg Jr. of Dallas, Tex., the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor, and best man was Stefan Garroway of Sausalito. Guests were ushered to their seats by Tom Haman of Santa Venetia and Author H. Presson of Danville, Robert's brothers-in-law.

Marilyn was graduated from high school in Fort Worth, Tex., and from Dominican College in San Rafael. Kermit V. Speeg Jr. of Dallas and Tom Speeg of Greenbrae are her brothers.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito and the brother of Mrs. Haman and Mrs. Persson. He is a graduate of Drew School in San Francisco, College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Leo Joseph MacKinnon of Mill Valley and John W. Anderson of Sausalito.

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 5, the 217th day of 1970 with 148 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this date in history:

In 1861 the United States imposed its first income tax. All incomes over $800 dollars were taxed 3 per cent.

In 1917 the entire National Guard was drafted into the Army.

In 1962 actress Marilyn Monroe died of an overdose of barbiturates.

In 1963 the United States, Britain and Russia signed a treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the earth's atmosphere, in space and underseas.

A thought for the day: Francis Bacon said, "Revenge is a kind of wild justice, which the more man's nature runs to, the more ought law to weed it out."

Color, Conservation Compatible, Aide Says

NEENAH, Wis. (UPI) —Color and conservation are compatible, says an environment expert. Richard M. Billings of Kimberly-Clark Corp. says creative use of color is one of the few recent developments in merchandising that doesn't have its own pollution problem.

The dye in tissue products, for intance, is "biodegradable," says Billings, the company's environment control director. It "self-destructs" as quickly as the basic material it colors.

SURVEYED ASSETS

Tore Jensen, of the Norwegian team, won the first trick in his hand with the queen of hearts and surveyed his assets with satisfaction. Five clubs, a diamond, a heart, and three spades. West's takeout double of one club made it clear that the ace of hearts was safely tucked away in the West hand.

Happily looking at the stars, Jensen led a low spade to dummy's jack and then continued with dummy's ten of spades. Bobby Wolff, holding the West cards, took the ace of spades and shifted to a diamond, knocking out the ace.

Jensen was already in the well, but he hadn't yet discovered it. He learned where he was when he led a club to dummy's king, only to find out that all of the missing clubs were in one hand.

TOO LATE

It was too late for the Norwegian star to recover. He could lead a club from dummy, capturing the ten of clubs with the queen, but then he couldn't return to the dummy for another lead through East's clubs. When South led a heart, West stepped up with the ace of hearts and ran the diamonds to defeat the contract.

DOWN-TO-EARTH

A down-to-earth declarer would check on the clubs at the second trick. A club to the king is followed by a club back through East. South's queen captures the ten.

Only now can South lead a low spade to dummy's jack.

West cannot stop declarer from reaching dummy with a spade honor. And then declarer leads another club through East to bring in his five club tricks — and his game contract.

Lower Tax Rate Set For Belvedere Budget

The Belvedere City Council last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $474,140 and set the tax rate at $1.70 per $100 assessed valuation, a decrease of five cents from last year's rate.

The only budget change made last night was the addition of $13,500 to capital outlay for a new street sweeper. Councilmen ordered that the added funds be transferred from reserves to preserve the tax rate cut.

The operating budget approved was $333,390 and the capital outlay figure was $140,750 after adding the street sweeper.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli made a brief struggle to get a $1.75 tax rate, but Councilman Thomas S. Price said, "My feeling has not changed as regards that tax rate. I think we as a council have to take a stand somewhere as regards the tax rate and the assessment."

Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel and councilman Willard G. Pittman concurred. Councilmen Merritt K. Ruddock and Alan Steinau were not present.

The Belvedere City Council Also:

STRIKE — Took no action on a letter from Rev. James E. Symons of Mill Valley urging the council to push mediation in the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 strike against the Independent-Journal.

NURSERY SCHOOL — Had a first hearing and set Sept. 14 for the second hearing on an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would reclassify Belvedere Nursery School property from residential to commercial.

LONG RANGE PLAN — Set Sept. 14 for a hearing on the city's park and recreation long range development plan.

FLOODS — Approved $2,500 to be matched by Tiburon to hire a consulting engineer to implement immediate flood control plans, study results and produce a flood control master plan in the spring of 1971.

LAGOON — Directed that a letter be sent to the Belvedere Lagoon Property Owners Association ordering removal of a bulkhead in the Reed Basin drainage ditch and informing the association of sediment cleanup plans for the lagoon.

ROCK WALL — Tabled until the 1971-72 budget hearings discussion of collapsing rock walls on Bella Vista Avenue.

GARBAGE — Tabled a proposal ordering later garbage collection hours at an undetermined higher cost until there are more complaints.

SLIDE — Took no action on a slide at 288 Beach Road claiming it began on private property and merely ended on city property so the city has no liability.

ECOLOGY — Announced Belvedere's representatives on a Belvedere-Tiburon ecology committee are former councilmen Sally Matthews, Mrs. Joseph MacLeod, Margie Simpson, Samuel Mann with Councilman Thomas S. Price acting as council liaison.

GAS TAX — Refused to back a state senate resolution by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, against diverting gas taxes from highway uses since it had previously backed diversions to mass transit and antipollution projects.

COOPERATION — Adopted a statement of philosophy proposed by Mayor Drechsel that calls for cooperation between Belvedere and Tiburon governments to make local government "efficient, effective and responsive."

DOGS — Adopted an ordinance forbidding any household to keep more than three dogs, four months or older, without a variance from the city.

DEBRIS BOXES — Put over to Sept. 14 adoption of an ordinance governing debris boxes to obtain suggestions from a supplier of the boxes.

LANE — Accepted a quit claim deed to Cedar Lane from Wallace Marinko whose property it runs through and directed City Atty. Robert F. MacKay to initiate abandonment procedures.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to Sept. 14.

Camera Stolen; Film Value Told

The film contained dozens of irreplaceable pictures snapped during a two-week period to be used in the Forest-for-Assembly campaign in November.

George J. Silvestri Jr. of 40 Gregg Place, Novato, one of Forest's supporters, said the film would be of no value to anyone else, but it is essential in the Forest campaign.

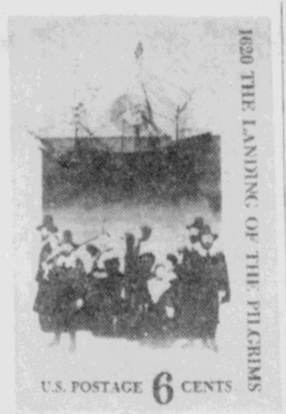
Binoculars Stolen

A $100 pair of binoculars was stolen Thursday from a 39-foot sloop berthed in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police reported today. Owner Roy E. Jennings Jr. of 141 Woodward Avenue said entry was gained by removing a padlock from the vessel's hatch.



PILGRIMS' POSTAGE — A new postage stamp commemorating the 350th anniversary of the landing of the Mayflower will be issued Nov. 21 at Plymouth, Mass., where the Pilgrims established their colony Dec. 26, 1620.

Orange Daily Paper Now Tri-Weekly

GARDEN GROVE (UPI) — Lawrence A. Collins Jr., publisher of the Orange County Evening News, announced Monday that the Wednesday edition of the newspaper will be its last as a daily.

In the future, the Evening News will be distributed free, three days a week. Distribution will be on Friday and Sunday mornings and Wednesday afternoons.

The Orange County edition of the Press-Telegram will be delivered to News subscribers starting Thursday.

In addition to the three weekly editions of the Evening News, the West Orange Publishing Corp. will continue to publish weekly and semiweekly editions of the Buena Park News, Anaheim-Fullerton Independent, La Mirada Lamplighter and Huntington Beach Independent.

The conversion of the daily to three-times-a-week was necessitated by increasing production costs, according to the publishers.

To Aid Vote Drive

Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, has named Donald D. Doyle of San Francisco, president of the San Francisco insurance brokerage firm of Marsh, McLennan, as finance chairman of his reelection campaign committee.

Attorney Tells Council Most Lots Aren't Large Enough

Three quarters of the residential lots in Belvedere aren't large enough to meet present zoning requirements and at least one third aren't even half large enough, an attorney told the Belvedere City Council last night in an unsuccessful effort to win a variance.

San Rafael attorney Bryan McCarthy told the council that 72 per cent of the city lots don't measure the required 15,000 square feet and 34 per cent are less then 7,500 square feet. He was seeking permission for Walters-Flood Inc to build a second dwelling on a 29,300 square foot lot at 419 Belvedere Avenue.

He argued that the lot split would leave one lot in conformity with the 1965 R-15 zoning ordinance and the other only 700 square feet short — larger than three quarters of Belvedere's lots.

However, the council — leaning on the arguments of City Atty. Robert F. MacKay, City Manager William L. Cavalli and planning commission chairman George V. Banning — upheld a planning commission denial of the request.

Banning said that only one half of the 30,000-square-foot lot is buildable because much of it is cliff face.

Cavalli said, "My point is that doing this is circumventing the minor subdivision ordinance and contradicting everything this council has tried to do in preserving the large single family dwelling lots."

MacKay noted that the 15,000-square-foot building area McCarthy was claiming for the proposed second structure contained an existing carport, stairway, retaining wall, cliff and portions of Raccoon Straits.

Furthermore, he said, tacking on land on the other side of the existing structure with a narrow connecting corridor violates the intent of the ordinance.

"In my opinion the building site area which is attributable to this structure is about 5,000 feet," MacKay said.

McCarthy maintained that the only things the council should have considered were that such a subdivision was legal when the existing house was built in 1958 and that most of Belvedere is nonconforming.

Monterey Bay Hit By Sharp Quake

MONTEREY (UPI) —A "reasonably potent" earthquake centered in Monterey Bay jolted a 100-mile stretch of the coast Monday night, knocking down a few telephone lines and triggering several burglar alarms.

"Weird—a good jolt," reported Monterey Police Sgt. Donald Lansing. "We thought it was a bomb at first."

There were no reports of serious damage, but the Monterey police reported some phone lines down and a number of burglar alarms ringing.

The quake was felt as far away as San Francisco and Oakland, about 90 miles north of here, where scores of calls were received by police switchboards.

University of California Seismograph Station at Berkeley said the temblor at 9:14 p.m. PDT registered between 4.75 and 5 on the Richter scale and centered in Monterey Bay. A seismologist said a quake of that size was "reasonably potent—enough to cause some damage if there are buildings nearby."

Probation, Fine Follow Shooting

William J. Riley, 76-year-old Larkspur resident who capped a longstanding feud with a neighbor by taking a shot at him, yesterday was placed on two years' summary probation and given 30 days to pay a $1,000 fine.

District Attorney Bruce B. Bales asked Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire to also sentence Riley to 10 days in county jail, but McGuire, citing probation reports of Riley's previously spotless record, termed it "a most unusual case," and refused to order jailing him.

Riley had shot at his neighbor, Walter Frizzi, on April 15, and had entered a no-contest plea to charges of assault with a deadly weapon and of exhibiting a gun in a threatening manner.

Two Marinites Have Enlisted In Air Force

Two Marin men have enlisted in the Air Force, according to T/Sgt. Bennie Montoya, area recruiter. They are John M. Behel, son of Mrs. Betty S. Behel of 87 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, and Loren M. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meisch of 1945 Center Road, Novato.

Forest Firemen Hope For Weather's Help

OJAI (UPI)—Firemen battling to keep a fire away from timberland near San Rafael Peak in the Los Padres National Forest were looking for help from the weather today.

The 1,100-acre blaze 15 miles northeast of here took a turn for the worse Monday as the winds pushed the fire north and the air stayed hot and humid.

Hundreds of Forest Service firemen established a line along MacDonald Ridge hoping to stop the fire before it could get to the timber along the Little Mutau Creeks another three quarters of a mile north.

They reported that the line was holding late Monday and the few fingers of flames which crossed had been quickly extinguished.

The rugged mountain area has prevented the use of any ground equipment. The only way to get to the fire lines has been by helicopter. Six air tankers dropped water and fire retardent chemicals on the fire during the day.

A National Guard truck unit provided drivers and trucks to get men and equipment into the fire camp about 21 miles off the main road back into the hills.

Mrs. Alioto Chosen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Supervisors Monday confirmed the appointment of Mayor Joseph Alioto's wife, Angelina, to the War Memorial Board which operates the Opera House and the Veterans Building. The position is unsalaried.

BART Director Opposes Oakland Airport Service

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Bay Area Rapid Transit District's general manager opposes extending the system to Oakland International Airport.

B. R. Stokes, the manager, told district officials Monday that BART does not have enough space on its tracks for the additional trains necessary to provide an attractive airport service.

He said, however, that he would "leave the door slightly open" for further consideration.

QUIET LIFE GOES ON

Each morning as men jam Marin streets and roads with thousands of automobiles, quiet life goes on in the high woods and slopes of Mount Tamalpais. Grazing amidst a heavy morning fog, and sometimes disappearing in a blend of brown brush and trees, coastal deer live unnoticed. As the fog burns off and hikers, campers and fishermen return to the mountain, the deer seek refuge from their — and the camera's eyes.

Marin Bus Line To Be Expanded

By WAT TAKESHITA

A Marin City bus firm won the go-ahead today to start a shuttle bus service between San Rafael and Novato and points between — Civic Center, Northgate Shopping Center, and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The Marin County Transit District directors voted 5 to 2, authorizing Marin Transit Systems of Marin City to start the San Rafael-Novato service as soon as it can get approval from the state public utilities commission. Marin Transit will get a $51,000 subsidy for the first six months of operation from the Marin County Transit District. For the first month of operation, the subsidy will be $11,000, then will go down to $10,000 the second month, and $1,000 less each month thereafter for six months. After six months, the contract will be reviewed and renegotiated.

The motion for the $51,000 subsidy and expansion of bus operation to San Rafael northward was made by Kenneth L. Anderson of San Anselmo and seconded by Denis T. Rice of Tiburon.

County supervisors William A. Gnoss, Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. voted in favor. The two dissenters were supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar, who said the entire bus operation should be run by the Golden Gate Bridge District and not be splintered among private bus firms.

Anderson's motion also provided that in the contract to be drawn up with the Marin City bus firm, the company agrees not to interfere with bus operations when the Golden Gate Bridge begins operating a full bus system. Furthermore, if the bus operations between San Rafael and Novato results in Greyhound's reducing or abandoning any of its present service, the private contract with Marin Transit Systems will have to be reviewed.

Marin Transit now operates the Mill Valley to Tiburon ferry bus system. The transit district directors voted to continue the present $4,000 per month subsidy for that operation but called for a joint powers agreement with the bridge district and the city of Tiburon to help share the cost of that operation.

On a motion by Wornum, the directors also authorized McInnis, Wornum and Gnoss to spend up to $1,000 to hire a bus transportation consultant to help set up the San Rafael to Novato shuttle service.

Attorney Albert Bianchi represented the Marin City bus firm in its request for increased subsidy and expansion of operations.

The League of Women Voters and Marin Senior Coordinating Council, represented by executive director Edward T. Ryken, urged the expansion and subsidy. County Planning Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo also spoke in favor of the expansion.

Youth Arrested As Suspect In Bottle Stabbing

A 16-year-old youth was arrested last night on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon after a Rohnert Park youth was stabbed with a broken bottle near Petaluma.

Brian Ván Leuven, 17, of 7299 Barbie Lane, Rohnert Park, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for stab wounds of the chest and arms.

Juvenile Lt. Robert Waldron said David Stoker, 16, had been arrested for the assault. Waldron said Stoker formerly lived in Cotati, but has no known address now.

Waldron said the two youths were arguing on Old Redwood Highway north of Petaluma near the Palace of Fruits at 11:30 p.m. when Stoker allegedly broke a soda bottle and stabbed Van Leuven several times. Several other youths witnessed the fight, Waldron said.

Stoker was booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Panel Votes Mobile Home Park Zoning

Rezoning for a future mobile home park on the west side of Highway 101 was approved last night by the Rohnert Park City Council.

The council rezoned 40 acres from agricultural zone to permit the mobile home park planned by Roberts and Aguirre of Novato.

The council heard that plans call for a maximum of 300 living units with a density of eight units per acre.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

SNYDER LANE — Agreed to ask the County of Sonoma for more financial assistance in the widening and improvement of Snyder Lane since cost estimates of the project have been higher than expected.

CREDIT CARDS — Approved a plan to permit residents to use Bankamericards to pay city utility bills, swimming pool memberships and golf course fees.

EASEMENT — Granted Pacific Telephone and Telegraph an easement along the edge of the golf course for a new cable in exchange for $3,000 in landscaping. Developer Paul Golis had argued that the company will save $75,000 by the golf course route and that the city should get at least $25,000 for the easement.

COLLEGE BUDGET — Heard a report that cuts in the budget for Sonoma State College will delay the construction of a new access road for one year.

DUMP — Heard a report from Donald B. Head, director of public works for the county, on plans to construct a disposal site on either Roblar Road or Hamill Road, west of Rohnert Park. No objection was raised and the council approved the concept of the plans.

Meeting Postponed

Today's meeting of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District Board has been postponed until Thursday at 8 p.m. in the fire station, according to chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

Lagunitas Trustees Stall Religion Decision

Lagunitas School District trustees last night postponed until December action of a request to release students for one hour a week to study religion.

The request was made by Rev. William L. Frederickson of the San Geronimo Valley Community Presbyterian Church.

Supt. Joseph Amato said a poll of faculty members indicated the majority were not in favor of the proposal and he recommended the policy not be adopted now.

But Amato told the board that a restructuring of the instructional program should be completed and there will be five new teachers by December, and thus staff opinion of the proposal could change.

The board agreed and tabled the request.

The Lagunitas School District Board Also:

BUDGET — Conducted a public hearing on the 1970-71 budget. Amato said new figures from the county schools office have allowed the publication budget of $430,788 to be revised to $425,354.

PROJECTS — Authorized Amato to apply for approximately $20,000 in state funds for two separate projects, one in language and mathematics and the other in reading.

LOAN — Approved borrowing up to $90,000 from the county until district tax revenue becomes available.

AGENT — Appointed Amato the board's agent for negotiating with staff and named trustee Judith L. Fullick board liason with the teaching staff and trustee Glen E. Twitchell board liaison with the non-teaching staff.

MOVE — Approved Amato's recommendation to move kindergarten from Lagunitas School to San Geronimo School beginning in September.

PUBLIC — Heard Amato announce that he will hold an open meeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 12 at San Geronimo School to meet informally with parents and public.

MEETING — Adjourned to its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 24.

Bay Air Study To Be Reviewed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Stanford University study of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will be presented to district directors at 10 a.m. tomorrow in district offices at 939 Ellis Street.

The study was financed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Man Booked For Pot Investigation

A 30-year-old Mill Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail Friday for investigation of marijuana possession after Sausalito police stopped his auto for having no red taillights.

Thomas Roy Raggart, of 109 Cornelia Avenue, was stopped about 1:26 a.m. as he was heading north in the 900 block of Bridgeway. A routine check on Taggart revealed he was wanted by San Francisco authorities for $48 worth of traffic warrants.

After he was taken to the police station on the warrants, police discovered a hand-rolled cigarette believed to contain the drug in his jacket.

Taggart is free on bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court August 14.

Final School Budget Set For Bolinas

A $266,763 final budget was adopted last night by trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District following a public hearing attended by only two persons, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported today.

The superintendent said the budget, which will leave the district's total tax rate unchanged at $2.325 per $100 of assessed valuation, includes seven per cent salary scale increases for the district's seven teachers.

He said the board agreed to place $13,000, which will be used for relocation of portable classrooms at Bolinas School, in a special reserve fund since the classrooms will probably not be moved until next summer.

The budget includes a beginning cash balance of $40,000 and $142,000 for salaries for all district trustees.

Trustees postponed action on the resignation of custodian Frank Vitelli, who has been with the district eight years, until a formal letter is received. Vitelli has resigned effective Friday.

Mailer Indicted In Death Of I-J Aide

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The county grand jury voted indictments last night against a mailer's union member in connection with the shooting death of an Independent-Journal employee last month.

Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter J. Guibbini said the panel voted to indict Frank J. Thurber, 45, of San Bruno, on four counts: Murder, burglary, robbery and conspiracy to commit assault and robbery by means of force.

The I-J employee, Allan W. Daly, a computer specialist, was shot July 4 when two young men invaded his San Francisco home. He died July 16.

Two San Bruno teen-agers, Larry G. Rutherford, 16, and Richard A. Wamsley, 17, have admitted shotting Daly and have been sentenced to long-term commitment with the California Youth Authority. According to police, the pair said they had been promised money for robbing Daly, but had not been paid.

Giubbini said following the grand jury session that Monday night's testimony would be made public later in the week.

He said 10 persons testified, including Daly's widow, Stephanie, and the two teen-agers.

Thurber, being held under $250,000 bail, is scheduled to appear again in municipal court on Friday.

He is a member of San Francisfo Mailer's Union 18, affiliated with San Francisco Typographical Union 21, on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7. Thurber is employed by the San Francisco Printing Co., which prints the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner.

Daly was shot after two youths forced their way into his Portero Hill home, demanded money and slugged him with a pipe. The pair took a purse containing $6 from the home, but police found the purse and money outside.

Burglary Suspect Pleads Innocent

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $12,500 and set a preliminary hearing for Friday at 11 a.m.

Brockman was arrested Sunday when Sonoma County sheriff's deputies said they found him inside the Valley Patio Restaurant, Sonoma, after it had closed.

Budget Hearing Set

A public budget hearing of the Fairfax School District trustees will be held tonight at 7:45 p.m. at the district office, 58 Park Road, and not last night as erroneously announced in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Uncle Sam Taketh Away And Uncle Giveth Back

One of the most enticing lures to governing boards — be they of state, county, school district or city — is the federal grant.

The board members realize that a federal grant is just getting back some of the money the federal government has taken from the taxpayers. But the rationale is, "If we don't get it, someone else will. We might as well have it here as have the money go to Oskaloosa."

Most of the federal grants require "matching funds." But these, too, have been made painless by the provision that all or part of them may be in services instead of cash. It is easy for the city fathers of San Anselmo or Novato or wherever to say that a federal grant for master-planning or urban renewal or whatever "won't cost us much" when the major portion of the city's share can be furnished in services. Of course, if the city's staff must spend its time preparing the data the federal agency wants, it cannot use that same time to do the jobs for which it was hired — but this is a technicality seldom mentioned.

A STUDY JUST completed by Tax Foundation, Inc., shows that even the "get it here or it will go to Oskaloosa" rationale is of doubtful validity, however.

Out of $19.6 billion federal grants-in-aid to tsates and localities in 1969, according to Tax Foundation, only $2.6 billion represented redistribution among states.

The remaining $17 billion went back to the same states where it had been collected in federal taxes.

Nineteen of the 50 states paid more toward the grants-in-aid than they got back, according to the tabulation.

California was one of these 19. California received the largest amount of federal grants-in-aid of any of the 50 states, a total of $2.21 billion. But Californians paid $2.24 billion in federal taxes for it. In other words, Californians paid $1.01 for each $1 they got back.

The redistribution was similarly close in several other states. In fact, it was exactly even in Nebraska — $1 back for every $1 paid in. Texas and Oregon got $1 of aid for 99 cents.

Alaska got the big break — $1 from Uncle Sam for every 28 cents paid him. Delaware and New Jersey fared the worst, getting back only $1 for $1.67 paid.

Of course, the state and local matching funds are in addition to these amounts.

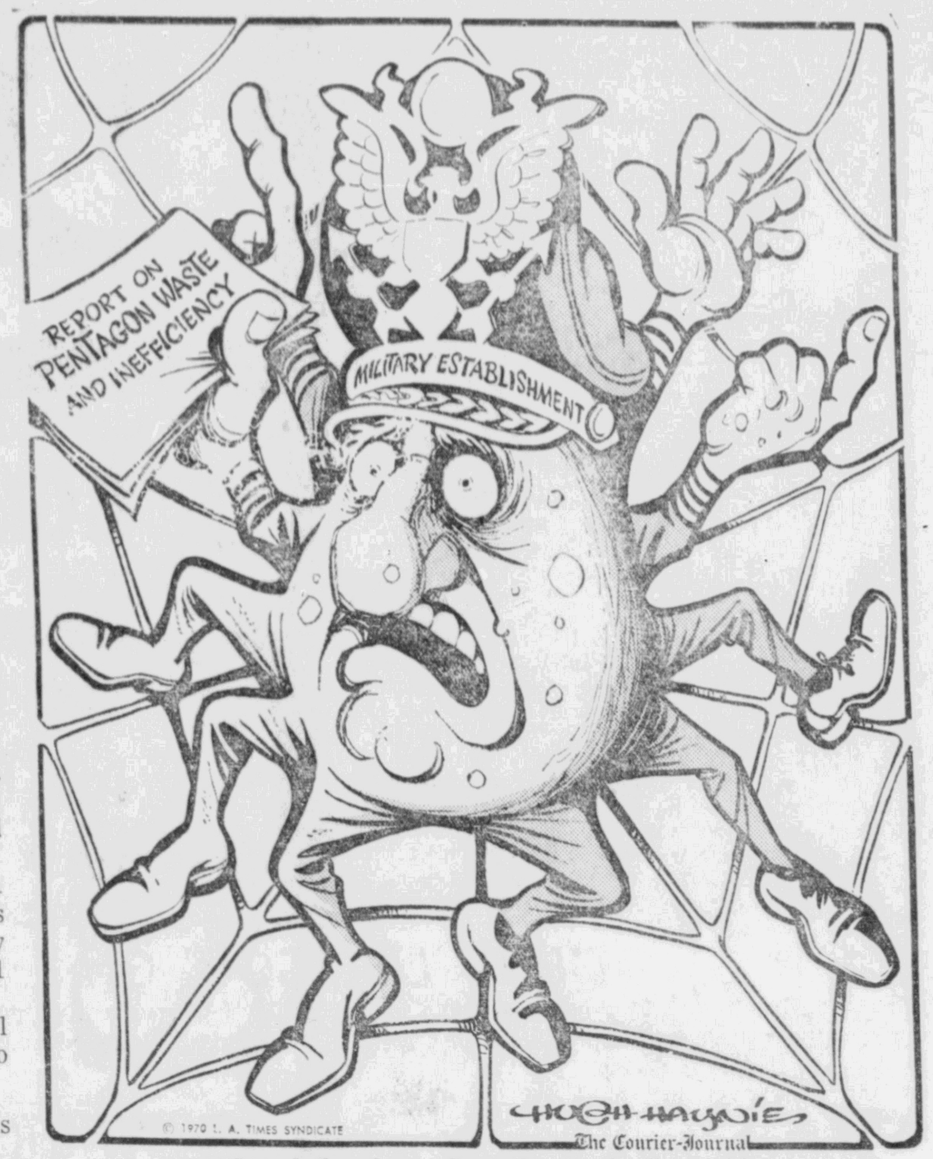
WHAT IT ALL comes down to is this:

The federal government promotes a "program." This is to be a "partnership" or "sharing" with state or local government.

The big dollar figures fascinate the local politicians and bureaucrats. They want to get in on it before all the money is gone. So they apply for a grant.

When they get the grant, the usual result is that local costs increase to cover the matching fund provision, and when that and the federal money is spent, the state, city or school district is little the better for it.

Meantime, of course, it has cost the taxpayers money they wouldn't otherwise have had to pay.



"Sound the alert! Pass the word! The civilians are coming! The civilians are coming!"

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Nixon As McLuhan Adds New Wrinkle

By ARNOLD SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If "the medium is the message" means "it's not so much what you say as how and where you say it," the White House seems to be trying to put Marshall McLuhan's theory into practice. The practice of indicating how important the President regards an announcement by the form of its delivery is not new. In every recent administration, you could tell if something was a really big deal if the President himself announced it. It took on less importance if a Cabinet member or presidential aide made the announcement at the White House, and if it was left for a department or agency to make public, you were dealing with small change.

NOW, A NEW wrinkle. The White House recently released the report and recommendations of President Nixon's adviser on youth and campus unrest, Alexander Heard, in a form few can recall seeing before.

Usually, in such a report, the recommendations, if any, seize the attention. But in the Heard report, the proposals were almost secondary, because the White House also made public the private memoranda submitted to the President by the Vanderbilt University chancellor and his chief colleague, Dr. James Cheek, president of Howard University.

Such memos are traditionally regarded as nobody's business but the President's, and a major flap usually ensues when one is leaked to the press. Witness the delayed disclosure of Daniel P. Moynihan's memo to Nixon earlier this year on the subject of administration attitudes toward blacks.

THE WHITE HOUSE, in the parlance of professional golf, may have "gone to school" on the results of that episode. Everyone seemed willing to believe that because it was private communication, the memorandum was much more significant than the public utterances of either Moynihan or Nixon.

Enter Heard and his advice to Nixon to listen to the complaints of students, blacks and political dissenters about his administration. For the White House simply to release the report —even if Nixon personally accepted it in a public ceremony and gave it his on-the-spot endorsement — might not convince those who doubted his sincerity from the start.

So, the White House may have reasoned, don't worry about the ceremonial aspects of releasing the Heard report. Instead, give it —and the President's interest in it — credibility by disclosing the very words Heard and Cheek used in telling the President what they thought.

FOR WHITE HOUSE reporters accustomed to being told that the President and whoever he has been talking to "had a useful exchange of views," it was a refreshing switch to have access to the inside dialogue of decision-making. Especially when Cheek and Heard said blunt things such as, "We do not believe our national government really understands that a national crisis confronts us," and "The young may be telling us things we ought to hear."

But the two college heads also had some other things to say, such as proposing that the administration really move to alleviate the pinch of rising costs that threaten the education of poor and-or black students.

Some of their recommendations, like getting more blacks into policy-making jobs in the administration, may be hard to carry out. Those and other proposals and what is done about them eventually will become the real basis for judging the Heard report and Nixon's reaction to it.

The medium may indeed be the message, but that axiom still does not replace an older truth: The proof of the puddings is in the eating.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What's Happening To People, Courts?

What on earth is happening to our people and courts?

An old man that cannot contain himself any longer, goes behind a tree and relieves himself and someone sees him and turns him in and he is held under observation, but some of our younger people can stand on the streets and highways nude and being sexual and no one says a thing. You can't take your children for a drive any more, it is so terrible.

You talk to people about these things and they say, well times are changing and all I have got to say is, it is a hell of a change.

Do you people really want your children to grow up like that? Please help to do something about it.

I only speak of what I see with my own eyes.

Say It Isn't So About Orphan Annie

What happened to Little Orphan Annie? Did the I-J sink so low as to drop the one good comic strip it carried? Say it isn't so.

I am sure my voice will be but one of many that demands the immediate return of that ageless symbol of all that is good and fair and decent in life. What else is left to remind me that justice always triumphs in the end? Who remains to carry the banner for America in the fight against bigotry and intolerance? Who?

Return Annie, Daddy Warbucks, Sandy, Asp and all the rest to their proper place. Let's have at least one strip that tells a story from day to day. Drop out the Drop Outs!

Complaint Misses Point Of Cartoon

(This letter is in reply to Patricia Brown of Fairfax, whose letter appeared in your paper this evening, regarding the POW cartoon of July 23.)

I think your comments pathetic! If the Oriental, in this case, the North Vietnamese, Pathet Laos, and Viet Cong, had humane spirit in their hearts, cartoonists would not have to portray such "unfunny" subject matter, to quote your own words.

The purpose of that cartoon was to alarm the public about a very tragic situation —that of over 1500 American prisoners of war and missing in action in Southeast Asia. The whole point is that there are over 3,000 dependents in our United States who do not know anything about their husbands, fathers, sons, brothers. Are they alive, dead, sick, wounded, where are they? Families wait and wonder and I might add that some of these families have been waiting for over six years! Hanoi signed the Geneva Convention of 1949 on June 28, 1957 which deals with prisoners of war. Her government has refused to grant American prisoners of war even the most basic requirements: (1) Refuses to release the names of prisoners; (2) refuses to permit impartial inspection of prison camps; (3) refuses to release the sick and wounded; (4) refuses to permit prisoners to communicate with their families and each other. I am asking you to think twice. Perhaps you will write Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam, requesting they abide by the rules of the Geneva Convention.

If they do, and our families waiting at home at last know if their husbands, fathers, sons, or brothers are alive as prisoners or dead and no longer just missing in action, then perhaps I might believe that North Vietnam has a heart.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

If A-Bomb Hit Washington, It Could Defoliate Cherry Trees

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — We were trying to work up a little comedy out of a legislator's handout that crossed our desk the other day, when our attention was diverted to the lead paragraph in a story in a San Francisco daily newspaper.

We decided to retract our intended standoffish remarks about amateur handout writers.

The handout began: "Red Rock State Park took a giant step forward this week . . . "

We are used to giant steps and legislative firsts out of these authors, and were resisting the temptation to revive the old saw about Wheeling, West Virginia.

THEN OUR EYE fell on the following lead, written by the professionals of one of our most revered wire services or one of our practically peerless metropolitan journals — we don't know which.

It was datelined Prince Rupert, B.C., and it said:

"The Alaska ferry Taku, with 342 persons aboard, crunched hard aground on West Kinahan island early yesterday, and oil spilling from her ruptured tanks threatened to pollute the harbor of this north coastal British Columbia Seaport."

WE BEGAN to fool with a few leads of our own.

NEW YORK (CNS) — A manhattan-bound BMT local carrying an estimated 1,000 commuters exploded in the subway two blocks short of Times Square station and billows of smoke from the resulting conflagration threatened to pollute the atmosphere of this port city.

CHICAGO (CNS) — A speeding four-car Jackson Park express, with 600 homeward-bound rush-hour passengers aboard, careened off the elevated structure at Indiana Avenue, strewing splintered and smouldering debris on nearby streets, threatening a breakdown of this city's litter laws.

RIO DELL (CNS) — The greatest forest fire in California's history roared out of control and from four directions approached the edges of this tiny woods community of 4,000 souls, threatening to bring about the town's first smog alert.

MILWAUKEE (CNS) — The car ferry, Milwaukee Clipper, bearing 300 passengers and 150 automobiles, sank without a trace 20 miles offshore here last night, threatening the Lake Michigan habitat of the coho salmon.

SAN FRANCISCO (Special from the Chronicle) — The Chronicle building, crowded with an estimated 2,000 workers, collapsed and crumbled to the street in a cloud of dust today, threatening to interrupt the press run on the Three-Star Final.

QUEENSTOWN, IRELAND (CNS) — The S.S. Titanic . . .

Well, you can take it from there. It's a great game with unlimited possibilities, and anyone can play. Make up a few of your own.

OUR 14-YEAR-OLD boy caught it the second time around.

"What happened to all the people, dad?" he inquired.

Well, in the third paragraph, we are all relieved to learn that the people made it to safety. The passengers and most of the crew were taken off without incident, and a skeleton crew was left aboard.

Statistics Show Tourist Value

(Reprinted from Santa Rosa Press Democrat)

Statistics are not the most enjoyable reading in the world, but sometimes the facts they reveal are important.

A ponderous annual study by Sales Management Magazine ranks every metropolitan county in the United States by income of its residents and by retail sales in important categories of business.

It shows that in Sonoma County, the national ranking for automobile sales was 160th place out of the leading 200 metropolitan counties, with a dollar-volume of $63,154,000.

But in the category of eating and drinking places, the national ranking was 131st place with $27,572,000 in sales; and in gasoline service station sales the ranking was 123rd place with $32,503,000 in sales.

Here you have a county that is in the bottom 25 per cent of all metropolitan counties in sale of automobiles — but up 29 notches in restaurant business and up 37 places in sales of gasoline for cars.

The reason, of course, is that most car sales are to county residents — but tourists and visitors buy gasoline and eat in restaurants.

Wise and effective use of transient room-tax revenue, which is what brings in the visitors, is probably the most profitable investment of public revenue that the county and its cities can and do make.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 4, 1950

An X-15 rocket ship from Edwards Air Force Base streaked 2,150 miles an hour, fastest flight on record for a manned craft.

Marin residents protested the state Division of Highways' plan for a four-lane freeway along the shoreline from Highway 101 to 2.8 miles south of Olema.

20 YEARS AGO

Aug. 4, 1950

Gov. Earl Warren estimated that California would need one million civilian defense workers in the event of an atomic attack.

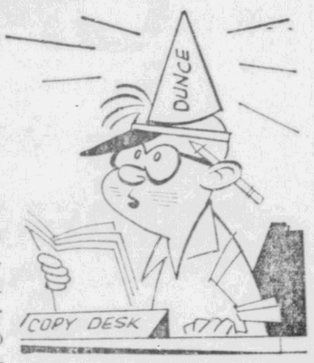
John Taylor, managing owner of San Rafael General Hospital, reported the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of San Francisco would have a mobile station at the hospital, the first in Marin.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

The world's greatest pessimist apparently is a proofreader in Kentucky, for this is the way the weather forecast read in a recent edition of his newspaper: "There is less than a five per cent chance of tonight and tomorrow."

A feud between a certain newspaper editor in a town in Indiana, and a prominent doctor in the same bailiwick became so heated that the editor was forbidden by the courts to so much as mention the doctor's name in his paper henceforth. The editor found an opportunity, however, to sink the harpoon in the doctor's hide by printing the following note on the front page one morning:



"Joe Kimball, our distinguished fire chief, enters our town's only hospital tomorrow for a routine check-up. He will leave a wife and seven children."

Empire Salazar Held Lives Beyond His Death

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

Portuguese flags fluttering at half staff in memory of former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar marked the end of an era which had covered nearly 40 years.

The old man died without knowing he had been removed from power as result of the stroke which felled him some 22 months ago and that gradually change was coming to the Portugal he had ruled as a stern but kindly father for so many years.

Tenacity was a characteristic of Salazar and perhaps it was tenacity which kept him alive so many months after those around him had despaired so many times.

And it was a tribute to that tenacity that he was able to ignore the winds of change that toppled empires and created independent states out of former colonies and that with his passing Portugal remained one of the great colonial powers controlling lands 20 times the size of metropolitan Portugal.

The Portuguese don't call them colonies, in Africa Mozambique, Angola and Portuguese Guinea. They call them provinces, as much a part of Portugal as any province of the European motherland.

And they intend to keep them.

Salazar's successor, Premier Marcello Caetano put it this way:

It is, he said, national policy to hold the African provinces at all costs and not just "the result of Dr. Salazar's personal obstinacy."

IT HAS BEEN a high price for Portugal whose annual per capita income of around $400 makes it the poorest country in western Europe.

Each year defense of the African provinces consumes 45 per cent of the Portuguese budget, or around $409 million. In Angola, Portugal maintains 55,000 troops, in Mozambique, 45,000 and in Portuguese Guinea 25,000.

Since the Angola revolt broke out in 1961, the government admits approximately 2,000 Portuguese troops have been killed.

AND YET, if Portugal can hold out against the unfriendly black African nations on her African provincial borders and against a mounting chorus of discontent at home, the payoff could be enormous. And there are elements working in her favor.

Despite swimpy or no relations at all with such African nations as Zambia or the Congo, both continue to ship their copper via Angola's Benguela Railroad.

Both give short shrift to any guerrillas who interfere with this railroad commerce. A leader of one such guerrilla band who dared to break the unwritten rules, was shot.

ANGOLA HAS OIL in enormous quantities, enough to erase completely the fears of white-controlled Rhodesia and South Africa that some day they might be cut off from oil.

American Gulf has invested $125 million in Angolan oil and other American interests are investing in a vast cattle raising program.

In Mozambique and Angola hydroelectric projects costing nearly $1 billion either are in the building or planning stage. They will be the biggest in Africa.

Speculation Abounds At Cotati Over New College President

Summers on college campuses were once leisurely times with most students away on a respite and professors catching up on research and readying material for the coming semester.

Such is not the case at Sonoma State College, where rumors abound and everyone wants to speculate about the selection of a new president in September.

The appearance of tne chancellor's investigating team spoiled the summer for many, while others were pleased at the chance to get gripes off their chests.

RARE IS the person who thinks all is perfect at the college. Most can only wonder what types of recommendations will result from the investigation.

Some feel the report will include only minor recommendations such as urging larger class sizes, larger class loads for instructors, and tighter administrative procedures.

Others feel the report could well be the operational guidelines for the new president to follow. If the guidelines insist on greater restrictions on students and campus activities — and if they are matched by a similarly stricter president — the entire atmosphere of the school could be changed.

FORMER PRESIDENT Ambrose Nichols, recuperating in Europe from his 10-year tour of duty, was known as an easy-going type who gave the students the benefit of the doubt whenever possible.

His trust was not always repaid by the students' actions, which some feel gave the college the reputation of being an "anything goes school."

Transfers from other state colleges are reported higher than usual this year, with some of the students apparently coming with expectations of finding a looser atmosphere.

These expectations may not be fulfilled if stricter controls are put into effect as many predict.

Not only would the new president have to convince continuing students that the new way is, indeed, better, but he would have to deal with the disappointed militants who transferred from other schools.

Tiburon Embarks On Open Space Program

The Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission has embarked on preparation of an open space element for the city's master plan, according to Asst. City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert.

Persons interested in serving on a committee that will advise the commission on such a plan should leave their names with him at city hall.

The commission hopes for as much "people input" as possible to advise the city on parks, open space and recreation, Kleinert said.

"The commission, advised by the citizens committee, will do the bulk of the work on the report," Kleinert said, "and will hire an outside consultant to complete the work that it can't handle."

The commission hopes to finish the report by the end of 1971, he said.

Tiburon Parks, Recreation Commission Also:

PARKS — Ratified a citizens' committee recommendation that the city purchase three acres of land near the Hilarita site for future parks, and further recommended the purchase of 1.5 acres of flat land for active recreation.

AYALA DAY — Heard a report that the Ayala Day Committee is searching Angel Island for a site to install a historical marker as part of Ayala Day festivities Sept. 26.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Aug. 20 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Viet Policy Heads To Polls

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A "popularity poll" on the Vietnam War seems headed for the city's Nov. 3 election ballot.

The Bay Area Peace Action Committee filed a petition bearing 25,000 signatures Monday to force a vote by residents on whether they favor an "immediate ceasefire and immediate withdrawal" from Vietnam.

If half the signatures are valid, the referendum will go on the ballot. City officials said between 60 and 70 per cent of the signatures are valid in most petition drives—so the war should qualify.

If it does, it will be the second time in three years that San Franciscans ballot on the issue. In 1967 they rejected by a 2-1 margin a referendum calling for withdrawal of American troops.

Student Offers $25 For Notes

A Corte Madera law student is offering a $25 reward for law school notes stolen, along with other items, from his automobile last week.

John Cooper of the Golden Gate Trailer Park, 2000 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, said he needs the notes for a California State Bar examination Aug. 25.

He is a student at Hastings College of Law in San Francisco and can be reached through P.O. Box 926, San Rafael.

Tape Deck, 11 Tapes Stolen From Auto

A stereo tape deck, FM tuner and 11 tapes worth a total of $100 were stolen between 7 p.m. Thursday and 1 p.m. Friday from an auto parked at the Clipper Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police said today.

Entrance to the auto, belonging to Brian J. Hufft of Pleasanton, was gained by forcing a wing window, police reported.

ART BUCHWALD

Way To Check Wife's 'Household Fatigue'–Take Her On A Trip

WASHINGTON — Many husbands don't realize it but their wives are suffering from "household fatigue," a state similar to the battle fatigue of World War II, only more difficult to recognize. I probably would have never realized that my wife was a victim of it if I hadn't decided to take her with me to Cincinnati, where I had to make a speech. She seemed quite normal preparing for the trip and even appeared to be excited about getting away from the house for a few days. But when we arrived at the airport, I noticed her behavior had started to change.

As I paid for our airline tickets, she said to the man behind the counter, "Just a minute. Where are our green stamps?"

"Madam, we don't give green stamps to our customers for using our airline."

"Is that so? Well, we'll just use another airline that does."

"Mother," I said, "none of the airlines gives green stamps and besides, this is the only airline that goes to Cincinnati."

I calmed her down and thought nothing more of it until we got on the plane. The first thing she did was start to dust the seats.

"Mother, you don't have to do that," I said.

"I'm not going to have the neighbors think I keep a dirty plane."

"But they have people to do this sort of thing. Now sit by the window and fasten your safety belt."

I got her to sit down quietly and gave her a magazine to ready. Soon as the plane was in the air she was up, "I've got to prepare lunch," she said.

"THEY HAVE STEWARDESSES to prepare lunch. You don't have to do anything."

"Well, I have to get the meat out of the freezer."

"No, no. That's all done by the airline personnel. You're on vacation. Relax."

She sat back for a few moments, but then one of the stewardesses spilled a cup of coffee in the aisle. My wife jumped up and said, "Don't worry about a thing." She took a container of Mr. Clean from her make-up kit and on her hands and knees, worked on getting out the spot.

"There," she said after 15 minutes, "Mr. Clean does everything."

Everybody looked away in embarrassment.

AN HOUR LATER, luncheon was served. There were two children sitting across the aisle from us, but they didn't seem to be eating their vegetables.

My wife looked over and shouted at them, "If I've told you kids once, I've told you a hundred times. You don't eat your vegetables, you don't get dessert."

"Mother, mother," I said gently, "those are not OUR children."

"I don't care," she said, "I'm sick and tired of preparing meals on this plane that nobody wants to eat."

"But maybe their parents don't want them to eat vegetables."

"YOU'RE ALWAYS defending them," she said angrily. "No wonder they have such bad table manners. Sit up," she shouted at the little boy, "or you can go to bed right now."

Fortunately the parents of the children were preoccupied, and my wife decided to go back and help the stewardesses wash the dishes. By the time we reached Cincinnati, she had cleaned all the windows, washed the ash trays, laundered the napkins and changed the curtains in the bar.

By the time we arrived in Cincinnati the plane was neat as a pin.

Happily, after a few days her household fatigue has started to leave her. She hasn't yelled at anybody else's kids in 24 hours and just this morning she let the chambermaid make up our bed. In another day or two she may even stop clearing the dishes in the hotel dining room. At least she promised me she'd try.

Youth Suspects Booked In Theft

Two youths were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall today on suspicion of grand theft after they allegedly stole a 16-foot motor boat from the Corinthian Yacht Harbor in Belvedere.

Police said William R. Rinkenberger, 13, of Napa, and Jeff T. Caprin, 15, of Salt Lake City, took the boat from its mooring late last night and rowed it to the mouth of the harbor, where they started the motor with a key.

After cruising in San Francisco Bay in the vicinity of Sausalito, the pair returned the craft to the harbor at 1:30 a.m. where they were seen by its owner, Pat O'Brien, of 2130 Redwood Highway, Greenbrae, a San Francisco policeman. O'Brien called police and the youths were arrested as they stepped onto the dock.

The Housing Authority of the County of Marin will receive bids for Repair and Overlay of Parking Areas, Construction of Drainage Facilities, and Reconstruction of Sidewalks and Patios, Marin City, California, until 2:00 P.M. on the 17th day of August, 1970, at the Administration Office of the Housing Authority, Marin City, California, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of Hoffman & Albritton, 35 Mitchell Blvd., San Rafael, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty (30) days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the Housing Authority has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is on file at the office of the Housing Authority and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids may be withdrawn by written or telegraphic notice provided such notice is received prior to the time set for the opening of bids. The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bonds. The performance and payment bonds shall each be in an amount of 50% of the contract price. The cost of the performance and payment bonds shall be included in the bid price.

All bids will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Invitation to Bid, Bid Form, Instructions to Bidders, General Conditions, Special Conditions, Form of Statement of Bidder's Qualifications, and the drawings.

The Housing Authority of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

HAPPY REVERSAL—Pamela Finn (right) lost a prospective summer job at a restaurant but the Neighborhood Youth Corps came to her rescue. MANY NEED FUNDS

Young People In Marin Find Summer Jobs Mighty Scarce

By LARRY MOWELL

Summer is a time for many students to stretch lazily on the beach or take a leisurely trip, but for others it's also a time to earn money vitally needed to stay in school.

The lucky ones find a job at the family business or return to a recreation job they've held for several years. Others stumble onto jobs in private business, but a great many will find themselves short of needed funds after an idle, unproductive summer, according to figures released by youth employment groups.

More than 14,000 students 16 and older flooded an already tight Marin labor market when schools let out in June, and about 1,400 went to government agencies in search of summer jobs. The result: only about 600 could be accomodated, the rest being turned away.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps has placed 150 young people, but another 20 to 30 had to look elsewhere, director James E. McKenna said.

Since the youth corps, which pays $1.55 per hour for up to 300 hours' work with federal and county funds, is open only to those from poverty level families, according to McKenna, those turned away suffer hardships.

The youth corps was originally allocated $65,000 in federal funds and $10,000 in county funds for 120 jobs, but McKenna squeezed an additional $12,000 from federal coffers for another 30 positions. The jobs are with non-profit and tax-supported agencies in Marin.

She had lined up a job at the Dock restaurant in Tiburon for the summer, but it fell through in early June. The Neighborhood Youth Corps rescued her from a jobless summer by offering her work with the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department as a recreation aide, she said recently while supervising youngsters at Coleman School.

She qualified because her father draws Medi-Cal payments for a weak heart and diabetes and her mother supports five children working as a switchboard operator, she said.

Although working only 22 hours a week, she said, "It's a good thing I got this job because the things my parents would have had to buy me I can buy myself."

Most of her earnings, however, go into the bank for college.

"I might be a teacher," she said. "I wanted to be a pediatrician, but I don't have the money for that."

The youth corps places people with 61 agencies that range from the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council to the Marinwood Fire Department, various parks and recreation departments and Hamilton Air Force Base.

City summer job programs are restricted to recreation posts and a few public works jobs.

The city of San Rafael has by far the largest summer job program. It hired 85 for parks and recreation, but turned away more than 150.

Mill Valley rejected about 175 while hiring only 25. Novato picked a total of 22 from more than 100 applicants. San Anselmo took only 15 from more than 100 and would have had more applicants if it had continued to accept them.

Larkspur-Corte Madera and Fairfax also had few jobs and many applicants.

The Marin Municipal Water District hired 39 college students for construction, maintenance and engineering work, but couldn't find spots for more than 100 others.

For the mass of young people who cannot get municipal jobs and do not qualify for youth corps positions, the final recourse is the employment office at the state Department of Human Resources Development in San Rafael.

Robert W. Smith, youth coordinator for the department, said last week that about 275 jobs have been found for youth, but many have been for only one day or one week. At least 300 others could not even get one day of work, he said.

Why the dearth of jobs for youth? Government officials said the money squeeze is restricting their programs.

Private employers often don't want a young person for the summer when they can hire a man thrown out of work by the downshifted economy.

One parks director who asked to remain anonymous blamed unions. He noted that young people can no longer get jobs they commonly held in his youth because the positions are now unionized.

He said he had placed six students in summer jobs who soon lost them because of union pressure on the employer.

State Employment Count: 8.19 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The slowing economy has continued to shade the employment picture in California, the state Human Relations Agency reported today.

Total employment for California reached 8.19 million in June but "the measurement of growth from a year ago narrowed to 100,000—the smallest year-to-year rise since mid-1961," the agency said in its monthly report.

Although the May-June advance of 94,000 was near-seasonal in size, the report said, "a portion of this gain stemmed from the return of Teamsters following a strike settlement.

"Restraining the summer expansion in total employment were additional cuts in aerospace manufacturing jobs, the release of some of the temporary workers hired for the 1970 census, the start of a number of trade disputes and a relatively small increase for this time of year in construction employment."

Overall, unemployment increased by 68,000 between May and June to 540,000.

The adjusted jobless rate in the Los Angeles-Long Beach area was 5.5 per cent in June, down from the May rate of 5.6 per cent, but up from the 4.0 per cent rate of a year ago.

In the San Francisco-Oakland area the rate at 4.9 percent was below the 5.1 per cent May rate but up from the 3.9 per cent rate of a year ago.

Couple Sentenced After Guilty Plea

Steven Glen Baker, 20, and his wife Gayel, 24, who were arrested April 30 when narcotics agents found their San Rafael motel room full of an estimated $100,000 in drugs, were sentenced yesterday in superior court.

The husband, who pleaded guilty to possessing morphine, was sentenced to the California Rehabilitation Center program. Mrs. Baker, who admitted possession of barbiturates, was given a suspended sentence, placed on three years' supervised probation, ordered to take narcotics tests as requested by her probation officer and handed a 90-day county jail sentence, with 60 days of it stayed so long as she cooperates with her probation officer.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also declared the woman's offense a misdemeanor.

Kentfield Trustees Set Budget Hearing

The Kentfield School District board will hold a public hearing on its $1,450,000 publication budget at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Wolfe Grade School.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich said the hearing was the only item on tomorrow's agenda.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

No Scientific Evidence Proves Shaving Affects Hair Growth

A Detroit woman writes: "Not long ago, you wrote about a man who was tired of shaving and wanted to use a depliatory to remove his beard. I'm asking for equal time and would appreciate your opinion on women using a razor to cut off facial hair."

Be it man or woman, shaving is safer and quicker than depilatories. It has been estimated that more than 85 per cent of all American women over the age of 14 use a safety razor or electric shaver to remove the hair on their legs and under the arms.

More than half of these ladies are razornappers whose habit provokes considerable marital discord.

BUT ONLY A small percentage of these women use a razor on their face. They prefer plucking or electrolysis. Depilatories and waxes also are used. There are, however, no valid medical reasons against women shaving the face.

We assume the ladies regard the method as too masculine or, perhaps, they have the mistaken idea that shaving makes the hair more coarse.

The latter is an understandable misconception and arises from two sources. When a boy begins to shave, he soon develops a beard, not because he shaved, but because he is maturing.

SHAVING ALSO CUTS off the hair at or above the surface of the skin. On regrowing, the short hair is less flexible than a long hair and feels more bristly. Actually there is no scientific evidence that shaving affects either the color, texture, or rate of hair growth. All too often women decide to remove their superfluous hair at a time when it is thicker due to natural causes.

SAFETY RAZORS have also been specially designed for females but many women ignore the preliminaries. For example, no man would think of shaving dry skin. Wet hair is soft, pliable, and 75 per cent easier to cut. Applying a shaving cream or lather lubricates the skin and holds in the water.

And never use your husband's discarded blades. Chances are they are dull. And, take your time, if you wish to escape nicks and cuts.

((Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EXTRA INCHES AND POUNDS

P. M. writes: How many pounds are added for every extra inch of height? What I mean is, if a 5' person weighs so much, how much more would a person 5' 4" normally weigh?

REPLY

A rough estimate is 2 pounds to the extra inch for women and 2½ pounds for men. The body build and muscular development must be taken into consideration, too.

TWIN OR DOUBLE?

Mrs. S. A. writes: My two young daughters are too big for a youth bed. More than half the time they sleep in the same bed, even though each has her own. We are buying new furniture for their room but don't know whether to get twin beds or a double bed. Are there any health advantages to sleeping alone?

REPLY

Yes, it is more restful.

SMALL NERVE TUMOR

B. M. E. writes: I have a very painful foot ailment which my doctor calls Morton's neuroma. Please tell me something about this ailment.

REPLY

Hydrant Tests Set

The Tamalpais Valley Fire Department will flow-test its fire hydrants in the Tamalpais woods area near Marin Drive tomorrow morning, according to Chief Richard K. Oswald. Residents may experience brief loss of pressure between 8 a.m. and noon, he said.

Reagan Considers Tours To Fuel Budget Pressure

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today was reported considering personal appearances throughout California to fuel local pressure for Senate passage of his stalemated tax program.

Twelve Democrats and a Republican derailed the $1 billion tax shift legislation on the Senate floor a week ago. Administration supporters reported no breakthrough in an intense effort to muster the two votes needed for approval.

"By the end of the week we'll know if we were able to crack any hard shells," Assemblyman William T. Bagley, the proposal's No. 1 engineer, told reporters.

"I think we've got to concentrate on hitting these guys at home where they can feel it," he said, explaining he meant a publicity campaign in the districts of holdout senators to dramatize the program's impact on homeowners.

Basically, the deadlocked legislation proposes shifting $1 billion away from local property taxes during the next four years and increased dependence on statewide and business-oriented taxes.

George Steffes, legislative secretary to Reagan, said the governor "intends that every person in a (senate) district that is going to be denied property tax relief should fully understand why."

He said that no firm decisions had been reached on how Reagan would get his message across but possibilities included a "personal effort by the governor around the state to let people know exactly what is going on."

But Steffes added, "that's only one alternative. We haven't got to that point."

When the two-bill tax program was stalled in the assembly last May, Reagan warned that "if necessary" he would personally campaign in the districts of the lawmakers who blocked his program and identify them as those who denied tax reform to citizens.

Several Democrats welcomed the warning. A week later the program was passed overwhelmingly by the lower house.

Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, who has actively lobbied Democratic lawmakers in the Senate chamber to change their votes indicated relaxation in that effort.

Corte Maderans Booked For Pot Possession

Corte Madera police yesterday raised what one officer called the "beginnings of a crash pad," and arrested two Corte Madera men on suspicion of possessing marijuana, hashish, narcotics and paraphernalia for using the drugs.

Booked into Marin County Jail yesterday were John Wayne Edmister, 20, and James Christopher Haney, 21, both of 444 Oakdale Avenue. Both men remained in jail with bail set at $1875 and were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Sgt. George W. Koehler said today the raid was staged at 1 p.m. with two other officers, after he observed marijuana plants growing in a large planter outside the pair's home and secured a search warrant.

He reported confiscating several hundred suspected marijuana seeds, a small quantity of white powder substance, nine suspected marijuana plants, three pipes used to smoke the weed and a plastic bag of hashish.

Two cameras worth $300, two lenses valued at $250 and a $40 light meter were reportedly taken by the burglar who broke a glass door to the lab to gain admittance after attempting to pry open the lock.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Town of Ross, State of California

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town of Ross will receive sealed bids at the office of the Town Clerk, Town Hall, Ross, California, on or before 2:00 P.M. on the 11th day of August, 1970, for the furnishing of all labor, materials, and services required for the 1970 STREET RESURFACING PROJECT.

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of Roy H. Hoffman, Ross Town Engineer, 35 Mitchell Blvd., San Rafael, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty (30) days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the Town Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten percent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The Town Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the Town Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is on file at the office of the Town Engineer and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the Town Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabulated and submitted to the Town Council for consideration.

Bruce Sees S. Vietnam Negotiator

Leaving the South Vietnamese delegation headquarters near the fashionable Avenue Foch, Bruce limited himself to saying, "we have just had an exchange of views."

"We exchanged views on the problems we have to face together," he said. The two men met once before last week in Saigon. Bruce went there on a fact-finding tour before taking up his post in Paris.

Asked if Bruce had shown him a different approach than his U.S. predecessors, Lam said, "We are both on the same side and have to solve the same problems. It is too early to say anything."

Bruce and Lam were accompanied by their deputies, Philip C. Habib and Nguyen Xuan Phong. Habib was acting U.S. chief during eight months from the time ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge resigned until President Nixon appointed Bruce.

Judge Opposes Law Students'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The presiding judge of San Francisco Municipal Court opposes a State Bar program which would permit law students to appear in court in behalf of clients.

Judge Leo Friedman, in letters Monday to other judges, pointed to the State Business and Professions Code which says that "no person shall practice law in this state unless he is an active member of the State Bar."

"It follows that the Board of Governors (of the State Bar) was and it without power or authority to make any rule permitting any person, not a licensed attorney and not a member of the State Bar, to act as an attorney or lawyer in any court in this state," he said.

The bar's governors would permit law students to act under specified conditions, including sponsorship by an attorney and permission from the client. Its program is aimed at gaining practical experience for students.

Topsoil Mixture Proposal Approved With Conditions

Herman Supply Co. of San Rafael will be allowed to mix dirt and manure for topsoil use on the 500-acre Luiz ranch in Marinwood, but under strict conditions requested by the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association.

Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns yesterday announced he intends to grant a permit for 90 days with a series of conditions.

Hours will be limited from 8 a.m. to noon, the mixing will be limited to dirt already stockpiled, the operations must be moved farther away from homes, and a sprinkler system must be used to keep down the dust. Cairns said no trucks will be allowed on Mount McKinley, Mount Rainier and Idylberry drives.

Martin Kaufman of 75 Mount Ranier and Joan Fernandez of 41 Mount Rainier complained that trucks on residential streets would endanger children, and dust would be intolerable, especially when winds come up in the afternoons. They also suggested that Herman Supply post a $25,000 bond to assure compliance with all conditions. Mrs. Gonzalez presented a protest petition signed by 121 homeowners of Upper Lucas Valley.

Cairns said he must check with the county counsel to see if the bond requirement is feasible, but that he would impose all the other conditions.

The deputy zoning administrator also:

DETACHED GARAGE — Approved a detached garage and storeroom for John G. Parratt at 9 Crescent Court in Woodacre on condition it will not be used for living quarters or guest room.

HEIGHT LIMIT — Granted E. J. Phelan permission to build a one-family home that would exceed the 30-foot height limitation at 60 De Burgh Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

MOBILE HOMES — Granted permission for Joseph Silveira to use a mobile home for hired help on his ranch at 4720 Redwood Highway, Marinwood; and extended for another year a mobile home for hired help on the Nicholas turkey breeding farms on the west side of Dillon Beach Road, about a mile and a half from Dillon Beach.

LOT SPLIT — Denied a lot split for William M. Powell at 15 Calle Del Ribera, Stinson Beach, because the split would create lots of 4,800 square feet where 7,500 square feet is required.

FIRE STATION — Permitted Tamalpais Fire Station No. 2 at 264 Evergreen Avenue in Homestead Valley to expand to within three feet at the rear property line, whether six feet is required provided a fence be erected and landscaping plans be submitted for review.

San Rafael Approves Meeting Permit Policy

San Rafael City Council last night adopted an ordinance requiring police permits for meetings, assemblies and parades in public places.

There was no discussion since the proposal had been discussed at prior council sessions and there was no protest against the ordinance.

Exempted from the provisions are funeral processions, governmental agencies acting within the scope of their functions and educational activities under the direction and supervision of school authorities.

Application for a permit must be filed with the police chief not less than 20 days before a proposed public meeting or assembly.

The chief of police must approve or deny the permit at least eight days prior to the proposed event. If denied, the applicant can appeal to the city council.

Among the conditions for issuing a parade permit is a finding by the chief that: "The conduct of such activity is not reasonably likely to cause injury to person or property or to provoke disorderly conduct or create a disturbance."

Another finding the chief must make is that the activity will not require the diversion of so many police officers that it will prevent normal police protection to the city.

The ordinance also states it shall be unlawful for any person "to unreasonably obstruct, impede or interfere with any parade, public meeting or assembly," for which a permit has been issued.

The ordinance will become effective Sept. 2.

San Rafael Little League Team Honored On Victory

San Rafael City Council last night paid tribute to the San Rafael American Little League team which won the Marin County Little League all-star championship Saturday.

The players were there in their red and white uniforms, filling up the first two rows of one side of the council chambers, backed by parents, friends and well-wishers.

They were carrying large signs reading, "San Rafael American Little League 1970 champs," and "Today, the County Champs — Tomorrow, the World Series."

Acting Mayor Fred E. Jensen, who had invited the squad to the meeting, presented the team with a civic award of achievement, a certificate for their feat of winning the county championship.

"We're all very proud of the Little Leaguers and the parents who took time and effort," Jensen said. "Maybe if more parents would do this, perhaps we wouldn't have some of the problems we have."

The players had arrived at city hall in a car caravan from San Rafael High School through downtown, the vehicles decorated with streamers, signs and balloons.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

PLANNING COMMISSION — Reappointed Chairman Joseph J. Garbarino of 30 Lochinvar Road, to the city planning commission for a four-year term, but postponed until Aug. 17 naming someone to fill the seat held by Commissioner John J. Adams, whose term has expired.

BUDGET SESSION — Adjourned to a special budget session at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to work out a capital improvements budget for 1970-71 and discuss salaries for department heads.

PAY RAISES — Passed a resolution putting into effect pay raises for city employees approved at a budget session last week, a flat $55 a month hike for those making up to $1,000 a month and 5½ per cent for those making more than $1,000 a month.

CABLE TV — Postponed until Aug. 17 acting on a request by Tele-Vue Systems to waive the requirement in its franchise agreement that it cannot charge for services in the latter phases of its area coverage until the proceding area phases are covered 100 per cent.

SIGNAL COSTS — Approved allocating an additional $8,110 for a total of $28,110 as the city's share toward installation of traffic signals and channelization at Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue, a joint city-Marin County project.

LANDSCAPING — Approved a request from the McCarthy Co. for the city to maintain center island landscaping along Manderly Road in the Loch Lomond area.

ORDINANCES — Adopted an ordinance correcting a clerical error in the municipal code and an ordinance restricting the use of substandard lots by owners of contiguous land.

ABATEMENT — Postponed until Sept. 7 possible abatement proceedings against a building at 33 Maywood Avenue, partially destroyed several years ago by a slide.

ANNEXATION OUT — Passed a resolution terminating the proposed annexation of 1.43 acres owned by Allan Judson along Los Ranchitos Road, between the Catholic Social Services property and the Golden Hinde Senior Housing Project.

ABAG REPRESENTATIVE — Appointed Councilman Fred C. Robbins Jr., who was absent, as the city's representative to the Association of Bay Area Governments.

ENCROACHMENTS — Granted Robert Cortopassi an encroachment permit to install a concrete retaining wall to stabilize a slide condition at 270 Bret Harte Road, and Anthony J. Moreno a permit to construct a concrete retaining wall for a driveway connection at 55 Chula Vista Drive.

Quite A Performance For Juan To Follow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "Skip" Pitlock, a 22-year-old rookie pitcher, looked like a major league veteran Monday night when he spun a four-hitter against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The rangy, 6-foot-3-inch, 185-pounder struck out nine and walked two as the San Francisco Giants beat the Dodgers 5-2 before a crowd of 24,473.

He evened his record at 3-3 and pitched his first complete major league game.

"This was my biggest thrill in baseball," he said later as he sipped a soft drink. "Just going nine innings is my biggest accomplishment."

Willie McCovey gave Pitlock sufficient margin for victory in the first inning when he hit a three-run homer, his 26th of the year. He clobbered a 1-2 pitch off Bill Singer and the ball landed in the right field pavilion about 400 feet from home plate.

"There was no doubt in my mind that ball was going out but someone just asked me if I didn't hit it on the fists," McCovey snorted. "I can't honestly say how I hit Singer. He's a great pitcher. Nobody gets too many hits off him."

The Giants got four runs in the first. Bobby Bonds led off with a double. Tito Fuentes bunted safely. Ken Henderson singled to right, scoring Bonds from third. Then McCovey hit his blast and it was 4-0 with no outs. Jim Hart accounted for the final Giant run with an eighth-inning homer off Pete Mikkelsen.

Game On Television

Tonight's game in Los Angeles will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Singer gave no more runs, striking out nine in the seven innings he pitched. His record is now 8-4. He had a five-game winning streak halted.

Both runs off Pitlock were unearned because of a throwing error by Fuentes. Ted Sizemore got three of the four Dodger hits. He drove in both runs in the fourth inning with his first single.

Pitlock, like Singer, was laid low with hepatitis this year. He had the liver ailment in February, however, while Singer was victimized after the season started.

Pitlock also was spiked a few weeks ago by Felix Millan of Atlanta when he was covering first base but that injury has healed.

"I threw a lot of change-ups," said Pitlock. "And my slider was working well. The big thing is I was able to get the ball over the plate."

In the second and final game of the abbreviated series tonight, Don Sutton, 13-7, goes against Juan Marichal, 5-9.

"Marichal is beginning to look like the Marichal of old," manager Charlie Fox said. "Pitlock pitched a fine game. I didn't have to do any master-minding. All I did was kind of sit back and enjoy it as long as he was getting the ball over the plate."

Neither Side Claims Win In Money War

Under heavy pressure from Commissioner Pete Rozelle, the club owners and NFL Players Association Monday ended five months of bitter negotiations by agreeing on a four-year contract of $19.1 million. The agreement came after a 22-hour bargaining session but did not meet the approval of either side.

"In a situation like this there is no winner, only agreement," said John Mackey, president of the Players Association and one of the prime leaders in the movement.

NOT HAPPY

"I still don't think either side is happy," said Ken Bowman of the Green Bay Packers and a member of the Players' negotiating committee. "We were told when the negotiations started that neither side would be happy. I'd estimate that we came down about 60 per cent from our original offer and they went up about 40 per cent. We got the best contract we could have gotten, but we still don't think it's representative of what a professional player should receive."

What the players got was a contract which calls for $4,785,000 annually to be contributed to the pension funds plus another $250,000 annually for other benefits.

The players also obtained disability payments for the first time, and additionally will receive increased payment for pre-season games and meal allowance on road trips to the sum of $2.6 million annually.

FAR LESS

While the benefits total an increase of $11 million based on 1969 levels, it was far less than the players hal hoped for and far more than the owners had wanted to give. One owner, who preferred to remain anonymous, admitted he was upset at the settlement.

"I'm not happy with the settlement, but it's done and I didn't think it was possible. I'm just exhausted," he said.

Sports

Independent-Journal, 29
Tuesday, August 4, 1970

Even though the players were not totally satisfied with the deal, they were happy the long negotiations were finally over so they could go about the business of getting ready for the 1970 season.

TO CAMPS

As soon as the agreement was announced, veteran players, who had refused to report to the training camps until the contract was settled, began joining their respective teams. By late today all 26 clubs are expected to have their full compliment of players in camp. Of the 1,300 members of the Players Association, only 21 players crossed the picket lines.

"It's a great relief to us that we've finally concluded this," said Bill Curry of the Baltimore Colts. "I feel the most important thing is that the fans weren't cheated out of a game. It's a little unfortunate that public opinion seemed lined up against us but we wanted to play and we will."

"I don't care what they settled for, I'm just glad they did," said 265-pound tackle Ralph Neely of the Dallas Cowboys.

The settlement came just in time to avert postponement of Saturday's first round of exhibition games. If no agreement had been reached by Monday, lack of practice would have forced cancellation of the first 10 exhibition games and the owners would have lost nearly $1 million in receipts. The players would have lost about $250 apiece in each exhibition game.

AGREED

Both sides agreed that Rozelle was a major factor in getting the job finished. Rozelle had familiarized himself with both sides of the dispute and acted as mediator in the all-night negotiations.

"The commissioner was able to get the owners united behind an offer, that was the big thing," said Alan Miller, attorney for the Players Association. "We still consider him an owner's commissioner, but he does the job and does it well."

In their original demands the players had attempted to restrict the commissioner's authority, but they eased up on this demand. Except for the inclusion of an arbiter in injury-grievance cases, the power of the commissioner was not changed by the settlement.

Boxing Manager Throws In Towel

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —The manager of Mexican welterweight Ruben Rivera says his boy made such a poor showing when he was kayoed by Ernie (Indian Red) Lopez that he plans to cancel Rivera's next big fight.

Manager Dave Griffin threw in the towel in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Monday after Rivera was battered relentlessly by Lopez, the No. 2 welterweight. Rivera failed to tally a single point on official scorecards.

Foreman Tries To Prove His Worth Against Chuvalo

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Foreman, heavyweight champion in the 1968 Olympics, tries to prove tonight he is really ready to become a contender in the pro ranks when he fights George Chuvalo in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

And even if the 21-year-old Foreman is still untested as a professional, the oddsmakers have put all their faith in him by establishing him as a 3-1 favorite. The purses, however, are another matter with Foreman getting only $17,500 compared to Chuvalo's $50,000.

LAST BIGGIE?

Some believe it may be the 32-year-old Chuvalo's last big payday. He has been battered for 14 years as a professional fighter, running up a 59-15-2 record, including 51 knockouts. The scar tissue around his eyes now opens easily, and even in some of his recent victories he has come out looking like a bloodied loser.

In only 13 months, Foreman has established himself as the brightest prospect in the heavyweight division with 21 consecutive victories, including 18 kayoes, and experience is all that he will be lacking against the Canadian veteran.

SCRAP IRON

Foreman's biggest victories so far have been over Scrap Iron Johnson and Argentine Gregorio Peralta, who are hardly considered in the same class as Chuvalo.

Over the past three years, Chuvalo has run up 24 victories and 23 kayoes in 26 bouts, and only last December he got the biggest victory of his career with a knockout over Jerry Quarry. Chuvalo was in danger of being stopped by cuts when he landed the punch that knocked Quarry to his knees for a 10 count.

SIX STRAIGHT

Chupalo has won only three of eight previous Garden bouts while Foreman has six consecutive victories. Among the fighters who beat Chuvalo in the Garden were Floyd Patterson, Oscar Bonavena and Joe Frazier. Patterson and Bonavena both got title bouts after their victories, and Frazier went on to win the world heavyweight title.

Frazier, Patterson and Quarry are all expected to be sitting at ringside taking notes in hopes of getting to fight the winner.

Trevino Still Top Money Winner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lee Trevino, who was disqualified from last week's Westchester Classic because he missed his starting time, still leads in the PGA golf earnings with $120,976.

ANGELS VS. A'S

Special Trip For Lefty

May, a lefthanded pitcher for the California Angels, blanked the Oakland Athletics 5-0 on five hits Monday night to notch his second shuttout of the season.

The Angels hopped on three Oakland pitchers for four runs in the fourth inning when they tied a team record with six straight hits.

SECOND PLACE

California broke its deadlock with Oakland to move into sole possession of second place in the American League West, seven games behind frontrunner Minnesota. But May, whose mediocre 6-7 record belies his effectiveness, figures the Angels wouldn't be there if Jackson was in the A's lineup.

"The last time I faced Jackson, he hit a two-run homer off me," said May. "He always hits well against me so I was glad to see him out of the lineup."

Angels Manager Lefty Phillips has so much faith in his lefthanded pitchers that he decided to fly another one to Oakland from the Hunter-Liggett Military Reservation near King City for tonight's game.

He's screwballer Clyde Wright (14-8) who threw a no-hitter the last time he faced the A's July 3. Wright will be flown to Oakland on a chartered plane in an effort to improve the Angels' second-place standing.

ODOM

Facing Wright will be smoke-balling righthander John Odom (4-5) who has been on the disabled list since June 20 with a sore elbow.

To make roof room for Odom's return to the roster, the A's sent infielder Jim Driscoll back to Iowa of the American Association,

A's Manager John McNamara also thought May pitched magnificently to hand the Athletics only their third loss in the last 14 games.

"Rudy did a helluva job against us and all of the credit belongs to him," said McNamara. "He got ahead of nearly all the hitters and then made them swing at his pitch."

May said his effort was the strongest since he blanked the White Sox earlier in the season.

"I didn't have to throw as many breaking balls this time because the guys gave me such a big lead," he said. "I just tried to get ahead of the hitters and stay there."

BIG INNING

Jim Fregosi singled to lead off the fourth and Ken McMullen popped up. Then the Angels rattled off a triple by Jim Spencer, doubles by Jay Johnstone and Bill Voss, a single by Joe Azcue, another double by May and an infield single that bounced off the plate by Sandy Alomar to score four runs and tie the club record for consecutive hits.

Raiders Begin Preparations For Opener

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)— Oakland coach John Madden met with both his veterans and rookies for the first time during 1970 training camp Monday night.

Veterans who arrived early Monday joined the 30 Oakland rookies in a light afternoon workout. All 45 raider vets were due today for the start of two-a-day drills.

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — The University of the Pacific has announced the Board of Regents' approval of construction of an Olympic swimming pool at the campus, to be completed in June, 1971.

Brundage Assails U.S. Philosophy On Sports

DENVER (UPI) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said yesterday U.S. cities were handicapped in getting Olympic Games because the nation's sports appear so commercialized that it seems "we can't even play without being paid."

"I am ashamed to say that the Olympic philosophy is not well understood int he U.S.," Brundage said.

"We like to think of ourselves as the greatest sports nation in the world. We are anything but, and it's a national tragedy. We have turned sports over to the professionals, and this is wrong."

The 84-year-old Chicago businessman admitted he was surprised last May in Amsterdam when the Olympic committee awarded the 1976 Winter Olympic Games to Denver.

"Where amateur sport or the Olympic Games are concerned, the handicap of U.S. cities is magnified by the fact that to the rest of the world, our sport —especially in some of our educational institutions —is so thoroughly commercialized that it is alleged that we cannot even play without being paid.

"There is more than a little truth to this, I am ashamed to say, and generations of young students have been exposed to this distortion of values in our colleges, so many of which seem to be operating farms for the professional football and basketball leagues, hardly a project for a university."

In addition, Brundage said U.S. cities suffered from the serious handicap that despite billions of dollars in foreign aid, the United States has few friends.

"Moreover, the deluge of unfavorable publicity on racial and student disorders in this country in recent years has left a very bad impression internationally," he said. "Los Angeles (which sought the Summer Olympic Games) discovered this at Amsterdam."

Brundage, speaking to the Mile High Club, said the rest of the world simply cannot understand a system "where colleges are operating as farm teams for professional sports . . . where huge amounts of money are pumped into programs for a few elite athletes, rather than into broadbased efforts to provide physical education to the many."

Brundage said he had tried unsuccessfully for the past 50 years to get Americans to understand Olympic ideals.

Drake Back In Front Of Pack

The Drake Pirates scored three runs in the final inning to defeat Mill Valley, 5-4 last night and move back into first place in the southern division of the Marin County Joe DiMaggio Baseball League.

Steve Hale, who tripled home a run in the fifth inning, tied the score with a single in the seventh and then came home on a fielder's choice to bring the Pirates their 13th win in 17 games. They are now a half game in front of the second place Italian Club.

Seven Marin Water Skiers In Nationals

Seven Marin County water skiers, headed by world champion Mike Suyderhoud, will be competing in the U.S. national water ski meet Aug. 19 through 23 at Canton, Ohio.

Thelma Salmas of Novato qualified in senior women's, 14-year-old Mike McGinley of Santa Venetia and 17-year-old Frank Demby Jr. of Terra Linda qualified in boys, while Suyderhoud made it in the men's division.

Suyderhoud, 20, was a triple champion at the regionals, winning tricks, slalom and jump, with a leap of 157 feet. In slalom he made 5 buoys at 36 miles per hour with a 40-foot line to tie the unofficial national record.

McGinley made it over the 100-foot mark for the first time in jumping, 106 feet, and Sharon Boivie was a double winner, in women's slalom (1½ buoys at 34 m.p.h. on a 43-foot line) and in tricks, 3,114 points.

Kreuger Leads 49er Veterans To Grid Camp

GOLETO, Calif. (UPI) — Veteran defensive tackle Charlie Kreuger, obviously chomping at the bit, led a group of eight veterans Monday into the training camp of the San Francisco 49ers.

Kreuger appeared within hours after settlement of the players-owners pension dispute was announced in NewYork.

Coach Dick Nolan said he expected the rest of the veterans in camp by this morning.

The 49ers will have nearly two full weeks of practice before opening their exhibition season Aug. 15 against the Cleveland Browns at Tampa, Fla.

PRO GOLFER CHI CHI RODRIGUEZ

A Funny Man In A Serious World

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I think most of the rules of golf stink."

Chi Chi Rodriquez is a little fellow, no more than 129 pounds after a full-course dinner, but he never shilly-shallies. You always know where he stands on any issue.

Rives McBee, a fellow pro on the tour, was sitting at the table when Rodriquez spoke up about what he thought of the rules of golf and McBee asked him what he meant.

"Exactly what I'm saying," Rodriquez said. "Most of the rules were written by guys who can't even break a hundred. I think what they let happen to Ben Hogan was awful. He had to get up in the middle of the night to play, they gave him a ridiculous starting time before 7:30 in the morning, and they knew he had to treat his legs before he went out. He never asked for a cart, he wouldn't, but that's what I mean about the rules of golf. What's wrong with letting someone have a cart in a tournament if he wants one. I like to walk myself but I'm all for giving anybody a cart who wants it."

"I disagree," McBee said.

"Why?" Rodriquez wanted to know.

"Rules are rules," McBee said. "Don't get me wrong: I think as much of Ben Hogan as anyone and it was a shame he had to withdraw after one round but if you're talking about rules I feel they should be the same for everyone and I'm sure Ben Hogan feels the same way about it."

"Golf is suffering from a lack of stars," Rodriquez said. "Without Palmer winning, golf is almost dead. The point I'm trying to make is that golf needs somebody like Ben Hogan — the same way baseball needs a Koufax, Mays or Mantle — and that golf should show somebody like him extra consideration."

"What do you mean by 'extra consideration?' ", Mc Bee asked Rodriquez as they sat talking during the final round of the Westchester Classic.

"If I'm a sponsor of a tournament and I'm lucky enough to have Ben Hogan in it, I'd get out there and carry him around the course myself if I had to," Rodriquez said. "That's how much I think of him. You know Dave Hill and I played with him in the only round he played."

McBee nodded.

"He showed me more class than any pro I have ever played with," said Rodriquez, who was born in Puerto Rico and has rubbed some of his playing partners the wrong way sometimes since joining the tour because he likes to cut up now and then. "He has more discipline than any man I've ever met. Whether he's shooting 60 or 80 he doesn't show his emotions. To me he is a man among men. 'Mr. Hogan' I call him. He was very nice to me. He said 'beautiful shot' a number of times and you could tell he wasn't simply saying it, he meant it. When he finished, just before he left, he put his arm around me and said he enjoyed playing with me."

Rodriquez and McBee, who looks and talks like Mickey Mantle and frequently is mistaken for him, conversed a while longer after which Chi Chi got up to pack his clubs for the next stop on the tour.

A 10-year-old boy, collecting autographs near the door of the clubhouse, asked Rodriquez for his and after Chi Chi obliged the youngster showed the signature to his father and told him he liked Rodriquez better than all the other golfers he had seen.

The father wanted to know why and the boy said:

"Because he's so funny. He even did a little dance on one hole, something like the Mexican Hat Dance. He seems like such a happy fella. All the others seem so serious."

Rodriquez is serious, too, in his way. He's serious and happy along with it. Not many are able to manage that. It's a little gift Chi Chi Rodriquez was born with.

Marti Given Lift By Golf Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)— Fred Marti likes to play golf in Columbus.

For the second straight year yesterday, the University of Houston graduate was the low pro in the fifth annual Columbus Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Marti's 33-33—66 over the 6,873-yard, par 72 Brookside Country Club course was one stroke better than Dave Eichelberger, and three shots better than a group of five other pros, including Jack Nicklaus and Larry Hinson who played to a dramatic second place tie Sunday in the Westchester Classic.

Marti earned only $1,000 of the $20,000 prize list for the charity event, but said the win would give him "a big lift."

Nicklaus, a hometown favorite of the gallery of about 12,000 birdied three of the first four holes, but played even the rest of the way for his 69. Others scoring 69s were Ted Hayes, John Lotz and Dick Crawford.

In at two under par 70s were Gene Littler, Doug Ford, Homero Blancas, Don Bies, Lee Elder and Jim Jamieson.

A foursome led by Bobby Cole, who shot a 71, captured the team event with a 16-under-par 56.

Cole's group was the last one on the course and edged the teams of Hinson and Hugh Royer, who were in at 57s. Six other teams cane in with 59s.

Marti's 66 was one shot over the competitive course record for Brookside. He had three birdies on each nine. In winning low honors last year, Marti shot a 65 over the Scioto Country Club course.

Each of the 54 pros competing in the event were guaranteed at least $250. Last year's Pro-Am earned more than $70,000 for charity.

Garibaldi And Wagner Lead Phoenix Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It was the night of the late-inning rally in the Pacific Coast League.

All four contests were won by scoring outbursts in the late going Monday night as Phoenix edged Hawaii 4-2, Portland dumped Tacoma 7-5, Tucson downed Salt Lake City 6-2, and Spokane bested Eugene 7-4.

Leon Wagner pulled a two-run pinchhit homer in the bottom of the ninth to give the Phoenix Giants their victory over southern division leader Hawaii.

Pete Koegel smashed a three-run homer and Rich Auerbach singled home another score in a four-run eighth inning which gave the Beavers a come-from-behind triumph over Tacoma.

Tucson scored four times in the seventh by collecting half of its 10 hits in the frame. Ron Lolich's triple was the big blow of the inning.

Spokane broke a tie with a three-run eighth inning to down Eugene in a game highlighted by Charlie Hough's one-hit relief performance over the last three frames.

At 80, Casey Still Gracious Gentleman

LOS ANGELES — Casey Stengel, at 80, still is the gracious gentleman. The grand old man could have turned down an invitation to the 1970 Hall of Fame ceremonies at Cooperstown. But he didn't.

Casey left the comfort of his California home in Glendale to make the cross-country flight into almost unbearably hot and humid weather that still has the eastern seaboard in a sweaty, sticky embrace.

Casey knew what the weather would be like at this time of year. He had a valid excuse to beg off. He had a slight cold and furthermore it was the eve of his 80th birthday. Well, not precisely the eve but a couple of days before it.

HE COULD, in these days of jet travel, make the trip to Cooperstown and back to Glendale in time for the quiet birthday celebration his wife, Edna, had planned for him. He tried to persuade Edna to stay in Glendale to escape the eastern humidity but, of course, she would have none of that. Edna and Casey made the roundtrip together.

Casey never dodged a baseball invitation in his life whether it was to a Hall of Fame ceremony, an All-Star Game or a baseball writers dinner. Some years ago he even turned up without an invitation at a congressional investigation of baseball's reserve clause.

IN HIS INIMITABLE style, Casey set the record straight. Even Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of the investigating committee, told Casey at one point: "I compliment you, Mr. Stengel, on the clarity of your explanation, especially after my awkward phrasing of the question."

Casey could make a point by talking around a question. And he could make a point with a terse answer. His timing always was excellent whether he took a circuitous or direct route.

The 1967 All-Star Game was played in St. Louis which got its new stadium that year. Naturally, Casey showed up. The heat was oppressive. It was 103. Casey was asked what he thought of the new stadium.

"IT HOLDS the heat good," said Casey.

After guiding the Yankees to seven World Series titles, Casey directed the Mets through their laughable years. The Met pitching staff in those years kept Casey in good shape. He must have set a mileage record for managers making pitching changes. It seemed that he was always walking from the dugout to the mound.

One of the original 1962 Mets was a pitcher named Ken MacKenzie, an academically smart young man out of Yale. But MacKenzie's pitching talents didn't match his scholastic achievements.

HOW DID CASEY handle young men like MacKenzie? What did he tell them?

"First time I gave him the ball I told him: 'Make out like you're pitching against Harvard.' "

Softballers In 3-0 Win

Jess Munyon hurled Sohner Tree Service to within one victory of a berth in the state softball tournament last night as the San Anselmo team posted a 3-0 victory over Young American Homes of Santa Rosa.

Greyview Farms of Petaluma became the tourney's only unbeaten club when Ron Hendley blanked Pacific View of Sonoma, 5-0, in last night's other game.

Sohner and Pacific View will tangle at 8 o'clock tonight at Santa Rosa's Howarth Park. The winner will then have to defeat Greyview twice tomorrow to win the title.

The top two finishers are assured of berths in the state tourney beginning in Napa next week.

Ed Schulze and Art Donati both singled in the fourth inning to account for Sohner's first run and Ron Blum's double and singles by Munyon, John Brookman and Schulze gave the treemen a pair of insurance tallies in the fifth inning.

Munyon, who has pitched all five Sohner wins, limited Santa Rosa to three hits.

Soccer Star Faces Possible Trial

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

BOGOTA — District Attorney Rafael Campo-Restrepo announced Monday that "there is enough evidence" to warrant the arrest of England's World Cup soccer team captain, Bobby Moore, on charges of theft of a $1,500 emerald bracelet from a hotel jewelry store in the Colombian capital.

Campo-Restrepo formally requested the repeal of the May 28th decision on seventh municipal criminal judge, Pedro S. Dorado, which granted Moore conditional freedom to rejoin his team in Mexico, after a five-day detention in Bogota, under house arrest.

Football

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Rams-Cleveland Browns charity football game has been moved from Friday night to Saturday night at Memorial Coliseum, game director Glenn Davis announced Monday. The Los Angeles Times 25th annual charity event was delayed a day at the request of officials of both teams in order to give players an additional day of practice.

Baseball

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL — The Minneapolis Twins Monday put pitcher Dave Boswell on the disabled list for at least 21 days and reactivated Luis Tiant.

Boswell, who won 20 games for the Twins last year, has a 3-7 record this season and has been complaining of back problems. Tiant, who has a 6-0 record, was placed on the disabled list June 1 with a cracked shoulder blade.

Horse Racing

DEL MAR, Calif. — Bill Shoemaker rode the 5,995th winner of his illustrious career yesterday, 37 less than Johnny Longden's all-time record.

Shoemaker, who will celebrate his 39th birthday this month, piloted Wisdom Word to victory in the fifth race at Del Mar.

Tennis

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — Ninth-seeded Boys division player John Holladay, La Jolla, Calif., was upset 5-7, 6-3, 6-3 Monday by Eric Friedler, Evanston, Ill., but all other seeded players won in the U.S. Boys and Junior National Tennis Tournament here.

Second-round matches in the Boys and Juniors division were played Monday to cut down more of the 286 original entries from around the country.

Candy Pink Wins

SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI) — Candy Pink zipped along the inside to win Monday's featured Millbrae Purse at Bay Meadows by a nose. The Flying E. Ranch entry edged out front-running Anita Sands and paid $4.80 as the public choice.

Real Valuable

BOSTON (UPI) —Bill Russell, former Boston Celtics' star, was the NBA's Most Valuable Player a record five times.

Casual Deer Season Opener In Marin

By AL GIDDINGS

The deer season opened last Saturday with the usual "bangs" here and there, but not a great number of bucks were killed. It's usually that way in Marin —sort of casual.

If you own a ranch, or rent a place to hunt, there's no great hurry to get there. If you have the sole hunting rights, then there's no one to "beat" you to your buck; it will be there waiting! That's the way it is on most Marin ranches and clubs.

MOST OF THE hunts start after 8 a.m.; yep, stay in bed till the fog raises, it's easy that way! I patroled the Santa Venetia hills, but couldn't locate a hunter. Tried out toward Novato and eventually got out by Point Reyes. Saw Sgt. Bob Bertram of the Sheriff's office on a deer stand, but when he saw me, he put his gun away, mumbling something like: "I might shoot a doe by mistake."

From there on, Warden Russ Ild and I checked different ranches in the Point Reyes - Inverness areas. The first legal buck we checked, a nice forked horn, was killed by the old sharpshooter Buzz McCray of Point Reyes Station. We also checked a buck killed by Miss Alfreida Grossi of Inverness.

I had checked Alfreida once before, shooting at once of those exotic deer on which trere is no season. I had noticed her and her dad, Al Grossi, making a sneak on this buck out on their ranch. The young lady made a 210 yard shot which I witnessed, but when she told me it was the first buck she had ever shot at, I felt that I had to measure the distance.

WELL, OPENING day Papa Grossi put his sharp-shooting daughter on one of the hot stands for a shoot at wild bucks. All of a sudden, with Dad yelling, "Here they come" comes three bucks, all legal, and one a monster! All this was too much for Alfreida who by this time had buck fever, but she began her barrage anyway! When it was all over, she had fired four shots, emptied four live cartridges on the ground, hit a couple of trees, and had the dust flying all over the place! She even cussed like most buck hunters do! The whole deal was salvaged when they finally found she hal downed one of the bucks, but she doesn't remember any of the entire event?

A little later, we checked Walt Mathews and his brother, Richard, both of Novato. Rich had a buck in the truck, and all I have to say is that Rich had good eyes, I'll tell you! The buck had a spike on one side and a 1½ inch fork on the other side. Of course, Rich said that "Grossi's Club" had shot at it first, so when it came over the fence to his club he knew it must be legal! (That's blind faith!)

ON THE FISHING front, things have just been fair with an occasional spurt here and there, Salmon fishing has been fair with some great catches out of Tomales by those who are there the right day and time. Joe Mello and his wife have taken about 30 salmon, some king sized ones, through July. If it's windy or rough, then it's tough. Joe even got seasick twice last week! Out of Sausalito, fishing has been fair to low. Ralph Chatoian along with eleven friends tried the Muir Beach - Rocky Point areas taking only six fish.

Capt. Jack Ellis of the Blue Horizon out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle reports using casting lures at the Farallones, and really having some great sport for rockfish and ling cod. He makes the trip every Saturday, if you've never tried it, give him a jingle. Fishing for rockfish is now at its best.

STRIPERS HAVE been tough except for Si Testa who has the Brothers Islands figured out. He usually limits. And Ward Smith has steadily taken fish along the Richmond Bridge — but early-early. Anglers who know the south tower and the gate areas are taking their share, generally on outgoing rip tides. Fish the rocks in the rips. You're bound to connect especially at Yellow Bluff, Lime Pt., Pt. Bonito and Pt. Diablo in the early morning runouts. A few bass have been taken at Bolinas in the breaker line outside the lagoon, but nothing like a big run has showed as yet.

I hear we made the radio (Station KGO) in our request for water releases to save the fish in Papermill Creek which is in danger of drying up for lack of water. One lady called the Marin Municipal Water District office, the radio station, the directors of the water district, Ed Neal of the Examiner, etc., etc. Anyhow, there now seems to be releases coming into Papermill from Kent Dam. Hooray for the lady!

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sandy Koufax hurled no-hit games in each of the 1962-1963-1964 and 1965 seasons, an all-time major league pitching record.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Few women bowlers can handle the 16-pound ball, which is the maximum weight under the rules. The most popular weight is 14 pounds . . . and some even go to 12. However, I wouldn't recommend anything less. You should, at any rate, use a ball that you can control, won't tire you, but is heavy enough to rack up those pins.

METS OF OLD—Chicago's Joe Pepitone (8), acquired last week from Houston, crossed first base safely despite the defensive efforts of Mets' first baseman Donn Clendenon (on the ground), pitcher Tug McGraw, who took the throw and second baseman Wayne Garret, who came over to assist after Pepitone singled to the outfield. Cubs won, 6-1.

U.S. PRO TENNIS

Top Aussies Play Today

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Australians John Newcombe, Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall, the top three seeds in the U.S. Professional Tennis Championships, see action today at the Longwood Cricket Club.

The top-seeded Newcombe, who walked off with the Wimbledon championship in July, takes on Clark Graebner, an unseeded member of the U.S. Davis Cup team.

Also scheduled for first round appearances were Americans, Bob Lutz, seventh seeded Cliff Richey, Stan Smith, and Marty Riessin.

Arthur Ashe, the eighth seed from Gum Springs, Va., handled Pierre Barthes of France easily, 6-4, 6-2.

Fifth seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain took three sets to beat U.S. Davis Cupper Charlie Pasarell, 6-7, 6-3, 6-0.

In other matches, Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia beat Graham Stilwell of England, 6-4, 6-1; Ray Moore of South Africa defeated Australia's Ray Ruffles, 6-2, 6-3; Cliff Drysdale of South Africa beat Zeljao Franulovic of Yugoslavia, 6-2, 5-7, 7-6; Roy Emerson, sixth seeded, of Australia, beat countryman Bill Bowrey, 6-3, 6-4.

Two doubles matches saw Alan Stone and Ruffles defeat Stilwell and Mark Cox, 6-7, 6-4, 7-6, and the team of Ron Holmberg and Gimeno beat Tom Gorman and Cliff Richey, 7-6, 6-4.

The tournament is the first major one to use the new sudden death tiebreaker rule. Under the rule, if two players or two teams are tied 6-6, the winner of the set is decided by whoever wins five out of the next nine points.

No-Hit Record

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sandy Koufax, former star pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers, is the only major leaguer who pitched four no-hit games during his career.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Forget About Jenkins; He's Back In The Groove

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The only time anyone notices Ferguson Jenkins is when something goes wrong.

The most consistent and the most overlooked pitcher in the major leagues, Jenkins wins his 20 games every season and no one seems to pay much attention. He's pitched only one All-Star game and never seems to get much notice on a team where Leo Durocher is popping off, Ron Santo is serving Pizza and Ernie Banks is talking about how nice it'd be to play a tripleheader.

KEEPS PITCHING

Meanwhile, Jenkins just keeps quietly going to the mound every fourth day for the Chicago Cubs. He hasn't missed a start in four years and was 20-13 for 1967, 20-15 in 1968 and 21-15 last year. This year he could become the first National Leaguer to win 20 for four consecutive seasons since Juan Marichal of San Francisco did it from 1963 to 1966. The last Cub to do it was Mordecai (Three Fingered) Brown who reeled off six straight 20 victory seasons from 1906 to 1911.

But Jenkins got off to a 2-6 and 3-7 start this season and suddenly people were paying attention to him and wondering what was wrong.

They can start to forget him again now.

BACK IN FORM

He's back to his usual form and boosted his record to 13-12 with a three-hit performance against the New York Mets last night that gave the Cubs a 6-1 triumph. With 13 of 14 starts left, Jenkins seems a good bet to get his 20 wins again.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal routed Pittsburgh 8-0, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia, 4-1, San Francisco beat Los Angeles 5-2 and Houston beat Atlanta 7-5 but lost the second game, 3-1.

The Mets are now a full game behind the Pirates, with the Cubs two and a half back.

In the American League, Minnesota nipped Milwaukee 2-1 but lost the second game 4-2, Washington blanked Detroit 4-0, California shutout Oakland 5-0 and Kansas City nipped Chicago 7-2. All other teams were idle.

EXPOS TOP BUCS

Montreal likes to beat the top clubs. The cellar-dwelling Expos are 8-4 against the Mets and they boosted their mark to 6-5 against Pittsburgh by downing the Pirates as Bob Bailey drove in four runs. He capped a six-run fourth inning with a three-run homer. The Pirate pitching continued to be, well, awful. They've now allowed 25 runs in their last three games —although they've won two of them.

Red Schoendienst, the St. Louis manager, paid his dues in the manager's union by boldly claiming, "We're definitely still in the race." But the Cards are in fifth place in the East, 9 1-2 back and have almost no chance of passing four clubs. But the Cards' victory over Philadelphia was their fifth straight so Schoendienst could smile. Mike Torrez pitched a five-hitter and Carl Taylor, Julian Javier and Jose Cardenal hit homers.

In the West, nothing seems to matter. Cincinnati was routed by San Diego but Los Angeles also lost so the Reds remained 12 games ahead. Ollie Brown drove in five runs with his 18th homer and a double to beat the Reds.

Ron Reed pitched his first complete game since breaking his shoulder in spring training to give Atlanta its victory over Houston in the second game of a doubleheader. Reed allowed six hits. In the first game, Joe Morgan snapped a 5-5 tie in the seventh with a run-scoring single after Bob Watson drove in three runs. George Culver got the win in relief after Wade Blasingame, who was called up to replace Jim Bouton, was bombed out in the third.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investors Protected Against Broker Loss

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I get my dividends direct from the companies I have stock in, even though my broker holds my shares. If his firm should go under, would I also be wiped out? Do you think I should get my stock certificates from the broker? — E.J.

A. Since your dividends come to you directly from the issuing corporations, your shares are apparently still registered in your name and your broker is simply holding them for you in his vault. Although he is under no obligation to do so, he is rendering you this extra service at no benefit to himself. Because your shares actually bear your name, you are fully protected in the event the brokerage firm went into bankruptcy. The process of recovery is somewhat more time consuming for investors whose shares are held in "street name". However, person whose accounts are with brokers who are members of the NYSE are protected by a trust fund set up for this purpose. Because the industry has been plagued by financial crises, the fund's $15 million available cash has been pledged, but $40 million in credit can be tapped if needed. Recognizing the need for more adequate investor protection, Congress is conducting hearings on proposals to set up the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The fact that 25 billion or 70 per cen of all shares held are owned by 31 million individuals who are also taxpayers and voters may have some bearing on the outcome of this particular legislation. In the event a brokerage firm failed, the proposed SIPC would cover investor losses up to $50,000. A plan which has the support of both the SEC and the securities industry would be initially funded by the industry, backed by the Treasury, which under certain conditions could levy charges on investor transactions up to 20 cents per $1,000. The corporation would be run by a 15-man board with 10 members from various segments of the industry and 5 selected by the President. The SEC would have board supervisory powers.

Well Is Completed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Atlantic Richfield Co. Monday announced completion of an exploratory discovery well offshore Indonesia which flowed oil from six and gas from one of eleven zones separately tested. Oil from the well, PSI K-1, tested at rates up to 1,345 barrels per day. The well is located 18 miles offshore in the Java Sea, about 70 miles east Northeast of Djakarta. The drilling program is being conducted on a production sharing basis between Pertamina, the Indonesian state-owned oil company, and a group of American firms. Sinclair Exploration co., an Atlantic Richfield subsidiary, is operator for the program.

Refrigerator Cars

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Burlington Northern Inc. said Monday it purchased 50 mechanical refrigerator cars from Fruit Growers Express, Alexandria, Va. Cost was about $9 million. Delivery of the cars is scheduled to begin in October.

Peace Hopes Spark Late Demand, Cut Early Losses

The Dow Jones Average of 30 blue chip industrials was up 2.94 at 725.90. It had been off more than 4 points earlier.

Declines topped advances, 618 to 546, among the 1,493 issues which traded.

Volume was around 8 million shares, up from 7,650,000 Monday.

Analysts said late optimism stemmed from hope among U.S. officials that a cease-fire might be established in the Middle East within a week.

Computer Sciences Corp. and Niagara Mohawk Power were among the more active issues. Computer Sciences traded a 277,600-share block at 6 1-2, off 1-2.

Memorex, which announced higher earnings, moved higher. Wrigley Co. also moved ahead. Wrigley declared an extra dividend.

Electronics were narrowly higher, while rails traded in mixed fashion.

IBM closed up 1 at 250 1-4, and Southern Pacific gained 1-8, closing at 26 1-8.

Du Pont closed up 1 at 122 1-4, American Telephone was unchanged at 45 3-8 and Texaco gained 3-4, closing at 28 7-8.

Corte Madera Ferry Center Envisioned

$4 Million Proposal To Span Board

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A land-use study which seeks to transform nearly 100 acres of East Corte Madera's barren marshland into a bustling ferry terminal complex will be presented tomorrow to the Golden Gate Bridge District board.

The plan outlines a $4 million commuter center at the mouth of Corte Madera Creek for the district, whose directors will also receive long-range water transit system plans drawn by the district's naval architect, Philip F. Spaulding of Seattle.

It Calls for a two-story, five-slip terminal located on a 99-acre square parcel south of and adjacent to Corte Madera Creek. The initial plan provides for a 1,500-space parking lot, access to and from Highway 101 at Fifer Avenue, a bus maintenance area, a marina at the east end of the Greenbrae Boardwalk, commercial areas and unspoiled marshlands.

It also suggests that the days would be numbered for residences along the Greenbrae Boardwalk.

The $7,500 plan was developed for bayside property-owner W.J. Heerdt by Corte Madera planners Livingston and Blayney of San Francisco.

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said yesterday that the town's role in the plan's development was minimal.

"The town only acted as an intermediary between the planners and Heerdt," he explained, adding that Heerdt contracted for the study with the town, which in turn contracted with the planning firm.

In this way, he continued, the town facilitated land-use planning at no cost to the taxpayers and Heerdt was provided a plan which followed the town's planning concepts. Usher added however, that this did not mean the town had approved the study, which will be presented to the town council and planning commission at 7:30 p.m. today.

"I personally would heartily recommend this study," he added. "I think it's a great plan."

The plan, made up of an initial phase and two alternates as final phases, does not concern itself with architectural design.

It does however, specify that the ferry building would contain about 44,000 square feet, have five slips with sheltered loading ramps, three to be used for ferry operations and the other two for alternates.

The types and numbers of ferry boats to utilize any approved facility will not be known until after tomorrow's report by Spaulding. The Spaulding report also is expected to contain recommendations for a terminal site.

Usher yesterday praised Heerdt's plan saying it integrates nearly every other plan developed for bayside land-use and transportation. It also second guesses the Spaulding report estimating a commuter volume of 4,000 round trips per day with ferry frequency estimated at 20 to 30 minutes.

Other reports it embraces, ac-

Judge Also Denies Mistrial Motion

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older refused today to conduct an investigation into the effect of President Nixon's remarks about the guilt of Charles Manson and said he was satisfied that none of the jurors at the Tate murder trial had learned anything of the matter.

Defense attorneys at the opening of the session argued that the comments by the President could well have reached the jurors and influenced their decision on the guilt of Manson and three female codefenders.

They asked the judge to investigate that possibility.

Later Older refused a defense request for a mistrial, saying that he thought "this thing has been grossly overplayed."

Judge Older said he saw no reason to conduct such an investigation and revealed he had taken special precautions as soon as he learned of Mr. Nixon's remarks Monday afternoon to make certain that the jury received no word of them whatsoever.

The bus in which the jury was transported to the Ambassador Hotel where they stayed overnight was carefully routed so it went past no news stands, Judge Older said. On the way to the courthouse from the hotel this morning the windows of the bus were blacked out so the jurors could see nothing.

The judge said he also had instructed the sheriffs department to take stringent steps to see that the seven men and five women on the jury had no exposure to radio or television last night or received any telephone calls.

ASKS FULL PROBE

Older rejected a motion by defense lawyer Irving Kanarek for a continuance of the trial. Kanarek argued the proceedings should be held up so that a full investigation could be made of the jury's possible exposure to publicity about Nixon's remarks.

When the session began this morning Manson was grinning and holding up a copy of the first edition of the Los Angeles Times with the headline, "Manson Guilty, Nixon Declared".

Chief defense lawyer Paul Fitzgerald read into the record a text of that section of Mr. Nixon's remarks in Denver Monday in which the chief executive said that Manson was "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders".

Fitzgerald also read for the record press secretary Ronald Ziegler's explanation that the President inadvertently omitted the word "alleged" in referring to charges against Manson.

NIXON STATEMENT

Nixon said on arriving in Washington he did not intend to give the impression that he considered Manson and the other defendants guilty and that everyone was presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Nixon also issued a statement later saying he did not wish to "prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances." He added, "the defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Manson, 35, and three of his female followers are on trial in Los Angeles for the killings a year ago of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons at her home, and Los Angeles grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife. In addition, Manson is charged in the murder of musician Gary Hinman.

The presidential jet circled Andrews AFB for almost a half hour Monday night as Nixon and his aides formulated a statement explaining that his remarks were not intended to be speculation on the guilt or innocence of Manson and three members of his hippie "family."

The Federal Aviation Agency first said Nixon's plane was making wide circles over the air base to wait for a plane carrying the news media to land. Nixon also issued a statement later saying he did not wish to "prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances." He added, "the defendants should be presumed to be inno-

President Tries To Clear Air

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says he was misunderstood when he told newsmen in Denver Charles Manson was "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

"To set the record straight," the President said in a statement drawn up while the presidential jet circled Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington for half an hour, "I do not know and did not intend to speculate as to whether the Tate defendants are guilty, in fact, or not.

"All the facts in the case have not yet been presented. The defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Israel Backs U.S. Mideast Peace Plan

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel formally accepted today the U.S. blueprint for peace in the Middle East and American officials said a cease-fire might go into effect within a week.

Israeli Premier Golda Meir announced acceptance in a speech to her Parliament in Jerusalem, but she warned that no Israeli troops would withdraw from occupied Arab lands until a "binding" peace treaty is signed.

Secretary General Thant said "there is a real chance to make important advances" toward a settlement as he conferred in New York with peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring on the mechanics of a cease-fire.

At the same time, however, there was no letup in action on the Suez front. Israeli jets attacked Egyptian bases in the canal area for the 76th consecutive day.

Optimism for a cease-fire was expressed in Washington by a State Department spokesman after Israel's Ambassador to the United States, Yitzhak Rabin, delivered his government's formal affirmative reply to the American call for a three-month cease-fire along the Suez front and negotiations under U.N. auspices.

Builders Show Off New Hydrofoil Water Carrier

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

It's sort of a cross between a metal grasshopper and a Venetian gondola, but its builders claim it is the answer to the need for high-speed water transportation between Marin and San Francisco.

What it is, is a 28-foot prototype of a new approach to hydrofoil design — a prototype of a 112-footer carrying 300 persons at a comfortable 54 miles an hour.

That works out to a nine-minute run between Tiburon and the Ferry Building in San Francisco.

The cost? Up to $2.5 million each, according to Richard J. Stach of San Francisco, promoter of the Hydrodyne Marine Corp. which had the hydrofoil built.

He named it Pegasus I, after the mythological flying horse. "This is flying horsepower, horsepower being the key to economics," Stach told the Independent-Journal in a demonstration yesterday on the San Rafael Canal.

What makes Pegasus I different, he explained, is its ability to get up on its three foils faster and with less horsepower than other hydrofoils. The resulting increase in economy makes the design economically feasible, a problem that has beset other designs, he said.

Also on hand to explain the prototype was Leon J. Danforth, manager of the oceanographic department for Rados Western Corp., which built the hydrofoil for Hydrodyne.

He said that the new design was based on the hull configuration of seaplanes, while other hydrofoils generally used the configuration of conventional boats. Also new, Danforth said, was the "hybrid hydrofoil," which is a combination of fully submerged and surface-piercing foils.

Stach said that he had formed the company two years ago to develop a hydrofoil to sell to the Golden Gate Bridge District for its planned water transit system. The district's directors will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow in toll plaza offices to get the long-range water transit system plans drawn by the district's naval architect, Philip F. Spaulding of Seattle.

Danforth estimated that Pegasus I had cost some $200,000 to develop.

(The general manager of the bridge district, Dale W. Luehring, told the I-J that the district would consider all manufacturers of hydrofoils. Other corporations working on their design include the Boeing Corp. of Seattle, which reportedly has spent more than $50 million developing hydrofoils.)

The Pegasus prototype has a plywood hull overlaid with fiberglass. It is powered by two 135-horsepower outboard engines, each fitted with 54-inch extensions down the foil supports to the specially geared propellers.

Stach said that the full-size vessel would be powered by twin 2,450-horsepower gas turbine engines, and could easily handle 12-foot seas without discomfort to passengers.

He said that his corporation's plans had been discussed informally a year ago with bridge director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, and with Luehring about six weeks ago. He said he hoped to present his plans soon to the district's board of directors.

Stach stressed that the hydrofoil also could be built for pleasure boating.

The design of conventional hydrofoils has limited them to a 2-to-1 ratio between takeoff and top speeds, he explained, but his prototype had a 3.5-to-1 ratio, thus could get up on the foils at 14 knots in less than 60 feet from a dead start. The full-size vessel would have about the same capability, he said.

A conventional hydrofoil would need about 7,000 horsepower to match the performance of the Hydrodyne vessel, Danforth estimated. And it could "fly" virtually up to its dock before settling into the water at a speed of only five knots, he added.

Fitted with retractable foils, the full-size hydrofoil would draw only about five feet of water he said.

Stach, noting that convention-

Huey Newton Moved To Alameda Jail

OAKLAND (UPI)—Black Panther Leader Huey P. Newton was secretly transferred today to the Alameda County Jail from San Luis Obispo to face a hearing Wednesday that may set him free on bail to pursue his role as a leader in "the American war of national independence."

Newton, 28, who considers himself "a prisoner of war," hopes that the hearing may put him "out on the streets" for the first time in nearly three years.

The prisoner was picked up at 4 a. m. at the California Men's Colony at San Luis Obispo by Sheriff's Sgt. Ronald Pugh and Deputy Joseph Davis. He was whisked to the Alameda County Jail by 8 a. m. and placed in a regulas "tank" with 75 to 80 others being held in the 10th floor jail in the Alameda County Courthouse.

Officers described Newton as quiet and cooperative during the trip, indulging only in "some small talk." He was dressed in khaki pants and shirt.

Newton was scheduled to appear before Presiding Criminal Superior Court Judge Harold Hove on manslaughter charges at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

TEXT OF REMARKS

"As we look at the situation today I think the main concern that I have is the attitudes that are created among many of our younger people and also older people as well in which they tend to glorify and to make heroes out of those who engage in criminal activities. This is not done intentionally by the press. It is not done intentionally by radio and television, I know. It is done perhaps because people want toread or see that kind of story.

"I noted, for example, the coverage of the Charles Manson case when I was in Los Angeles. Front page every day in the papers. It usually got a couple of minutes in the evening news. Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason.

"Here is a man yet, who, as far as the coverage was concerned appeared to be rather a glamorous figure, glamorous to the young people whom he had brought into his operations, and, also, another thing that was noted was the fact that two lawyers in the case — two lawyers who were, as anyone who could read any of the stories could tell — who were guilty of the most outrageous, contemptuous actions in the courtroom and who were ordered to jail overnight by the judge, seem to be more the oppressed and the judge seemed to be the villain.

"Let us understand, all judges are not heroes. All policemen are not heroes. And all those charged with crime are not guilty. But let us well understand too, that the system — the system in which we protect the rights of the innocent, in which

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright said today exclusive access to television, which he said a president comes close to having, "is a dangerous, unchecked power."

Fulbright said "as matters now stand, the President's power to use television in the service of his policies and opinions has done as much to expand the powers of his office as would a constitutional amendment formally abolishing the co-equality of the three branches of government."

Contending there can be no justification for denying equal time, the Arkansas Democrat suggested adoption of a bill requiring television and radio to give Congress air space at least four times a year to present its views on issues of public importance.

Fulbright said the same provisions should apply to the judiciary if it wanted to claim the privilege.

He was to appear as the opening witness at a hearing by the Senate Communications subcommittee which is seeking guidelines for political broadcast time.

Fulbright conceded that a president does not have exclusive access to television but added "he has something close to the functional equivalent of exclusive access.

"Whenever he wishes, he can command a national television audience to hear his views on controversial matters at prime time, on short notice, and at whatever length he chooses, and at no expense to the federal government or to his party.

In contrast, Fulbright said, senators and representatives have to rely on the most part on news spots and interview programs.

He said, with luck, news spots "may even convey a fragment or two of our thinking on some public issue.

"As likely as not it will be an extraneous fragment, but at least we are given the chance to make a contribution to public discussion — even if it isn't exactly the contribution we would have liked to make."

Fulbright said nothing in the Constitution gives the President, of all elected officials, the right to communicate with the American people.

"Communication is power and exclusive access to it is a dangerous unchecked power," he said.

Under provisions of his bill, Fulbright said, the time afforded by television and radio would not be "a matter of responding to presidential speeches or interviews."

Harvard Nutrition Expert Blast Poor Ratings Given To Cereals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of Harvard's Nutrition Department today denounced a critical rating of breakfast cereals as "absolutely meaningless." He said a breakfast built around cereal and milk is better for most people than bacon and eggs.

"For the information of Mr. Choate and associates, Popeye's spinach doesn't begin to compare with the overall nutritional worth of breakfast cereal — any cereal — although it like other 'greens' makes a contribution to the total nutritional value of a meal," Dr. Fredrick J. Stare said in prepared testimony.

Stare and four other witnesses appeared before the Senate Commerce Committee's consumer subcommittee in a vigorous industry rebuttal to testimony July 23 by Robert B. Choate, a Washington, D.C., civil engineer who has worked on a number of government nutrition projects.

In his appearance, Choate rated 60 brands of cold cereal on a nutritional scale. He said the bottom 40, including many of the nation's best sellers, offered little except "empty calories."

But Stare, testifying at the request of Kellogg Co. and the National Biscuit Co. (NABISCO), said Choate used an "absolutely meaningless" rating system and ignored the fact that milk is poured on cereal 95 per cent of the time. He said the ratings were so badly in error that "No. 60 on Mr. Choate's list, Shredded Wheat, is one of the best and because it is made from whole wheat and includes the wheat germ, it even ought to satisfy my many food faddist friends."

"Breakfast cereals are good foods," Stare said.

". . . Breakfast cereals with milk contribute importantly to the nutritional quality of the total breakfast. They provide approxiately the same amount of protein and calories as a bacon and egg breakfast, substantially more calcium, riboflavin, niacin, thiamine, and iron, and substantially less saturated fat and cholesterol.

"These are health pluses!" he said.

Stare said he has been professor of nutrition and chairman of the Department of Nutrition of the Harvard School of Public Health, Boston, since 1942. He said he holds an M.D. degree, a Ph.D in nutritional biochemistry, writes a syndicated newspaper column, is a director of Continental Can Co. and serves as consultant "for a number of trade associations and food companies . . . including the cereal industry."

L.M. Henderson, professor and head of the Department of Biochemistry, College of Biological Sciences, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, called Choate's rating system as "manifest absurdity."

Henderson said if too many cereals and other foods are fortified with extra nutrients, "it will become possible for the consumer to receive 5 to 10 times his requirement for nutrients, which is for some nutrients approaching dangerous levels."

A subcommittee spokesman said Henderson appeared on behalf of General Mills, a Minneapolis-based cereal and milling firm.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Belfast Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Roman Catholic mobs pelted British soldiers with stones and bottles in Belfast Monday night and today, at one point using pickaxes and a mechanical digger to tear up more paving stones to throw.

At least 25 soldiers were injured by the crowds in the city's fifth successive night of violence. It was the highest casualty count reported by army spokesmen since the new trouble began in the province's capital Thursday.

In Newry, 40 miles to the southwest, explosions damaged the British legion hall and the Ulster bus offices but no injuries were reported. An unexploded bomb was found in the town's power company offices.

Near Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee has moved closer to approving an import-restricting trade bill by finishing work on a provision that would give the President power to impose quotas on goods which suddenly flood U.S. market.

The committee Monday worked out a problem it had struggled with for more than a week by settling on language for the catch-all plan. It would give the President discretionary authority to impose quotas or other restraints on foreign products which arrive at such a level as to disrupt U.S. markets.

In addition, the bill contains provisions placing quotas or ceilings on imported shoes and textiles. President Nixon has said he is opposed to the quota concept.

Plane Explodes

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev. (UPI) — Lightning apparently struck a military antisubmarine warfare plane seconds before it exploded in flight Monday killing all 10 Navy men aboard.

A spokesman for the Clark County sheriff's office said the aircraft, a P3B Orion, was on a routine training flight when it encountered a lightning storm.

The spokesman said one witness reported the four-engine turboprop aircraft was hit by lightning bolt and exploded.

The charred wreckage of the craft was scattered over a quarter mile area near a remote ridge 10 miles northwest of this small desert community.

The victims, three Navy officers and seven enlisted men, were not immediately identified.

Mideast Juggling

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — With an admonition to pursue "quiet diplomacy," Gunnar V. Jarring, the U.N. Middle East peace envoy, got down to the business today of bringing Arab and Israeli into indirect peace talks under the U.S. settlement plan.

Top echelon representatives of the United States and the United Nations conferred with Jarring for 90 minutes Mondlay on the acceptance by Israel, Egypt and Jordan of the U.S. proposal to stop shooting and start talking.

The American plan calls for a three-month cease-fire and indirect negotiations between the Arabs and Israelis through Jarring. The talks would be based on the 1967 Security Council resolution calling in part for Israel's withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

Jarring, a devoted disciple of quiet diplomacy who has earned a reputation as the most close mouthed of all U.N. officiasl, refused to disclose his plans for putting the plan in motion.

Fulbright, Spain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has accused Sen. J. William Fulbright of revealing secret information about a proposed agreement covering U.S. military bases in Spain.

Fulbright denied the allegation, saying the information he aired in news releases and in a Senate speech Monday came from news reports and from "leaks" in the government.

The State Department objected to Fulbright's sattements that the United States planned to give Spain about $400 million in aid during the next five years in exchange for continued use of four bases, and that the assistance would include a shipment of 36 used jet warplanes.

The Arkansas Democrat Monday attacked the deal, claiming that it could involve a commitment to defend Spain against attack from without, and saying that the agreement should be submitted to the Senate for consideration as a treaty.

Celia Cuts Texas Path Of Death, Destruction

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Celia, which mauled the resort coast with 161-mile-an-hour winds Monday, scattered fire and floods and devastated scores of towns today on a 250-mile path up the heart of Texas.

An area hundreds of miles from the seafront at Corpus Christi to the border of Mexico at Del Rio, Tex., was paralyzed. There was no power, no telephones, little food and water.

"I think everybody suffered a little bit," said Jim Reed of the Small Business Administration, who arrived to help the hurt, homeless and helpless.

Police and Civil Defense reported four persons dead in Corpus Christi, a fifth missing and presumed drowned at Aransas Pass across the bay and at least one thousand injured in town after town along Celia's path of destruction.

"I'm just afraid we're liable to find more..." Corpus Christi Police Cmdr. C. C. Hagan said as the search for bodies spread.

Mayor Jack Blackmon estimated damages in Corpus Christi alone were more than $200 million. Gov. Preston Smith called out 450 National Guard troops to help clean up and prevent looting.

"We will have no looting. We just won't stand for it," Blackmon said. "The city is virtually paralyzed. But the people's spirit is remarkably good and optimistic."

The Red Cross said 34,000 persons in Corpus Christi sought refuge from Celia's fury in 30 shelters in churches, schools and courthouses during the night.

One of the dead was a baby boy crushed when a house trailer crumbled about him.

Celia, the first hurricane to strike Texas in three years, was still alive today. She kicked up 89-mile-an-hour gales through Del Rio, a town on the Mexican border 250 miles northwest of where the storm swirled ashore 13 hours before at Corpus Christi.

"We have a bad situation everywhere," Blackmon said.

Warhead Use Closed After Missile Test

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The flawless long-distance performance of the first Poseidon missile launched from a submerged submarine moves the Navy closer to deploying 16 of the rockets equipped with multiple warheads early next year.

Both stages of the stubby, 34-foot missile performed as planned Monday, according to authoritative sources, driving its dummy MIRV multiple warhead toward an Atlantic Ocean target area 2,760 miles away.

"The operation ended completely successfully," said Capt. William C. Dotson, commander of the support ship Observation Island, despite the harassment of the Soviet spy ship Hariton Laptev in international waters 30 miles east of the Cape.

The Russian vessel was a 300-foot oceanographic ship converted into a submarine snooper loaded with intelligence eyes and ears. At one point, it risked collision with both the Observation Island and the U.S. Destroyer Escort Calcaterra in a futile attempt to beat Americans to debris ejected from the submarine launch tube.

Dotson blew five warning blasts from the Observation Island's horn and put the ship's engines in reverse to avoid hitting the Russian ship amidships. At that point, the Soviet vessel was 150 yards away.

Later the Hariton Laptev ignored another warning signal and passed only 80 yards from the Observation Island. The crewmen, wearing blue shorts and open shirts, stood along its rails, looking, taking pictures and waving.

Towing Firm Hit With Suit

OAKLAND (UPI)—A $15 million civil suit was filed Monday against the firm which hauls autos from tow-away zones in Berkeley, charging it with overcharging 15,000 persons between 1966 and 1969.

The suit against Hustead's Towing was filed by Berkeley Neighborhood Legal Services in Alameda County Superior Court.

It accused Hustead's of charging people as much as $12.50 for tow-aways while the city council had authorized basic charges of only $2.50. A punitive fine of $1,000 was asked for each violation. The basic charge was raised by the council to $10 last January.

Meeting Canceled

A meeting of the board of the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council set for Aug. 12 has been canceled. The board's next regular meeting will at at 8 p.m. Sept. 9 at the county hall of justice.

O'Donnell Feels LBJ Wanted Pullout, Too

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House adviser Kenneth P. O'Donnell said today he felt President Lyndon B. Johnson was at least as determined as John F. Kennedy to pull U.S. forces out of Vietnam before deciding on a major buildup in 1965.

O'Donnell has written a book, to be published soon, on his years as a close adviser to President Kennedy, and later to Johnson, and a portion of it appears as an article in the current issue of Life magazine. O'Donnell said Kennedy intended to make a complete withdrawal of American forces in 1965.

O'Donnell said today Johnson may have been even more determined than Kennedy to withdraw, but said Kennedy died before having to face, as did Johnson, the decision whether to inject troops to aid beleaguered South Vietnamese forces or pull out the few thousand U.S. advisers then there.

In an interview on NBC-TV's Today Show, O'Donnell was asked if he felt Kennedy would have stuck by his withdrawal plans. He said he believed Kennedy would have done so.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said, when questioned after publication of O'Donnell's article, that Kennedy also told him in 1963, not long before his death, that he had decided to get out of Vietnam in 1965 — and Mansfield said, like O'Donnell, "I think Kennedy would have followed through."

In the article, O'Donnell also said Kennedy chose Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he felt he would be able to operate better with Mansfield succeeding Johnson as Senate Democratic leader.

O'Donnell said today that Kennedy picked Johnson also to soothe Speaker Sam Rayburn, a strong Johnson backer for the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention that year.

On Vietnam, O'Donnell said the advice given Kennedy by aging Gen. Douglas MacArthur — who O'Donnell said warned in 1961 against becoming involved in land combat in Asia — was "tremendous and that he had no doubt that Kennedy would order a pullout in 1965, assuming his re-election as President.

Critics Of Douglas See Probe A Farce

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional critics of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas have indicated they consider a House Judiciary Committee investigation of his conduct a farce.

But they made clear they are not giving up the battle to impeach the 71-year-old justice, whose liberal views, off-the-bench activities and marriages have made him a target of controversy.

The Judiciary Committee began investigating Douglas last April and is scheduled to submit a final report by Aug. 20.

In statements Monday, anti-Douglas congressmen called the committee inquiry "a whitewash" and "a travesty." They complained the committee has met only six times on the question, interviewed 12 persons, held no public hearings and questioned no one under oath.

The advent of organ transplants led 37 states to pass anatomical gift legislation in 1969.

NEW LOOK IN HYDROFOILS — A 38-foot prototype of a new hydrofoil design was on display yesterday in San Rafael, and its builders say larger vessels of its kind are the answer to the need for high-speed transportation on San Francisco Bay. The boat has a seaplane-like hull.
(King Harrington Jr. photo)

al hydrofoils cannot compete with the lower cost of displacement hull vessels on short runs, claimed that his design was so efficient that it would be more economical than displacement hulls even on short runs.

Construction of the first full-size hydrofoil would take 18 months, and production could reach one per month, Stach predicted. He said there was a potential market for 40 such vessels in the Virgin Islands, New York City, San Francisco Bay and Hawaiian Islands.

He said the estimated cost of $2.5 million was based on producing five hydrofoils.

Hydrodyne's vessel is maneuvered by flaps on the two rear foils. The full-size version would have a movable foil forward to increase maneuverability in tight quarters. The flaps also are used to bank and trim. There is no rudder.

The prototype was trucked to Garvie's boat yard on Saturday from its shipyard at Port Hueneme, Ventura County.

If the hydrofoil commute service is implemented on San Francisco Bay, it will follow the style of New York and Seattle which have been testing similar operations, but with limited success.

United States Hydrofoil, Inc., began one-craft service in New York three weeks ago for the eight-mile trip from 90th Street to Wall Street over the East River. The trip takes 15 minutes.

The craft seats 28 persons and has been operating at only 65 percent capacity on its six daily runs. One way fare is $3.75 and monthly commutation tickets cost $110.

Hovercraft service between Victoria, B.C., and Seattle was discontinued without explanation in November 1969 after six months of service.

Hovercraft service was attempted in the San Francisco Bay a few years ago but it came to a quick halt when it took an embarrassing dunk in the Bay with several newsmen aboard. The Hovercraft operates on a cushion of air.

Stach said the "water is our other freeway" in the Bay Area and that hydrofoil service is logical for quick transportation and also in the fight to keep auto transportation at a minimum.

cording to Usher, are the bay plan of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, Corte Madera's Westshore Master Plan, the San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee's ferry system study and the Golden Gate Transportation Corridor Study by Kaiser Engineers and Okamoto/Liskamm.

The initial phase of the Corte Madera plan also shows a bus ramp would feed the second story of the terminal while autos would serve the first thus providing a separation of the two.

Wings at either end of the ferry building would provide space for restaurant and convenience shops ancillary to terminal activities.

The bus maintenance and storage area, designed to avoid conflicts with parking area traffic movements, would accommodate 132 buses.

The main parking lot features a one-way peripheral drive, a passenger drop-off area, and two two-way aisles through the central portion of the lot.

The marina would provide berths for 220 boats. Fishing piers, accessible from smaller parking lots within 800 feet, would be located at the ends of the ferry basin on both sides.

The initial plan calls for retention of the Greenbrae Boardwalk and about 10 acres of marsh on which it is located. Another 40 acres of marsh would be preserved south of the terminal and plans call for a nature study center.

The two alternate final plans deal mainly with the introduction of rapid transit, but leave uncertain the future of the boardwalk as it now exists.

The first alternative, like the second, calls for rapid transit use of the existing Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way adjacent to the proposed complex. It differs however, in that it would locate a rapid transit terminal adjacent to the ferry building, whereas the second would keep the rapid transit terminal on the right-of-way. A moving sidewalk would carry passengers into the ferry building from the rapid transit terminal.

The planners perceive that economic pressure to upgrade the area would be considerable and that "it would be highly desirable to provide opportunities for a substantial number of people to live close to the terminal. Although it is possible that the boardwalk will remain and may be upgraded by replacement of existing dwellings with more substantial buildings . . . "

Alternate One suggests about 250 townhouses will eventually line the boardwalk, while Alternate Two shows the boardwalk as giving way to 200 townhouses overlooking three semi-private marinas.

"It should be remembered that this is a concept only," Usher said, stressing it is not a definite plan.

He added that the plan has been kept under wraps by the planners to preclude massive land speculation in the area prior to getting a quoted price from Heerdt to the bridge district.

He said yesterday Heerdt has made the offer, good for one month with a one year option attached, but refused to quote the price tag.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager for the bridge district also refused to quote the price the district has been offered. "That had best come from the other end (Heerdt)," he commented.

Heerdt could not be reached.

Luehring added however that it would be nearly impossible for the bridge district to respond to the offer within a month since any proposed site must still go before the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Committee for approval.

He said he felt that if the board is interested, following the Spaulding report, tomorrow it will probably take the option.

Luehring speculated development of the Corte Madera plan, which he has seen, would take about a year to 18 months to complete if and after the district directors approved it.

"The dredging of the channel (leading to the site) will take a year alone," he commented, saying that it could be accomplished while construction was in progress at the site.

Luehring also indicated that the Corte Madera study may not be the only plan to come before the district tomorrow.

According to Luehring, Larkspur City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst "has indicated he will try to have a presentation."

Crashes Hurt Three On Marin Roads

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two separate accidents on Marin County highways yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Duane M. Reid, 15, of 1331 Idylberry Road, Marinwood, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a fractured pelvis and multiple scrapes.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Jeremiah P. Taylor Jr., 17, of 27 Fowler Court, San Rafael, which left a curve on Lucas Valley Road two miles west of Mount McKinley Road and overturned at 5:15 p.m., officers said.

Taylor said he would see his own doctor for back scrapes. Another passenger, Pernell S. Johnson, 15, of 38 Oak Mountain Court, Marinwood, was treated for an arm fracture.

Pam Cesak, 23, of Glendale, was treated for a cut nose after a car driven by Walter A. Cesak, 30, collided with two other vehicles on Highway 101 at 3 p.m. The patrol identified the other drivers as Quentin C. Watson, 50, of Santa Rosa, and Virgilio C. Casaccia, 71, of San Francisco.

Car Burglarized

Tape deck equipment and a radio valued at $258 were reported stolen from the car of Carol E. Monroe of Hamilton Air Force Base while it awaited repairs at Doug Dickers Sports Car Center, 933-A Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, between 7 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. yesterday.

Chronicle Picketing Ruled Illegal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Federal appellate court has ruled that picketing of the San Francisco Chronicle by union members on strike against the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner is illegal and picketing of the San Francisco Examiner is "questionable."

The U. S. Court of Appeals modified an order by a federal judge dissolving a preliminary injunction against picketing of either paper or their joint production company, San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co.

All three were shut down in 1968 by members of unions striking the Los Angeles newspaper.

A National Labor Relations Board examiner in March, 1968 ruled that picketing of the Chronicle and printing company was unfair. Picketing of the Examiner was not, he said, because both the Examiner and the Herald-Examiner are divisions of the Hearst Corp.

Last April 6, Federal Judge Alfonso Zirpoli dissolved a court injunction because the full NLRB never ruled on the matter. The injunction had been in effect "an unreasonable length of time," Zirpoli said.

The appellate court said that no matter what the NLRB does or does not rule, picketing of the Chronicle and the printing company "appears to be a clear violation of the law." Picketing of the Examiner is merely "questionable," he said.

Council To Hear Arts Center Plea

The Sausalito Arts Center will appeal to the Sausalito City Council today at 8 p.m. in City Hall for permission to use amplified sound outdoors during the center's annual arts festival on Labor Day weekend.

An application to permit amplified sound on an adjacent Little League field from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on the weekend and during certain hours on other Sunday afternoons was denied by the city planning commission July 19.

The council will also discuss animal control, the Faustman traffic report and bicycle paths through the city and will consider repeal of the city's recently-initiated take-out-food tax.

Loss $24,000 In Novato Fire

The fire started in the dining room and gutted the kitchen, dining area, living room and part of the hallway and damaged redwood paneling on the outside of the house, Kidder said.

The home is owned by Dennis Weaver of Tahoe and was occupied by three persons identified as Leo Gallagher, Pat Halloran and Sharon Swenson, Kidder said.

The fire was reported at 1:41 a.m. and declared under control at 1:58 a.m.

Manson Judge Refuses Probe Of Nixon Story

ants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial."

Nixon had referred to reading about the Tate case during his stay in San Clemente as an example of how the news media covers sensational matters and "tend to florigy and to make heroes out of those who engage in criminal activities."

NIXON

cent at this stage of the trial."

Nixon had hoped to rally support for his anticrime measures Monday at a Denver meeting of state law enforcement officials. Instead he found himself embroiled in a legal controversy that threatened to disrupt one of the nation's most sensational murder trials.

Appearing before reporters at the beginning of the meeting, he chided the news media for its tendency to "glorify and to make heroes of those who engage in criminal activities," and added:

"I noted, for example, the coverage of the Charles Manson case when I was in Los Angeles. Front page every day in the papers. It usually got a couple of minutes in the evening news.

"Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reasons." He said despite this, there was a tendency to glorify Manson.

Manson's lawyers immediately sought a mistrial when the President's statement, and the country's legal fraternity reacted with surprise that Nixon, himself a lawyer, would say such a thing.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler called newsmen together a short time later and said the president had not intended to presume the guilt or innocence of Manson and had intended to use the word "alleged."

Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who was standing by the President when he made the statement, said he did not think the President "had made a charge or implied one."

Then, as Air Force One circled Andrews, the President issued another statement to the pool of newsmen on the plane. It said in part:

"My remarks were in the context of my expression of a tendency on the part of some to glamorize those identified with a crime.

"The last thing I would do is prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances."

Nixon stopped in Denver on the way home from a 10-day working vacation in California for a meeting with state planning directors of the law enforcement assistance administration, which coordinates federal-state anticrime measures.

He used the occasion to criticize Congress for its failure to act on 12 of the 13 crime fighting measures he proposed more than a year ago.

"Now if we don't get a better batting average than one out of 13, we are going to have to get some new batters at the plate," he said.

He said Congress should feel "a sense of urgency" to pass his measures, particularly the ones dealing with organized crime, narcotics and pornography.

Fitzgerald said that presidential comment on a criminal trial in a state court might well be unprecedented in the history of the United States.

The defense lawyer said jurors could look out the windows of the bus in which they are transported and see newspaper headlines. The first edition of the Los Angeles Times Tuesday morning carried the banner: "Manson guilty, Nixon declares."

Nixon also referred to "two lawyers who were . . . guilty of the most outrageous, contemptuous actions in the courtroom and who were ordered overnight to jail by the judge."

The President's reference was to Kanarek, the lawyer for Manson, and Ronald Hughes, who represents Susan Atkins.

Hughes, a bearded, roly poly man trying his first case in a courtroom, termed the President "contemptuous" for making such a reference to the trial "in violation of due process of law."

Kanerek entered the formal motion calling for a mistrial but declined to comment further on the matter.

The uproar over the President's remarks overshadowed the cross examination of the state's key witness, Linda Kasabian, who still was on the stand when the trial recessed Monday.

Under caustic cross examination, the 21-year-old blonde admitted she did not try to flee the Tate murder scene, that she never tried to tell police what happened and that she accompanied the "Manson family" on a second savage foray to the LaBianca home the next night.

Robbery Brings Prison Term

Oscar Moon Hill, 29, of Richmond, yesterday was sentenced to state prison for the armed robbery of the Short Stop Market at 141 Bellam Boulevard, San Rafael, in which Hill and a partner took $299 on April 11, 1969.

San Rafael police had arrested Hill and Larry D. Prude, 26, also of Richmond, moments later. Prude was sentenced to prison earlier.

Hill, on probation for a marijuana offense, was sentenced by Judge E. Warren McGuire after a 90-day observation period at Atascadero following his conviction in a nonjury trial.

Registration Plea Aired By Demos

Marin County Democrats have launched a drive to register 5,000 new party members.

Registration for the June 2 primary election was 41,989 Democrats and 45,287 Republicans.

Ross School Budget Set At $526,641

The Ross School District board last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $526,641, according to Supt. Thomas A. Anderson.

The total reflected an increase of $3,600 over the publication budget which will be used for the modifications of fire alarm systems as required by the office of the state fire marshall, he said.

In addition, he said, resolutions were adopted requesting the county superintendent of schools and the board of supervisors to consolidate the election of a trustee to succeed L.G. Maclise with the general election on Nov. 3.

Four out-of-district children were granted permission to attend school next year in the Ross district and biographical information was heard on the new district speech therapist and psychologist Glenn T. Hill and Rick Sheziokov.

Suspended Term On LSD Charge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Robert McKinstry, 19, of Mill Valley, arrested last October in Sausalito on a federal charge of possessing LSD for sale, has received a suspended sentence and been placed on two years' probation in U.S. District Court.

McKinstry and a companion, Daniel Marcus, 22, of New York, were arrested after they sold thousands of LSD tablets to federal narcotics agents at the Seven Seas Restaurant.

Equipment Is Stolen From Lawyer's Office

Office equipment worth $565 was taken from the office of attorney Lee V. Holman in the Del Prado building at 880 Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda, between 2 p.m. Friday and 9:40 a.m. yesterday.

Sausalito Fire Hits School Service Shop

A fire which began in a debris box gutted a small service shop at the old Bayside School last night, causing about $4,000 damage, Sausalito firemen reported.

The fire department said the blaze began about 6:41 p.m. in the 70-by-20-foot shed, located north of the old school auditorium. One band saw was destroyed by the flames, but most of the remaining equipment in the shop, still being used by the Sausalito School District, was saved, according to firemen. Cause of the blaze is under investigation.

Windows Smashed

Six windows worth $200 were smashed at General Tire Service, 160 Bellum Boulevard, San Rafael, between 6:30 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. yesterday. Police said a B-B gun was used.

the guilty man receives a fair trial and gets the best possible defense — that system must be preserved.

"And unless we stand up for the system, unless we see that order in the courtroom is respected, unless we quit glorifying those who deliberately disrupt, and unless we begin to recognize that when a judge necessarily, after intense provocation, must hold individuals in contempt of court that judge is justified, that he is acting in our behalf, then the system will break down. The innocent will suffer, but more important or just as important, I should say, the guilty will suffer as well because in a society without law the guilty then have no trials."

"I've been informed that my comment in Denver regarding the Tate murder trial in Los Angeles may continue to be misunderstood despite the unequivocal statement made at the time by my press secretary.

"My remarks were in the context of my expression of a tendency on the part of some to glamorize those identified with a crime.

"The last thing I would do is prejudice the legal rights of any person in any circumstances.

"To set the record straight, I do not know and did not intend to speculate as to whether the Tate defendants are guilty, in fact, or not. All of the facts in the case have not yet been presented. The defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of the trial.

"To repeat what I said at the IEAA conference in Denver, our American system of justice requires the constant support of every citizen to insure a fair trial for the guilty and innocent alike."

Vatican Offers Help In Release Of Two Hostages

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — The Vatican has offered its help in efforts to gain the release of an American and a Brazilian kidnaped by antigovernment Tupamaros terrorists. The government seized four more suspected Tupamaros and a cache of weapons.

Papal Nuncio Msgr. Auvustin Sepinski issued a statement Monday night saying, "if in any way in any circumstance and at any time I can be of help, I am here." Sepinsky said he was speaking in the name of Pope Paul VI.

The terrorists Friday seized Dan Mitrione, 50, of Richmond, Ind., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41. Two U.S. diplomats, attache Nathan Rosenfeld, 48, of Herkimer, N.Y., and second secretary Gordon Jones of San Luis Obispo, Calif., foiled kidnap attempts the same day.

OBITUARIES

Christina Leach, 84, Succumbs

Christina Leach, 84, a Petaluma resident since 1900, died yesterday at a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness.

A native of Yankee Jims, a mining camp in Placer County, Mrs. Leach moved to Petaluma with her family at the age of 14. In 1915 she married the late John Leach, who was chief engineer on the paddle wheel steamer Gold on the Petaluma River until his retirement in 1949.

Mrs. Leach had lived at 911 Western Avenue until six months ago when she moved to Santa Rosa. She was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma, and the SPRSI, Portugese society.

She is survived by a daughter, Frances Realy of Santa Rosa; two sisters, Anna Peterson of Concord and Margaret Marall of Santa Rosa; a brother, Albert Marall of San Rafael; and two granddaughters.

Requiem mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent de Paul Church. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

HENRY D. HART

Henry Dixon Hart, 49, died in his sleep today at the Cedars Development Foundation home in Ross, where he had lived nearly 30 years.

The Marin County coroner's office said Hart, who had a history of chronic epilepsy, died apparently of natural causes.

Hart was born in Portland, Ore.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Raymond G. Handley, and a brother, Phillip Hart of New York.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

MARIE DALGAARD

Funeral for Marie C. Dalgaard will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Dalgaard, 87, died Sunday in a San Rafael convalescent hospital where she had lived since 1964.

Born in Sjaltrinz, Denmark, she moved to San Francisco in 1908.

From 1915 to 1955 she was active in a dairy operated by her family in Winters.

She moved to North Sacramento in 1955 from where she moved to Marin in 1964.

Mrs. Dalgaard is survived by a son, Norman Dalgaard of Dixon; a daughter, Ruth Pedrick of Fair Oaks; a brother, Martin Nielsen of Raame, Denmark; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Inurnment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

ROBERT NEDERMAN

Robert B. Nederman, brother of former San Rafael and Greenbrae resident Paul I. Nederman, died today in a Los Gatos hospital after a long illness. He was 72.

Nederman was vice president of Brown and Bigelow of St. Paul, Minn., when he retired in 1955.

Born in St. Paul, he lived there until he was transferred to New York City in 1944. He retired to Tucson, Ariz., then moved to San Jose in 1967.

After serving as an Army artillery lieutenant in 1919, he attended the University of Minnesota taking a degree in marketing in 1923.

His brother Paul, now of San Mateo, lived in Marin from 1948 to 1959 and was president of CVA Co., Roma Wineries, Inc. and Cresta Blanca Wineries Inc.

Also surviving are a son Robert A. Nederman of Overland Park, Kan. and two grandchildren.

Interment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

ANTONIA LETINICH

Antonia M. Letinich, 72, of Petaluma, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Yugoslavia, she was educated there and came to the United States in 1929 settling in New Orleans, La. Mrs. Letinich had lived in Petaluma since 1949.

She was the wife of Bortolo Letinich, who died Thursday.

She is survived by a son, John Letinich of Petaluma; a daughter, Mary Serpas of New Orleans, La.; a sister, Maria Svorinich of Argentina; and four grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be offered at 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent De Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

Recitation of the rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Contributions may be made to the Shriner's Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

Residents Only, Library Decides

The San Anselmo Library Board last night decided that only residents of San Anselmo and Larkspur should benefit from a joint agreement between the libraries of the two municipalities.

Head librarian Lucy Palo said this was the only change in the agreement referred back by the city council at its July 28 meeting to iron out some difficulties.

Residents of other areas belonging to the two libraries will not be allowed to use the exchange program, she said.

Mrs. Palo said the board foresaw no difficulties in an informal agreement with the county which allows Corte Madera residents to use the Larkspur library in exchange for rights to use the county library. The council had seen this as a possible problem area.

Complaint Dropped In Shell Oil Games Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has dropped a proposed complaint against three promotional games — "Mr. President," "States of the Union" and "Men in Space" — offered by Shell Oil Co. last year.

The commission said the alleged violation, involving the mixture of winning and nonwinning game pieces, occurred before a rule governing the matter came into effect last Oct. 17. It also said it had accepted the firm's promise to follow the rules in future games of chance.

Stanford Grad Guilty In Anti-ROTC Ruckus

STANFORD (UPI)—A former Stanford University graduate student in communication is to be sentenced Aug. 18 for malicious mischief in connection with campus anti-ROTC demonstrations.

A jury convicted Diarmuid R. McGuire, 28, and then Judge William Ingram in Municipal Court set the date for sentencing.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

When Trials Go To Scene

Sometimes in a jury trial, the 12 jurors, lawyers, the judge, bailiffs, and the like have to go to the scene. The judge will then ask someone who can show the property in the presence of the court, and who, with the judge's permission, can comment on what is there.

The judge decides whether to view the property. Nearly always a first-hand view of the scene is better than maps, photos, or the like. But a judge has to weigh costs against the convenience and other benefits of a visit.

No juror should go to the scene alone, in effect, to "receive evidence." If he does, the court may have to declare a mistrial, causing inconvenience to all parties and cost to tax payers.

As a rule, juries do not hear testimony on such excursions. But if the conditions are right, the jurors may do so and the court may allow the opposing attorney to cross-examine. The court will apply the rules of evidence just as if the case were heard in a regular courtroom.

Sometimes such a view of the scene may decide the case. Did the railroad keep adequate warning signals at the crossing? Is the property a nuisance? Did the neighbor's wall prevent drainage of surface waters? Seeing is believing.

Sometimes the prosecution needs the testimony of a witness who is in a hospital or confined to his home. The court may convene at the hospital or home to hear the witness.

Of course, the defendant can also cross-examine. Again the whole court goes along. In one paternity case the court went to the hospital to compare the physical features of a child and its alleged father.

Sometimes the court will do certain experiments at the scene so as to answer key questions: Could anyone hear a woman's scream there? How fast would a loaded car roll down a particular street? How much can a person in a moving car 100 feet away see from the intersection?

ON A CLEAR DAY ...

Fully absorbed by a sunny Marin day — "stoned on light," was the way he described it — Kurt Allan Schmel, 22, gets a light from San Rafael patrolman Joseph Leonard at a city fire station at Third and Union streets after a fire alarm box failed him yesterday. Schmel said he was hitchhiking on Third Street when he observed the box in front of the station. He said he needed a light for his cigarette and the box clearly said, "Pull for Fire." So he did. Schmel, of Gig Harbor, Wash., said he was in Marin to organize a rock concert on Mount Rainier. Schmel was taken to the Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital.

Mill Valley Board Approves Budget

The Mill Valley School District Board last night adopted a $3,263,000 budget for 1970-71, some $201,000 less then originally recommended by Supt. James A. Collins.

The reduced spending program reflects the loss of about $100,000 in state funds, Collins said: $70,000 when the state classified the district as a basic aid district rather than an equalization district, and $30,000 for its reading specialist program.

As a result, the $115,000 reading program, which concentrates on children with reading problems, had to be eliminated from the budget, Collins said.

"This was a very productive program and the board was extremely reluctant to take it out," Collins said. There is a chance, however, that the district will receive partial state funding and be able to hire four teachers for the program instead of seven, Collins said.

Other cuts, which the board upheld in adopting the budget, include: school library clerks program, $18,000; student exchange with the Sausalito School District, $15,000; one guidance counselor, $10,000; reassignment of music and foreign language teachers, $20,000: educational contracts, $10,000; and transportation, $9,000.

The spending program is expected to maintain the tax rate at this year's level of $3.10 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Collins.

No provision is made for salary increases, Collins said, although a $200,700 reserve fund was established to be used for that purpose when the board reopens salary negotiations with teachers in September.

The board in June adopted a goal of providing a 5.6 per cent cost-of-living raise, and Collins said it still hopes to grant such raises. Their cost would come to about $130,000, he said.

The Mill Valley School District Also:

BOND ISSUE — Heard a report that the Sept. 15 election to raise the interest rate on $760,000 in bonds from 5 to 7 per cent must be passed by a two-thirds vote, despite a recent California Supreme Court ruling that a simple majority is sufficient.

GRANT — Applied for a $19,000 federal grant to hire additional teachers at Park and Tamalpais Valley schools under the Title 1 compensatory education program.

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Heard a report that bids will be accepted Aug. 14 and opened Sept. 11 for construction of the middle school.

PLAYFIELD — Deferred action on a request by several Tamalpais Valley organizations to allow them to build a little league field on the playground at Tamalpais Valley School.

POLICY — Adopted a policy that any district which sends to Mill Valley more students than Mill Valley sends to that district must pay the actual cost of educating the child.

TRANSFERS — Approved eight renewals of interdistrict transfers but denied 17 new applications. The board instructed Collins to help the parents appeal the refusal to the Marin County Schools Office in hopes that the office will help Mill Valley cope with the influx of students from the Sausalito School District.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Robert Kreischer, an intern from Dominican College, as a math-science teacher at Edna Maguire School for $6,000 a year.

CLOSED SESSION — Met in closed session and then announced its intention to offer Collins a new four-year contract at $24,000 a year, compared to his 1969-70 salary of $21,000. The board will hold a special meeting Friday at 6 p.m. at the district office to discuss the contract.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

9:28 a.m., Novato — Fire in engine compartment of automobile owned by Sidney Pylant of Richmond, Ga., one-half mile north of Grant Street on Highway 101 extinguished by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crew before arrival of fire department. Fire caused by faulty fuel line; no estimate of damage.

10:34 a.m., Forest Knolls — Smoke report on Arroyo Road turned out to be fireplace chimney. Marin County Fire Department responded.

11:14 a.m., Larkspur — Small grass fire behind Greenbrae School, 74 Eliseo Drive, was out on arrival of fire department. No damage.

11:37 a.m. Kentfield — Small grass fire near Hillside Avenue parking lot of College of Marin. No damage and cause unknown.

12:02 p.m., Greenbrae — Washing machine fire caused by electrical short at residence of Michael A. Muth, 10 Corte Comoda; no damage. Kentfield Fire Department responded.

6:41 p.m., Sausalito — Fire in school service shop behind old Bayside School auditorium on Nevada Street caused approximately $4,000 damage; cause under investigation.

7:36 p.m., Larkspur — Garage fire at residence of Norman D. Beal, 47 Madrone Avenue did minor damage; cause unknown.

8:30 p.m., Richardson Bay — Unfounded report of smoke on dry docks, Marin County Fire Department responded.

8:35 p.m., San Anselmo — Grass fire burned about 2 acres on fire trail above Dutch Valley Lane, Sleepy Hollow; no damage and cause under investigation.

9:52 p.m., Larkspur — Oil heater started fire in trailer of Barbara Lane at the Marin Trailer Court and did minor damage to trailer.

10:10 p.m., Novato — Grass fire in creek bed behind Safeway store at 448 Ignacio Boulevard burned 10 by 50 foot area; no damage. Fire probably caused by children playing with matches.

TODAY:

1:41 a.m., Novato — House fire at 1253 Yukon Way did approximately $20,000 to house and $4,000 damage to contents of house; cause undetermined.

Novato School Board Restores Budget Cut

The Novato Unified School District Board last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $10 million, restoring to the operating budget $132,241 for services cut before the tax rate increase election defeated July 28.

Restored to the budget were $6,000 for athletics, $11,113 for elementary library services, $26,653 for counselors, $12,000 for books, $18,000 for classroom supplies, $13,344 for building upkeep, $3,500 for public information services, and $3,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

The transportation budget was brought to a total of $85,963 by addition of $38,631 to provide what Supt. James G. Bunker called a minimal transportation system. The budget includes $11,000 for athletic and field trips.

Home-to-school transportation is expected to be provided all high school and junior high school students living east of Highway 101, high school students living more than 3.5 miles from school, junior high students living more than 2.5 miles and elementary students living more than 1.5 miles from school.

The Novato Unified School District Board Also:

LUNCHES — Authorized ARA Slater School and College Services of San Francisco to prepare a contract to operate the food services program. The contract is to be reviewed by county counsel and considered by the board. Under the contemplated agreement, Slater would pay the same employees now engaged in the school lunch program but the district would continue to provide fringe benefits. Lunches would cost 45 cents and would be primarily cold.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Gloria Ford of San Ramon School, Patricia Graham of Novato High School and John McBeath and Donald Singerman of Pacheco School.

HIRED — Hired nine new teachers: Linda Baxter for San Jose Junior High School at $8,108 a year, Ronald Butori for San Marin High School at $9,790, Pamela Carson for San Ramon School at $8,897, Gary Fisher for Novato High at $8,108, Marcia Munson for Novato High at $7,111, Larry Ridgel for Hamilton School at $9,393, Lawrence Siegel for San Marin at $8,108, Rudolph Tassano for San Jose Junior High School at $8,719 and Richard Whitney for San Marin at $7,607.

SECRETARY — Appointed Margaret Crowley school secretary of West Novato School.

Marin Sailor Wins Bid From Active Duty

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—A young California sailor who said he became a conscientious objector after reading the Bible, Thoreau, Newsweek, Playboy, Popular Photography and several underground newspapers won his bid yesterday for release from active duty.

The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered the Navy to discharge James Lehman III, 20, of San Rafael, "as soon as possible" because his objection to war on "a personal moral code" had been upheld by the Supreme Court as sufficient to claim conscientious objector status.

The Navy refused to reclassify Lehman, it said, because his beliefs were not based on religion and he was opposed only to the Vietnam war rather than to war in general.

Guard Sentenced In Manslaughter

San Quentin prison guard Denton Stanley Dixon, 45, of Bodega Bay, yesterday was placed on one year's supervised probation on a manslaughter charge, and the offense was declared a misdemeanor.

Dixon had pleaded guilty to the charge, arising from the death of another San Quentin guard, Hector Cantu, 27, of San Francisco, on March 16, after the two men had been celebrating Dixon's birthday.

Dixon was driving a car which struck Cantu, standing beside his own car in a San Rafael street.

Council Forms Plan In Police Pay Fight

Faced with a Friday strike threat by police, the Petaluma City Council huddled for 90 minutes in closed session last night with City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer in hopes of settling the wage dispute.

Mayor Helen Putnam said Meyer presented the council with the latest police proposal and that the council, in turn, offered direction for further negotiations.

Meyer and James F. [illegible], attorney for the Petaluma Police Officers Association, met for negotiations this morning. Meyer said the city proposal would be presented to the police by Kemp, with a response to be received by tomorrow.

"We're still operating on a positive basis," Meyer said, noting he would meet as often as necessary to get the matter settled.

Mayor Putnam said she had on plans to call a special council meeting later this week.

Meyer felt that if little progress had been made as the Friday strike deadline approached, a special council meeting with Kemp and police representatives might be necessary.

Kemp told members of the police department that if accord isn't reached, he would seek a meeting Thursday night in an attempt to avert a walkout.

The Friday 8 p.m. strike was called last week by Dolph Camilli, president of the police association. He said that if wage increase demands were not met by then, all 14 patrolmen would walk off the job.

Camilli said that sergeants, lieutenants, the captain and chief would remain on duty to protect the city.

Also observing the strike would be the dispatchers, parking meter enforcement officers, animal control officers and reserve police officers.

In the negotiations, police representatives have maintained that they are underpaid in comparison with salaries of officers in nearby cities they are reportedly seeking a 17 per cent increase.

Current monthly salaries for patrolmen are $644 to $782 and for sergeants, $727 to $883.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

REZONING — Introduced an ordinance to rezone 48 acres between South McDowell Boulevard and Lakeville Highway from agricultural to single family residential, multifamily residential and highway commercial.

SHOPPING CENTER — Introduced an ordinance rezoning 10 acres adjacent to the Petaluma Plaza Shopping Center from single family residential to community commercial.

INSURANCE — Appointed councilmen Robert A. Brunner, Fred V. Mattei and John W. Cavanagh Jr. to a committee to study public liability insurance coverage.

STREETS — Adjourned to Monday at 7:30 p.m. to study the street resurfacing program for 1970-71 and to review mud slide insurance.

Forum On Draft Set Tomorrow

An open forum on "The Pre-Draft Dilemma" will be held at the College of Marin at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 2 under the sponsorship of the Community Mental Health Center.

The forum is part of the Wednesday lecture-discussion series, and is being moved to the College of Marin because of the need of additional space.

Held under the direction of Michael Adams and Roger Moore, both on the staff of the center, the forum will focus on personal conflicts surrounding the draft, and will provide an opportunity for draft-age young men to meet with mental health workers and discuss these conflicts.

Police Recover Car Stolen Last Night

A car belonging to Richard G. Munson of 43 Manor View, Fairfax, was reported stolen from A Street south of Fourth Street in San Rafael at 11:45 p.m. yesterday.

However, San Anselmo police recovered the vehicle at 2:20 a.m. today at 125 Floribel Avenue.

Cronkite Airs It As It Is: Hair Is Real

NEW YORK (UPI) — The hair on Walter Cronkite's head is the real thing and he wants the world to know it.

"The following is broadcast at the request of our hard-working secretaries in the hope of stemming a tidal wave of telephone calls and letters," the CBS newscaster said Monday night as he bang the final story on his show.

"It seems, strangely, that there is some concern that the windblown, sun-bleached look with which a television newsman returned from his vacation has set loose a spate of speculation that he now is sporting a wig.

"This really wouldn't matter to the correspondent himself except for the suggestion by some letterwriters that a man who hid his baldness under a rug couldn't be trusted to tell the news as it is.

"That hurts.

"Well, the secretaries asked us to assure the writers that that is the correspondent's real hair.

Doubters are invited to ask themselves, 'What nut would wear a hair piece that looked like that.'

To Consider Budget

An operating budget for 1970-71 will be considered by directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Richard White residence on Seascape Drive, Muir Beach, according to secretary Hazel M. Melo.

Hub Planners Ask Probe Of Building

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night asked the city council to investigate why a residence has not been built at 1506 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in accordance with plans approved by the building inspection department.

Secretary Catherine Mullins said Mrs. Bodil B. Peterson's plans to build on the lot were approved May 27, but no building has ensued.

The commission also directed the staff to prepare a report on the procedure and cost of obtaining federal flood and mud slide insurance following a report on the subject by Jan L. Warnshuis of the state Department of Water Resources, she said.

Police Talk Man Out Of Jumping

An unidentified man climbed under the deck of the Golden Gate Bridge today an held off California Highway Patrol officers for three hours with a .22-caliber revolver.

The man threatened to jump but the officers finally persuaded him to climb off girders under the bridge's north tower.

The highway patrol said the man, upon returning to the bridge deck, was embraced by his wife and sister.

The patrol said the man drove up to the bridge toll plaza about 7 a.m., let his wife out of the car, and told her he was going to jump.

At 9:30 a.m., he was reported standing under the deck while officers tried to persuade him not to jump. No shots were reported fired.

Novatan Sentenced For Pot Conviction

Russell Raymond Radcliffe, 24, of Novato, yesterday was placed on one year's summary probation, ordered to pay a $200 fine in installments, and sentenced to three weekends in Marin County Jail, on a marijuana possession conviction.

Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense a misdemeanor. Radcliffe was arrested May 11 in Novato, when police stopped him for a traffic violation and spotted marijuana in his car.

Suspect Detained On Drug Charge

A 20-year-old arrested today in Novato for traffic warrants was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing illegal drugs after he attempted when searched to conceal a paper packet containing 13 pink pills, police reported.

James Patrick Larkin, of no known address, was stopped originally because his rear license plate showed no registration sticker. The proper registration of the car was confirmed but a routine check turned up the traffic warrants.

Larkin was held to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

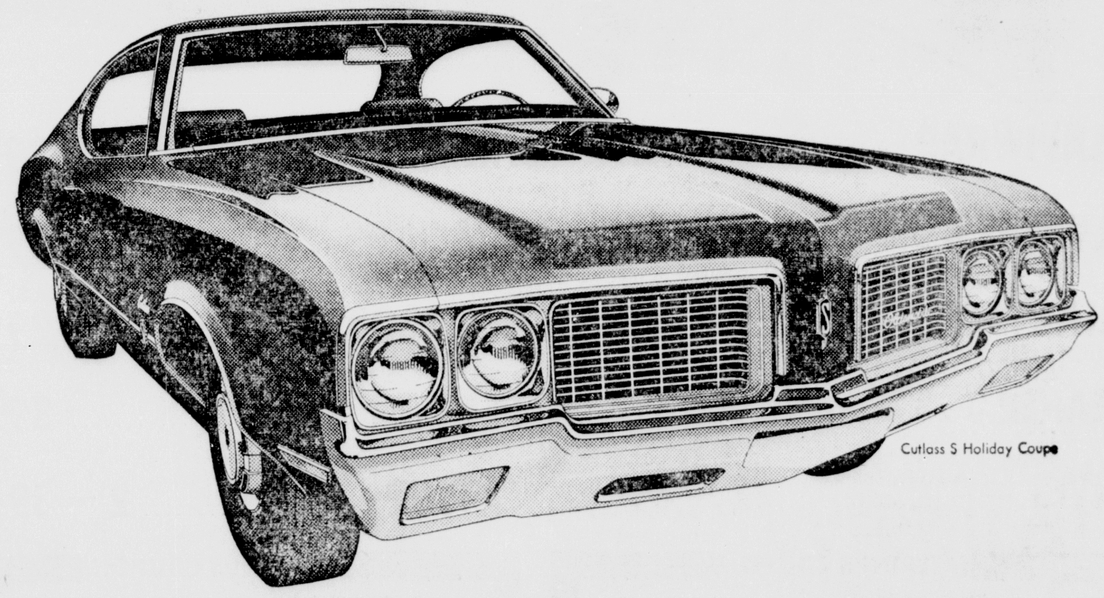
GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE
Today's Oldsmobile:
The year-end buy that pays off three ways.



Cutlass S Holiday Coupe

1. You save big money when you buy it. The 4th Annual Year-End Sale is on now at your Oldsmobile dealer's—and the savings are substantial on every new Olds in his stock!
2. You save even more money as you drive it. Olds is famous for features that help keep costs down. Like Positive Valve Rotators in every V-8 for peak performance thousands of miles longer . . . rustproof inner fenders . . . aluminized exhaust system . . . bias-belted tires . . . many more!
3. You get a nice bonus at trade-in time. An Olds is a good investment—traditionally you get more of your dollars back when you're ready to trade the next time around.

If you think you can't afford an Oldsmobile ...it's time to think again.

Fairfax Councilmen Beat Motion To Cut Off Their Own Salaries

By C. P. Mc CARTHY

The Fairfax City Council, seeking to cut approximately $21,000 out of a proposed $556,171 budget in order to hold the tax rate at $1.74 per $100 assessed valuation, last night voted against dropping councilmen's $150-a-month salaries.

The budget session, the sixth on the 1970-71 budget, saw the council take its first action on the proposed budget as it deleted items totaling $6,950.

The council last week decided to let the voters decide in November whether councilmen's salaries should be cut to $25 a meeting with a maximum of $75 a month.

It will cost the city $500 to place the question on the ballot. Last night, in an effort to save the $500, Mayor Frank J. Egger moved that $9,000 for council salary be deleted entirely.

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell seconded the motion for discussion and said he would vote against it.

"The $9,000 looks like the easiest cut in the world," he said, "but what are you going to cut next year?" He said he would remain on the council if the salary was dropped, but "my conscience doesn't bother me taking $150 a month."

The question of council pay is nothing but a political football, O'Connell said, to which Egger replied that he thought the motion last week to put it on the ballot was a political football.

Councilman Lee Nelder, who made he ballot motion last week, tore into Egger, accusing him of making "nothing but a grandstand move."

From the audience, Roberta Laidley of 34 Meadow Way, asked the councilmen why they would want to rescind last week's motion by approving Egger's motion. She said she throught the $25 a meeting fee was "reasonable and fair," so why were they bringing it up all over again.

"Tonight you're just putting each of the councilmen on the spot and not giving the people a say," Mrs. Laidley said.

Egger replied that the proposed election doesn't really give the people a say about whether councilmen should be paid. It will only let the people decide how much they are paid, he said.

A vote was called for and Egger's proposal was killed with his the lone vote in favor of it.

Last night's meeting began with a discussion of salaries and City Administrator Frances R. Lestanguet's recommendation of a 5 per cent increase for all full-time employees.

Egger proposed that city department heads be given a 2.5 per cent increase now and another 2.5 per cent in January, and all other employees be given 5 per cent now and an additional 2.5 per cent in Jauary.

Egger, attempting to justify his salary proposal, went through the proposed budget and detailed $14,140 in suggested cuts, $391 in additional expenditures and $7,600 in additional revenue.

Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet moved adoption of Egger's proposal, but withdrew the motion after objections to some of the cuts from Mrs. Lestanguet and Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton.

As the hour grew late, the council began making its first decisions on the budget, cutting out the entire $5,000 slated for a contingency fund; deleting $150 proposed for a telephone credit card for Souza and cutting telephone allocations for all departments 10 per cent of 1969-70 actual expenditures, with an estimated saving of $550, and cutting to $1,250 a proposed allocation of $2,500 for creek cleanup.

The council then adjourned to its seventh budget session at 8 p.m. today.

British Vocalist Collapses Again

LONDON (UPI) — Marianne Faithfull, the actress and singer, collapsed Monday night at Heathrow airport after arriving from Ireland and was hospitalized.

A spokesman at Hillingdon Hospital near the airport said Miss Faithfull, 23, "is quite comfortable but we are not prepared to discuss details of her illness."

Last year Miss Faithfull collapsed in Sydney, Australia, where she was to star in a film about Australian outlaw Ned Kelly. She had to give up the part.

Sonoma Board Blocks Move To Quit ABAG

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday rebuffed another attempt by Supervisor Robert Theiller to withdraw the county from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Theiller said he had no objection to ABAG "as now constituted," but said he was afraid it would lead to a regional form of government with broad powers.

He noted that fellow Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella, ABAG president, and the organization were fighting against governmental status, but said he doubted if they would succeed.

Theiller said the county should consider withdrawal and a new alignment, perhaps with counties to the north that would be more compatible with Sonoma County.

Theiller said he considered the decision so important that it should be included on the Nov. 3 general election for the voters to decide. He moved a resolution to the effect, but it died for lack of a second.

Vella countered that Theiller had not answered the necessary questions about an alternative to ABAG membership that he had put to him last week.

He said the supervisors should first get opinions from the cities ABAG members and also consult with the federal and state governments to determine if another association of governments would be recognized to process financial assistance grants as does ABAG.

Since Theiller is planning a vacation next week, Vella said he would seek the answers and have them prepared for Theiller's return in September.

Supervisor Arthur Ruonavaara, angered that Theiller's presentation wasn't in writing, left the meeting saying, "I don't want to sit here and listen to your arguments."

Theiller said he was merely living up to his 1968 campaign promise to fight against ABAG and said he would assist any group that wanted to place the matter on the November ballot by initiative.

U.S. Air Aid Helps Ease Cambodian War

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Pressure from the latest Communist push north of Phnom Penh eased today with reports Cambodian troops had driven the guerrillas from Kompong Thom and U.S. planes had joined the battle for the town of Skoun.

Allied planes pounded an estimated 1,500 guerrilla troops as they withdrew from Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh after a five-day battle. Cambodian losses in the fighting were put 32 killed and 74 wounded, among the heaviest yet reported.

Spokesmen said the Communist lost at least 111 killed, with an undetermined number of dead and wounded carried off the battlefield.

Heavy fighting continuer at the district town and road junction of Skoun, 35 miles north of Phnom Penh. Cambodian spokesmen said government troops were battling Communist forces in the town's market place.

Cambodian commanders sent another battalion to reinforce the garrison at Skoun, a town of 3,000. Staff officers at a command post directing the battle for Skoun said U.S. F4 Phantom jets had flown direct support strikes for the Cambodian troops.

Spokesmen at American headquarters said North Vietnamese antiaircraft guns opened up on a U.S. Air Force RF4 Phantom photo plane as it swept over the Communist nation's southern panhandle. The unarmed jet and two armed escort fighter-bombers fled the guns five miles west of Dong Hoi without any damage.

Fighting involving U.S. troops in Vietnam was light and scattered although five Americans were killed and 25 wounded in small ground clashes and booby trap explosions. Two other Americans were wounded in 15 overnight shelling attacks. The fighting at Kompong Thom had been in progress for weeks and the city of 10,000 persons was encircled and under attack for three days before the Communist withdrawal.

The Cambodian casualty figures were among the heaviest officially confirmed since Cambodian troops began fighting the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese following the March 18 ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Fighting continued at the district capital of Skoun, 35 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. The battle in the streets and buildings of the town of 3,000 persons began Friday. Skoun is a key road junction linking Phnom Penh with the capitals of Kompong Chan and Kompong Thom provinces.

Field reports said U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets are flying is support of the Cambodian troops at Skoun and took part in strikes designed to open Highway 4, linking Phnom Penh and the nation's only deepwater port.

The fighting in Skoun centered in the marketplace. A spokesman said 13 Cambodians had been killed and 63 wounded — casualties representing nearly a third of the number of original defenders. Communits losses were unknown.

Battle reports said half the troops stationed at Skoun had to withdraw late Sunday when they ran out of food and ammunition.

Gahal Party Quits Over Mideast Plan

By U.P. International

Israel's militant Gahal party formally resigned today in protest over Premier Golda Meir's acceptance of the U.S. plan for Middle East peace. Israeli warplanes tightened military pressures on the Arab world with the 76th consecutive day of air raids along the Suez Canal.

Even as the Gahal party turned in its formal resignation to Mrs. Meir, her cabinet took another step toward implementing the American blueprint for peace. It approved the draft of an affirmative, official reply to Washington.

The move in Jerusalem gave Israel a more flexible peace stance and added impetus to efforts at U.N. headquarters in New York to work out the mechanics of a Suez Canal cease fire. The U.S. plan envisages peace talks under the auspices of U.N. diplomat Gunnar V. Jarring.

The premier of Libya, Col. Moammer Al Khadafy, pressed on with his unity mission in the Arab world. He returned to Cairo today for more talks with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser after visiting Iraqi leaders in Baghdad and Syrian chiefs in Damascus in a move to get their approval of Nasser's acceptance of the U.S. plan.

It was expected that Arab defense and foreign ministers would proceed with a meeting in Tripoli, Libya, which had been postponed because of the political rift between Egypt and Iraq.

A communique from Tel Aviv said Israeli jet fighter-bombers swept across the Suez Canal today and raided Egyptian "military objectives." A spokesman said all planes returned safely.

A Cairo report said 34 Israeli planes took part, and that Egyptian air defenses "prevented them from reaching their targets."

The formal Gahal resignation was turned in at the Israeli cabinet meeting in Jerusalem today by the party leader, Menahem Begin. It becomes effective Thursday.

French Financial Outlook Improves

PARIS (UPI) — France almost tripled Monday the amount of currency French travelers may take abroad.

The Finance Ministry announced at the same time that the country's improving financial situation will permit it to repay in September $200 million to the International Monetary Fund. The payment will be the first installment on $246.2 million France withdrew from the fund during the 1968-69 economic crisis.

The ministry said that French citizens now will be allowed to take the equivalent of $90 with them when going abroad. They previously were restricted to a maximum of $36. The change comes in time for the vacation rush.

Issue Of Cascade Reservoir Opening, Closing Aired Again

The issue of Cascade Reservoir bubbled to the surface at last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting, with citizens both urging the council to reopen the reservoir area and to keep it closed.

Although not on the agenda, discussion of the fate of the reservoir, closed July 20 by the council, consumed half an hour.

Ruth Scott, of 340 Vista Linda Drive, told the council that "I cannot believe that any of you can think of destroying Cascade Reservoir. I'm afraid that I'll wake up one morning and find that the lake was drained between midnight and 6 a.m.," she said.

She told Mayor George E. Wickham that certain rules should be established to permit continued use of the reservoir, and suggested two:

"First ban all fires, and then install a gate, maybe at the bottom of the canyon, with a sign saying, 'no vehicles except residents and guests, but hikers welcome.'"

She pleaded with the council for "more time. Every proposal has not been considered."

Wickham replied that "it's not the intent of the council to drain the lake. We want to maintain it as a passive recreation area if at all possible."

But he warned that "the dam itself is not safe. To make it safe we'd have to start from scratch and build a new one."

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala confirmed that the dam is unsound. "I don't believe it would pass engineering tests, and that was a factor in the water district's giving it up," he said, in reference to the 1960 annexation of the lake and surrounding area by the city from the Marin Municipal Water District.

He said that the dam in past years was enlarged without improving the foundation, and that it is in danger of collapsing in an earthquake.

Supporting closure, Wayne R. Speckmann, of 766 Lovell Avenue, told the council that "you passed the ordinance and now you should enforce it. The cost of making that area into a park is prohibitive."

He warned of poetntial loss of human life in a fire."If we had a fire in the canyon, many people would lose their lives as well as their property. The whole matter," he said "should be dismissed and not brought up again."

William C. Wilber, who said he represented a group called the Save Cascade Committee, formed at a meeting of residents Sunday, asked the council for two assurances: the cooperation of the city in seeking an alternative to closing the reservoir and the postponement of any irreversible action such as demolishing the dam.

"Give us time," he asked. "We plan to call on professional assistance from those who want to save the reservoir for themselves, their children and the next generation."

Wickham said that any information possessed by the city is available to the public, but stopped short of pledging the council's assistance.

He did, however, promise that any irreversible action would be publicly discussed by the council before a decision is made.

Free Pickup Of Rubbish Is Scheduled

Free pickup of rubbish placed at curbside will be conducted in Mill Valley next week, the city council was told last night.

The contents of up to 21 30-gallon garbage containers placed in a neat pile at curbside will be collected on the regular garbage pickup day, City Mgr. William H. Cunningham announced.

No refrigerators, stoves or other appliances will be picked up, Cunningham said. The service will be performed by Mill Valley Refuse Service.

The council also extended the firm's contract with the city to 1975. It previously had been extended every two years.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

CERTIFICATES — Awarded certificates of appreciation to Leonard Anderson for service on the youth commission and Alan Barnett for service on the library board.

SEWERS — Awarded to Gibraltar Securities Co. a bid to purchase $77,506 worth of sewer bonds for 96.27 per cent of the face value plus 7 per cent interest on the unpaid balance.

FISH AND CHIPS — Deleted two stipulations from the requirement for a use permit for a Fish and Chips restaurant at 27 Miller Avenue: that the applicant, Paul Skvaril, build an outdoor eating area and that a review of the permit in six months consider any nuisance the restaurant might create.

PERMITS — Approved on second reading an ordinance requiring a use permit for takeout and drive-in restaurants.

FIRE LINES — Deferred to its budget session Thursday discussion of appropriating about $13,000 to build a fire main along Monte Vista Avenue.

BOND — Stated it would not place a proposed capital improvement bond issue on the November ballot.

MEETING — Agreed to meet Aug. 26 at 8 p.m. at city hall with the planning commission to discuss planning policies. The commission asked for the meeting after the council rejected a proposal by Cal-Fong Investment Co. to build 120 garden cottages in Alto Bowl after the commission had approved the project.

FLOODING — Approved revisions in an agreement with the Richardson Bay Flood Control District to use $4,000 of district money to remove debris from culverts and creeks.

APPOINTMENTS — Heard Wickham nominate Jack Benjamin to serve as an adult member of the youth commission and confirmed Wickham's appointment of Jane Huber to the commission.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Thursday at 8 p.m. at city hall to consider and possibly adopt the 1970-71 budget.

Final Nuclear Test

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI)— France has scheduled the final nuclear explosion in its current series of eight tests for Aug. 6 or 7 depending upon the weather, military sources said today. The seventh test was Sunday.

More Public Participation Urged In Charting The Future Of Novato

A meeting last night of the Novato City Council, planning commission and downtown study committee for presentation of the Sedway-Cooke downown plan ended with debate on public participation in the city's decision making process.

Ben Ostlind — whose plan to build a pizza hut at the corner of Machin and De Long avenues has long been delayed by city requirements, most recently to await receipt of the downtown plan — fidgeted through the presentation of the plan and a short discussion of it by the three groups.

He took the floor as soon as questions from the floor were invited to complain that the public had not been given sufficient opportunity to participate in discussions on the plan and to request that all future hearings be widely advertised public hearings.

City Mgr. Brian Mattson answered that he thought "there has been a tremendous amount of public participation" in formulation of the city's contribution to the plan.

Resulting discussion of public contributions to and possible disruptions of proceedings led Vice Mayor Joseph Gargiulo to direct that widespread publicity be given the joint meetings of the planning commission and study committee when they consider recommendations on the report.

Gargiulo said that whether public comment was to be solicited at the meetings and whether a time limit would be placed on such comment was to be decided by the chairman.

The first of a planned series of meetings was set by Mattson for Aug. 13 at 8 p.m. to decide what recommendations should be made on three major options and four major goals for development set forth in the plan and to discuss properties whose development was delayed pending receipt of the plan.

The major options for development set forth in the plan are for a major regional shopping center on the Pinheiro ranch property, placement of a major center in the San Marin East area or developing a smaller shopping center at the present location of the downtown shopping center if major regional development were not undertaken.

Thomas Cooke, of the consultabt firm of Sedway and Cooke, said that the Hanna property bounded by Highways 37 and 101 and Novato Creek was not considered for placement of the contemplated shopping center because the location would detract from development of the downtown area planned.

The four major goals set forth in the plan are to strengthen the retail role of the downtown area; increase office, professional and business uses downtown; extend use of the area for public activities and offices, and improve the visual and functional quality of the area by redesign of major commercial streets and preservation of natural features.

There was some discussion but no decision on a suggestion by George Quesada that the city council also attend the meetings of the planning commission and downtown study committee to save time in acting on the plan and increase the council's understanding of the commission's recommendations.

Cooke told the meeting that two documents remained to be prepared under the contract for the report, a final plan including recommendations on the preliminary study by the city government and a simplified presentation designed for public consumption.

The final report, according to Cooke, will not be a fixed plan for the area to be adopted at once but a general one directed toward guiding decisions the community will have to make both in the immediate future and as much as 10 years from now.

45-Day Term Given On Car Theft Charge

Louis Ray Jones, 23, of South Lake Tahoe, yesterday was placed on two years' summary probation and ordered to report at 5 p.m. Thursday to start 45 days in Marin County Jail, on a car theft charge.

Jones had pleaded guilty to the felony count after being arrested in Tahoe Oct. 15 for taking a sports car from the Rossi Garage in San Rafael on May 20, 1969. Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Trustees Put Approval On Tam Budget

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night adopted a $10.2 million budget for the 1970-71 fiscal year, a budget which calls for a 5-cent reduction in the district's overall tax rate.

The trustees voted unanimously to approve the $10,257,608 budget which is expected to carry a tax rate of $2.09 per $100 assessed valuation. Last year's tax rate was $2.14.

The tax rate will dip five cents despite the fact that this year's budget is $358,513 higher than last year's because of a large jump in the district's assessed valuation, Frank Cassou told the board. He said the assessed valuation of the district is estimated to have climbed 9.5 per cent.

Cassou also said the average cost per pupil was up 5 per cent over last year. Board members, in adopting the final budget last night, said that the 5-cent cut in the tax rate was accomplished without any reduction or elimination of district programs.

The district's general operating tax rate was actually cut eight cents —from $1.935 last year to $1.850 this year — but increases in special taxes and overrides tacked on an additional three cents.

A breakdown of the district's total tax rate shows general fund, 5 cents; classified retirefund, 5 cents; classfie dretirement fund, 2.4 cents; social security, 1.4 cents; health and welfare premiums, 9 cents; community services, 2 cents, and Opportunity School, 4.5 cents.

The budget provides an 8 per cent pay hike for teachers and administrators. The board is still negotiating with the classified employees, but the outcome of those negotiations is not expected to affect the tax rate.

The board last night also approved transfer of $300,000 from the general fund into unappropriated reserve for the coming year. The district is seeking to build a reserve to fund its planned expansion programs in the next few years. Last night's transfer hikes the building fund to $500,000.

The budget approved last night will give the district a $1.2 million total reserve for the coming year.

The Tamalpais High School District board last night also:

ALCOHOL — Authorized the district superintendent to sign forms required by the Internal Revenue Service because the district stores alcohol for use in science labs.

ELECTION — Authorized the County of Marin to consolidate the district's election for a new trustee to replace resigned board member Gloria Mellosotad with the Nov. 3 general election.

MEMBERSHIP — Approved joining the California School Board Association for another year at a cost of $1,053. Vote was 3-1 with Robert W. Corbitt dissenting because he didn't feel the district got its money's worth from the association. The board named trustee David D. Ring the district's delegate to the association's assembly.

CARPET — Awarded the contract for carpeting the Redwood High School library to RGS Inc. for $6,235.

RESIGNATION — Approved resignation of Carol Hier-Johnson Thomason from Redwood High School and hired Pamela Deschler to replace her at a salary of $9,770 per year. Mrs. Thomason resigned because her husband has been transferred from the area, she said.

CLOSED MEETING — Held a closed meeting at the end of the regular meeting to meet with its salary negotiating committee which has been working on non-teaching salaries.

MARIN CITY — Deferred action on a request from the Marin City Community Services District to use some school property in Marin City for a special labor day program. No representative from Marin City appeared at last night's meeting to outline what type of activities are planned.

Nelder Asks Control Over Movie Licenses

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The Police Department,rather than the Fire Department and the building inspector should license San Francisco's sex movie industry, Police Chief Alfred J. Nelder contends.

An ordinance he proposed Monday would forbid pictorial representations of nude persons in advertisements and the use of certain words in advertising. It also provides for police inspections with the power to revoke or suspend licenses.

Racial Balance School Plan Is Given Approval

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — The Board of Education of Inglewood Monday night approved a plan to achieve racial balance in public schools starting this year in compliance with a Superior Court order.

The board voted 4-1 for the plan which includes busing, the longest distance of which would be three miles.

The plan was to be submitted to Judge Max Deutz, who ordered the racial balance, later this month.

The plan calls for "pairing" kindergarten through third grade schools with fourth through six grade elementary schools. On the secondary level, it calls for changing the present north-south dividing line of the 10-square-mile district, which has the effect of concentrating the largely black east side population in the same schools.

The division will be made on an east-west basis.

Jailed Millionaire Pleads For Bail

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Jack Van Sickle, a millionaire who is accused of conspiring to kill his ex-wife and five other persons, wants the Nevada Supreme Court to reconsider an order revoking his bail.

Van Sickle, charged in California, is fighting extradition and the Supreme Court voted 3-2 on July 3 that he is not entitled to bail.

In California's Stanislaus County, the Carson City resident is accused of trying to hire two men for $5,000 to kill his ex-wife. a California judge and four attorneys who were involved in his divorce proceedings.

Bill Proposed Against Disposable Containers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Joseph P. Vigorito, D-Pa., has introduced legislation designed to outlaw the interstate sale of beer and soft drinks in throwaway containers. He said if the problem is not tackled in this decade "we will end up being [illegible] garbage."

Vigorito said "the soft drink and beer industries have for too long been interested only in the consumption of their product and the making of a profit. It is time they realize they too have a moral obligation to consider what happens to the containers which they make so easily disposable."

Utah-N. Mexico Missile Found In Mexico Field

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The radioactive remains of the head of a U.S. Athena missile have been found in a field in Mexico's northern state of Chihuahua, the Foreign Relations Department announced.

The pieces were from a missile fired July 11 from a point near Green River, Utah, that overshot its target in the White Sands missile range in New Mexico. The remains of the 100-pound missile were located at a site 11 miles from the town of Carrillo in Chihuahua state.

The department said in its announcement Monday that the missile head dug out a radioactive hole 50 feet long, 15 feet wide and 10 feet deep when it hit. It said the United States was authorized to collect the radioactive material.

The Little Dipper is the common name for seven stars in the constellation Ursa Minor.

Cannery Workers Ratify Contract

BURLINGAME (UPI) — Cannery workers represented by the Teamsters Union have ratified a contract that gives them wage increases ranging up to 98 cents an hour, plus an additional 14 cents in cost of living boosts.

The union announced Monday its California Council of Food Processing Unions' pact will cover 65,000 persons during the state canneries' peak season.

A 10 per cent boost is retroactive to last March. That will range from 27 cents to 51 cents an hour, depending on job classifications.

Another 5 per cent will be added next July 1 and another 5 per cent on July 1, 1971.

For increases in the cost of living, members are to get 7 cents more an hour in July 1971 and again in July 1972.

Army Bans Traffic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has decided to ban most car traffic from Arlington National Cemetery starting Nov. 1, leaving visitors the choice of walking or riding a new tourmobile.

A Picasso Stolen

LONDON (UPI)—A thief stole a Picasso ink drawing valued at $12,000 Monday from the Redfern galleries in London's Mayfair district, police said. The drawing, called "La Femme," shows a crouching woman

Town Council Approves Library Plan

The long-sought Corte Madera Regional Library, a joint venture between the town and Marin County, last night was given final approval by the town council, which signed its half of a joint powers agreement. The Marin supervisors were expected to follow suit today.

In signing the contract, the council obligated town property owners to split with county library taxpayers the payment of $650,000 in revenue bonds needed to build the facility.

Bids for the library, to be located at Meadowsweet Drive and Sanford Street, will be sought following county approval and creation of a governing board. The board is to be made up of three supervisors and two councilmen.

The council last night appointed Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilmen Robert P. Simmons to serve on the governing board, which will supervise financing and construction of the project.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

PARKING — Approved 2 to 2. Councilmen Holmes S. Norville and Byron D. White against, an ordinance authorizing the town engineer to set future off-street parking standards.

CREEKS — Approved unanimously an ordinance holding property owners financially liable for removal of waste obstructing watercourses on their property.

BICYCLE SIGNS — Rejected unanimously a Parks and Recreation Commission recommendation that bicycle path signs be posted at the intersection of Tamalpais and Paradise drives denoting Paradise as a bicycle route and signs restricting bicycle from San Clemente Drive.

ANNEXATION — Approved unanimously a resolution approving the circulation of a petition by Meadowsweet Drive residents to annex about six acres to the town. The action was prompted by receipt of a notice of intention signed by 29 area residents. The area seeking annexation includes Marin Joe's Restaurant, Casa Buena Motel, duplex and apartment buildings.

TRACTOR — Approved specifications for a tractor-backhoe which was previously approved during June's budget sessions. Bids will be opened Aug. 14 at the Town Hall.

PUMPS — Approved unanimously the awarding of a $9,116 contract for four flood control pumps from Byron Jackson Pump Co. of San Francisco. Four other companies submitted bids ranging to a high of $14,190.

PUMP INSTALLATION — Approved plans and specifications for installation of four flood control pumps. Bids will be opened Aug. 17 at the Town Hall.

ADJOURNMENT — A d journed until the next regular meeting Aug. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

"APRICOT BLOSSOM Lantern" is the name of this dance that Lesandre Bailey, left, and Mimi Janislawski are performing in costumes that are copies of those worn by Chinese statues of the Tang Dynasty.

THIS DANCE was inspired by an Egyptian frieze in the oldest wall painting in Egypt dating back to about 3,500 B.C. Standing, Lesandre represents Shu, God of the Air, and Mimi represents Neb, Goddess of the Earth.

Ethnic Dance-Art Created

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mimi Janislawski, young Sausalito dancer, and her partner, Lesandre Bailey of San Francisco, have created a new kind of ethnic dance-art of special interest to universities and other educational institutions and to club program chairmen.

They are highly trained professional dancers who perform dances of the Orient based on research they have been doing for five years in British museums while performing as students with the Royal Ballet School in London and studying privately with Chinese and Indian teachers there.

"We created our dances and made our own costumes after studying the history, religions, art, literature and fragments of ancient documents on dance," Mimi explains. "We even lived on the native foods, such as dried figs, pomegranates, seaweed and barley, of the countries we were studying, partly to save money," she confesses.

"AT ONE TIME we existed solely on tsampa, a hot buttered Tibetan tea with roasted barley flour. It's great for a cold climate."

The girls say they paid their expenses partly through money they received from home, partly through scholarships and from working.

"It was very difficult to work and support ourselves and dance at the same time," Mimi admits. "We couldn't be permanent members of the Royal Ballet because we were not British citizens. I had to resort to housework and baby sitting, and Lesandre got a job with a bank."

There were so few opportunities to dance in England for this reason that the girls decided to return to this country last April to continue their careers.

EACH DESCRIBED her own background.

Mimi, whose real name is Mary Regina, is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Stanley Janislawski of Sausalito. Born in San Francisco, she lived most of her life in Sausalito, attending the old Dominican lower school before the new San Domenico school was built, and Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco.

She started the study of dance at the age of 11 with Jean Hart, a teacher with the Royal Academy of Dance in San Francisco, an affiliate of the Royal Ballet School in London.

She performed with the California Imperial Ballet Company and in the 1965 season of the San Francisco Opera Ballet.

In 1965 at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco Mimi became the first American girl to receive the coveted solo seal from the Royal Academy of Dance and was accepted as a student by the Royal Ballet School in London. She studied there three years before continuing her studies with private teachers.

LESANDRE, a native of Australia, received her early ballet training in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles with the famed David Lichine. Later, studying in New Zealand, she passed examinations for the Royal Academy of Dance and won many scholarships and awards.

On returning to the United States she joined the California Imperial Ballet Company and danced with the San Francisco Ballet Company. She and Mimi met at the Royal Academy of Dance School in San Francisco, and the year after Mimi left for London, Lesandre joined her as a student at the Royal Ballet School.

On completing their studies at the school they continued their studies together and formed their parntership. As dancers with the Incredible String Band, which played many kinds of Eastern type instruments, they toured England, Scandinavia, Ireland and Scotland.

They gave concerts at the Queen Elizabeth and Royal Albert Halls and at British universities and were the subject of a number of films made by the BBC television.

Mimi explains what they believe is a special value of their programs.

"OUR PROGRAMS are composed of many different kinds of Eastern dances that audiences in this country seldom get a chance to see because Indians are the only ones who seem to have touring companies here."

Mimi and Lesandre will present one of their programs on Nov. 17 at Dominican College in the series sponsored by the College's Music Department in cooperation with the Dominican College Music Associates.

DANCERS LESANDRE Bailey, left, and Mimi Janislawski explain to Sister M. Antoinette, O.P. head of the Dominican College music department, how they made the ancient Chinese costumes they are wearing. They will present a concert at Dominican in November. The girls' dances and costumes are based on five years' research they did in British museums while performing as students with the Royal Ballet School in London.

Vows At Tea Garden

Samantha A. Stout and Peter J. De Francesca III, both of Sausalito, were married July 27 in a ceremony performed before the temple in the Japanese Tea Garden in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Polis of Glen Burnie,Md., had as her maid of honor Niki Kerr of San Francisco. The bridegroom, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter J. De Francesca Jr. of Melrose Park, Ill., was served as best man by Steven Gorr of San Francisco.

A reception was held following the ceremony on the bridegroom's houseboat in Sausalito. The couple are living in an apartment in Sausalito.

The bride was graduated from high school in Glen Burnie and is employed as a stewardess with Trans International Airlines out of Oakland. She has eight brothers and sisters living in Maryland.

A graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., the bridegroom is employed with Conco Ltd. in San Francisco. He is the brother of Marie De Francesca of Melrose Park and Mrs. William Bobco of Liephier, Germany.

The Dowdy Midi May Prevent Winter Cold

The fashion industry is facing fall with its hems down. It appears the vast majority of dresses will just cover the knee or drop even longer after a give-and-take fight this spring between the designers and women buyers.

If you think the midi is dowdy, though, take heart — it does have some merit.

It may be healthier, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

For one thing, it will keep you warmer on a cold winter's night. The popularity of maxi coats this past winter proved that knees should neither be seen nor heard (chattering) during the frosty season.

The midi will also probably bring back heavier stockings like the silk gauge ones worn by the heroines of the '30s. They're warmer, too.

A survey of mass-volume and hihg fashion stores in New York in June showed only two out of 15 major outlets planning large purchases of short dresses.

Teen Dreads Family Reunion At Thanksgiving, Desires Day Off

DEAR HELEN:

A while back there was a letter from a teen who enjoyed family reunions. I envy her because to me they're one big dread. Here's why:

1. My step-grandmother can't hold her liquor. The things she says and does make me want to throw up.

2. Dad's family can't stand Mom's family and vice versa. Yet they insist on getting together at least once a year — and it always ends in a fight. With all those cuts being thrown around, I'm usually the one that seems to get slashed up. Maybe it's because I'm an only child.

3. The family gets a big kick from mocking my friends, me, my school. Those from out of town knock the place where we live.

4. Almost everybody uses horrible language and dirty words, especially as they get drunker. But if the kids do — wow!

Helen, I'm almost 17 and this year I don't want to go to our regular Thanksgiving family reunion. Mom understands, but Dad thinks I'm a trailer. There'll be over 30 people without me. How can I get it across to him that I won't be missed?— BOUNCER, REFEREE AND ENGLISH TEACHER

DEAR BR AND ET:

A modest proposal: Why don't all three of you plan a different Thanksgiving vacation this fall? My IGAP says your mother and father suffer as much as you do at these annual disunions, though Pop won't admit it yet. A year off might give everyone a better perspective. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 19, been married six months, and right now my husband is in Vietnam. I'm lonely, but that's beside the point. This may come as a shock, but I'm not going to ask you how to stay faithful. To heck with my sexual needs. I'll survive until Barry gets back. I love him with all my heart.

What worries me is that I love him too much to keep anything from him. He knows I was sort of engaged to another guy when I was 17. He doesn't know I used to tell my folks I was going to spend the night with a girl friend and instead spend it with my steady. It didn't happen often and this was my one and only affair.

DEAR WIFE:

Confession may be good for the soul, but not for the soulmate. If Barry hasn't asked, he doesn't want to know, so forget the past and concentrate on having the best of all possible futures. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I want to be an airline hostess, but I talked to my school counselor about it and she advised me to consider something else, after looking at me as if to say, "You'll never make it." I'm not ugly or overweight or anything.

Should I go ahead and show her, or pick another field? Either she doesn't think much of me, or she doesn't approve of airline hostess work. Why? — W.P.M.

DEAR W.:

Quien sabe?

But don't ever let one person's opinion stop you. Apply for a preliminary interview-test at the airline of your choice. This is the only way to learn whether you are suited for hostessing and the fly-life is suitable for you. — H.

Cupples-Waterbury Vows At St. Isabella's Church

(Wallace photo)

St. Isabella's Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding of Peggy Ann Waterbury to Christopher Lee Cupples on Saturday.

Lynn Prosser of San Rafael was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Marilyn Rhoads and Sandra Cupples, the bridegroom's sister. Both are San Rafael residents.

Stephen Cupples of San Rafael served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Brian Waterbury and Paul Lee of San Rafael.

A reception was held afterward in the garden of the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Raymond B. Waterbury.

After a Southern California wedding trip the newlyweds will live in Pullman, Wash.

Peggy is a Terra Linda High School graduate and attended the College of Marin. She will enter Washington State University in September.

Christopher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Cupples of San Rafael. A graduate of Terra Linda High School and the College of Marin, he is a senior at Washington State University. He is also the brother of Martin and James Cupples of San Rafael.

Nanette Maggiora Exchanges Vows With Richard Terry Tofanelli

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy K. Wilkie of San Rafael. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Raymond Tofanelli, lives in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Robert Webster of San Rafael was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lenore McIntosh of Susanville, Kathy Rogers of Sausalito, Mrs. Allen Russell of San Jose and Mrs. William Rutan of Chico.

Local grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Barranco of Albany, and her great-grandmother is Mrs. Vincenta Martin of Oakland.

The bride's brother, Mark Wilkie, lives in San Rafael. The bridegroom's sisters are Mrs. Gene Urquhart of Mountain View and Mrs. Sandra Campbell of Los Altos.

A graduate of San Rafael High school, the bride attended College of Marin, and received an associate of arts degree from Foothill College, Los Altos.

Her husband was graduated from Gunn High School in Palo Alto, attended Foothill College and received an associate of arts degree from Canada College in Redwood City.

After traveling for a year in Europe, the couple will return to Chico State College, where they are students.

Pamela Yarling Wed To Michael Bernard Ross

Pamela Sue Yarling of San Rafael became the bride of Michael Bernard Ross of Pacifica on July 25 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edsel P. Yarling in San Rafael.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ross, live in Pacifica. His sister, Mrs. James Karas, lives in Camarillo.

Mrs. John Anderson of Santa Monica was her sister's matron of honor. James Karas was his brother-in-law's best man.

The bride, who was graduated from San Rafael High School, and her husband, who was graduated from Pacifica High School, are both students at Sonoma State College.

Sisters of the bride, Margaret, Cindy and Ginny Yarling live in San Rafael.

After a camping trip through the Pacific Northwest, Mr. and Mrs. Ross will live in Cotati.

Miss Weidner Is Bride Of John S. Dancz

Virginia Helen Weidner of Corte Madera became the bride of John Stanley Dancz of Clifton, N.J., in a July 27 ceremony performed by Judge Peter Allen Smith in San Rafael.

Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Weidner of Corte Madera. A graduate of Redwood High School and the University of California at Davis, she is attending graduate school at the University of Oregon.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dancz of Clifton. A graduate of California Institute of Technology, he is a graduate student at the University of California.

Miss Speeg Is Married

Marilyn York Speeg became the bride of Robert George Anderson Jr. Saturday at Mission San Rafael Archangel. A reception followed at the Greenbrae home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit V. Speeg.

Mrs. Kermit V. Speeg Jr. of Dallas, Tex., the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor, and best man was Stefan Garroway of Sausalito. Guests were ushered to their seats by Tom Haman of Santa Venetia and Author H. Presson of Danville, Robert's brothers-in-law.

Marilyn was graduated from high school in Fort Worth, Tex., and from Dominican College in San Rafael. Kermit V. Speeg Jr. of Dallas and Tom Speeg of Greenbrae are her brothers.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito and the brother of Mrs. Haman and Mrs. Persson. He is a graduate of Drew School in San Francisco, College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Leo Joseph MacKinnon of Mill Valley and John W. Anderson of Sausalito.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 5, the 217th day of 1970 with 148 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this date in history:

In 1861 the United States imposed its first income tax. All incomes over $800 dollars were taxed 3 per cent.

In 1917 the entire National Guard was drafted into the Army.

In 1962 actress Marilyn Monroe died of an overdose of barbiturates.

In 1963 the United States, Britain and Russia signed a treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the earth's atmosphere, in space and underseas.

A thought for the day: Francis Bacon said, "Revenge is a kind of wild justice, which the more man's nature runs to, the more ought law to weed it out."

Color, Conservation Compatible, Aide Says

NEENAH, Wis. (UPI) —Color and conservation are compatible, says an environment expert. Richard M. Billings of Kimberly-Clark Corp. says creative use of color is one of the few recent developments in merchandising that doesn't have its own pollution problem.

The dye in tissue products, for intance, is "biodegradable," says Billings, the company's environment control director. It "self-destructs" as quickly as the basic material it colors.

SURVEYED ASSETS

Tore Jensen, of the Norwegian team, won the first trick in his hand with the queen of hearts and surveyed his assets with satisfaction. Five clubs, a diamond, a heart, and three spades. West's takeout double of one club made it clear that the ace of hearts was safely tucked away in the West hand.

Happily looking at the stars, Jensen led a low spade to dummy's jack and then continued with dummy's ten of spades. Bobby Wolff, holding the West cards, took the ace of spades and shifted to a diamond, knocking out the ace.

Jensen was already in the well, but he hadn't yet discovered it. He learned where he was when he led a club to dummy's king, only to find out that all of the missing clubs were in one hand.

TOO LATE

It was too late for the Norwegian star to recover. He could lead a club from dummy, capturing the ten of clubs with the queen, but then he couldn't return to the dummy for another lead through East's clubs. When South led a heart, West stepped up with the ace of hearts and ran the diamonds to defeat the contract.

DOWN-TO-EARTH

A down-to-earth declarer would check on the clubs at the second trick. A club to the king is followed by a club back through East. South's queen captures the ten.

Only now can South lead a low spade to dummy's jack. West cannot stop declarer from reaching dummy with a spade honor. And then declarer leads another club through East to bring in his five club tricks — and his game contract.

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

You have 11 points in high cards and should count 3 points for the void suit, enough for an opening bid. Show your strong five-card major suit. If partner cannot respond in spades, you must probably abandon that suit.

Traffic Scarecop?

KYOTO, Japan (UPI)—Police erected a life-sized model of a traffic cop near a bridge on a major highway in an attempt to scare speeders into slowing their vehicles. The eyes and Sam Browne belt on the dummy were covered with luminous paint to attract night drivers.

Lower Tax Rate Set For Belvedere Budget

The Belvedere City Council last night adopted a 1970-71 budget of $474,140 and set the tax rate at $1.70 per $100 assessed valuation, a decrease of five cents from last year's rate.

The only budget change made last night was the addition of $13,500 to capital outlay for a new street sweeper. Councilmen ordered that the added funds be transferred from reserves to preserve the tax rate cut.

The operating budget approved was $333,390 and the capital outlay figure was $140,750 after adding the street sweeper.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli made a brief struggle to get a $1.75 tax rate, but Councilman Thomas S. Price said, "My feeling has not changed as regards that tax rate. I think we as a council have to take a stand somewhere as regards the tax rate and the assessment."

Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel and councilman Willard G. Pittman concurred. Councilmen Merritt K. Ruddock and Alan Steinau were not present.

The Belvedere City Council Also:

STRIKE — Took no action on a letter from Rev. James E. Symons of Mill Valley urging the council to push mediation in the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 strike against the Independent-Journal.

NURSERY SCHOOL — Had a first hearing and set Sept. 14 for the second hearing on an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would reclassify Belvedere Nursery School property from residential to commercial.

LONG RANGE PLAN — Set Sept. 14 for a hearing on the city's park and recreation long range development plan.

FLOODS — Approved $2,500 to be matched by Tiburon to hire a consulting engineer to implement immediate flood control plans, study results and produce a flood control master plan in the spring of 1971.

LAGOON — Directed that a letter be sent to the Belvedere Lagoon Property Owners Association ordering removal of a bulkhead in the Reed Basin drainage ditch and informing the association of sediment cleanup plans for the lagoon.

ROCK WALL — Tabled until the 1971-72 budget hearings discussion of collapsing rock walls on Bella Vista Avenue.

GARBAGE — Tabled a proposal ordering later garbage collection hours at an undetermined higher cost until there are more complaints.

SLIDE — Took no action on a slide at 288 Beach Road claiming it began on private property and merely ended on city property so the city has no liability.

ECOLOGY — Announced Belvedere's representatives on a Belvedere-Tiburon ecology committee are former councilmen Sally Matthews, Mrs. Joseph MacLeod, Margie Simpson, Samuel Mann with Councilman Thomas S. Price acting as council liaison.

GAS TAX — Refused to back a state senate resolution by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, against diverting gas taxes from highway uses since it had previously backed diversions to mass transit and antipollution projects.

COOPERATION — Adopted a statement of philosophy proposed by Mayor Drechsel that calls for cooperation between Belvedere and Tiburon governments to make local government "efficient, effective and responsive."

DOGS — Adopted an ordinance forbidding any household to keep more than three dogs, four months or older, without a variance from the city.

DEBRIS BOXES — Put over to Sept. 14 adoption of an ordinance governing debris boxes to obtain suggestions from a supplier of the boxes.

LANE — Accepted a quit claim deed to Cedar Lane from Wallace Marinko whose property it runs through and directed City Atty. Robert F. MacKay to initiate abandonment procedures.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to Sept. 14.

Camera Stolen; Film Value Told

The film contained dozens of irreplaceable pictures snapped during a two-week period to be used in the Forest-for-Assembly campaign in November.

George J. Silvestri Jr. of 40 Gregg Place, Novato, one of Forest's supporters, said the film would be of no value to anyone else, but it is essential in the Forest campaign.

Orange Daily Paper Now Tri-Weekly

GARDEN GROVE (UPI) — Lawrence A. Collins Jr., publisher of the Orange County Evening News, announced Monday that the Wednesday edition of the newspaper will be its last as a daily.

In the future, the Evening News will be distributed free, three days a week. Distribution will be on Friday and Sunday mornings and Wednesday afternoons.

The Orange County edition of the Press-Telegram will be delivered to News subscribers starting Thursday.

In addition to the three weekly editions of the Evening News, the West Orange Publishing Corp. will continue to publish weekly and semiweekly editions of the Buena Park News, Anaheim-Fullerton Independent, La Mirada Lamplighter and Huntington Beach Independent.

The conversion of the daily to three-times-a-week was necessitated by increasing production costs, according to the publishers.

Binoculars Stolen

A $100 pair of binoculars was stolen Thursday from a 39-foot sloop berthed in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police reported today. Owner Roy E. Jennings Jr. of 141 Woodward Avenue said entry was gained by removing a padlock from the vessel's hatch.

Attorney Tells Council Most Lots Aren't Large Enough

Three quarters of the residential lots in Belvedere aren't large enough to meet present zoning requirements and at least one third aren't even half large enough, an attorney told the Belvedere City Council last night in an unsuccessful effort to win a variance.

San Rafael attorney Bryan McCarthy told the council that 72 per cent of the city lots don't measure the required 15,000 square feet and 34 per cent are less then 7,500 square feet. He was seeking permission for Walters-Flood Inc to build a second dwelling on a 29,300 square foot lot at 419 Belvedere Avenue.

He argued that the lot split would leave one lot in conformity with the 1965 R-15 zoning ordinance and the other only 700 square feet short — larger than three quarters of Belvedere's lots.

However, the council — leaning on the arguments of City Atty. Robert F. MacKay, City Manager William L. Cavalli and planning commission chairman George V. Banning — upheld a planning commission denial of the request.

Banning said that only one half of the 30,000-square-foot lot is buildable because much of it is cliff face.

Cavalli said, "My point is that doing this is circumventing the minor subdivision ordinance and contradicting everything this council has tried to do in preserving the large single family dwelling lots."

MacKay noted that the 15,000-square-foot building area McCarthy was claiming for the proposed second structure contained an existing carport, stairway, retaining wall, cliff and portions of Raccoon Straits.

Furthermore, he said, tacking on land on the other side of the existing structure with a narrow connecting corridor violates the intent of the ordinance.

"In my opinion the building site area which is attributable to this structure is about 5,000 feet," MacKay said.

McCarthy maintained that the only things the council should have considered were that such a subdivision was legal when the existing house was built in 1958 and that most of Belvedere is nonconforming.

Monterey Bay Hit By Sharp Quake

MONTEREY (UPI) —A "reasonably potent" earthquake centered in Monterey Bay jolted a 100-mile stretch of the coast Monday night, knocking down a few telephone lines and triggering several burglar alarms.

"Weird—a good jolt," reported Monterey Police Sgt. Donald Lansing. "We thought it was a bomb at first."

There were no reports of serious damage, but the Monterey police reported some phone lines down and a number of burglar alarms ringing.

The quake was felt as far away as San Francisco and Oakland, about 90 miles north of here, where scores of calls were received by police switchboards.

University of California Seismograph Station at Berkeley said the temblor at 9:14 p.m. PDT registered between 4.75 and 5 on the Richter scale and centered in Monterey Bay. A seismologist said a quake of that size was "reasonably potent—enough to cause some damage if there are buildings nearby."

Probation, Fine Follow Shooting

William J. Riley, 76-year-old Larkspur resident who capped a longstanding feud with a neighbor by taking a shot at him, yesterday was placed on two years' summary probation and given 30 days to pay a $1,000 fine.

District Attorney Bruce B. Bales asked Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire to also sentence Riley to 10 days in county jail, but McGuire, citing probation reports of Riley's previously spotless record, termed it "a most unusual case," and refused to order jailing him.

Riley had shot at his neighbor, Walter Frizzi, on April 15, and had entered a no-contest plea to charges of assault with a deadly weapon and of exhibiting a gun in a threatening manner.

Two Marinites Have Enlisted In Air Force

Two Marin men have enlisted in the Air Force, according to T/Sgt. Bennie Montoya, area recruiter. They are John M. Behel, son of Mrs. Betty S. Behel of 87 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, and Loren M. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meisch of 1945 Center Road, Novato.

The two will receive basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Forest Firemen Hope For Weather's Help

OJAI (UPI)—Firemen battling to keep a fire away from timberland near San Rafael Peak in the Los Padres National Forest were looking for help from the weather today.

The 1,100-acre blaze 15 miles northeast of here took a turn for the worse Monday as the winds pushed the fire north and the air stayed hot and humid.

Hundreds of Forest Service firemen established a line along MacDonald Ridge hoping to stop the fire before it could get to the timber along the Little Mutau Creeks another three quarters of a mile north.

They reported that the line was holding late Monday and the few fingers of flames which crossed had been quickly extinguished.

The rugged mountain area has prevented the use of any ground equipment. The only way to get to the fire lines has been by helicopter. Six air tankers dropped water and fire retardent chemicals on the fire during the day.

A National Guard truck unit provided drivers and trucks to get men and equipment into the fire camp about 21 miles off the main road back into the hills.

Mrs. Alioto Chosen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Supervisors Monday confirmed the appointment of Mayor Joseph Alioto's wife, Angelina, to the War Memorial Board which operates the Opera House and the Veterans Building. The position is unsalaried.

BART Director Opposes Oakland Airport Service

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Bay Area Rapid Transit District's general manager opposes extending the system to Oakland International Airport.

B. R. Stokes, the manager, told district officials Monday that BART does not have enough space on its tracks for the additional trains necessary to provide an attractive airport service.

He said, however, that he would "leave the door slightly open" for further consideration.

QUIET LIFE GOES ON

Each morning as men jam Marin streets and roads with thousands of automobiles, quiet life goes on in the high woods and slopes of Mount Tamalpais. Grazing amidst a heavy morning fog, and sometimes disappearing in a blend of brown brush and trees, coastal deer live unnoticed. As the fog burns off and hikers, campers and fishermen return to the mountain, the deer seek refuge from their — and the camera's eyes.

Marin Bus Line To Be Expanded

By WAT TAKESHITA

A Marin City bus firm won the go-ahead today to start a shuttle bus service between San Rafael and Novato and points between — Civic Center, Northgate Shopping Center, and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The Marin County Transit District directors voted 5 to 2, authorizing Marin Transit Systems of Marin City to start the San Rafael-Novato service as soon as it can get approval from the state public utilities commission. Marin Transit will get a $51,000 subsidy for the first six months of operation from the Marin County Transit District. For the first month of operation, the subsidy will be $11,000, then will go down to $10,000 the second month, and $1,000 less each month thereafter for six months. After six months, the contract will be reviewed and renegotiated.

The motion for the $51,000 subsidy and expansion of bus operation to San Rafael northward was made by Kenneth L. Anderson of San Anselmo and seconded by Denis T. Rice of Tiburon.

County supervisors William A. Gnoss, Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. voted in favor. The two dissenters were supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar, who said the entire bus operation should be run by the Golden Gate Bridge District and not be splintered among private bus firms.

Anderson's motion also provided that in the contract to be drawn up with the Marin City bus firm, the company agrees not to interfere with bus operations when the Golden Gate Bridge begins operating a full bus system. Furthermore, if the bus operations between San Rafael and Novato results in Greyhound's reducing or abandoning any of its present service, the private contract with Marin Transit Systems will have to be reviewed.

Marin Transit now operates the Mill Valley to Tiburon ferry bus system. The transit district directors voted to continue the present $4,000 per month subsidy for that operation but called for a joint powers agreement with the bridge district and the city of Tiburon to help share the cost of that operation.

On a motion by Wornum, the directors also authorized McInnis, Wornum and Gnoss to spend up to $1,000 to hire a bus transportation consultant to help set up the San Rafael to Novato shuttle service.

Attorney Albert Bianchi represented the Marin City bus firm in its request for increased subsidy and expansion of operations.

The League of Women Voters and Marin Senior Coordinating Council, represented by executive director Edward T. Ryken, urged the expansion and subsidy. County Planning Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo also spoke in favor of the expansion.

Youth Arrested As Suspect In Bottle Stabbing

A 16-year-old youth was arrested last night on suspicion of assualt with a deadly weapon after a Rohnert Park youth was stabbed with a broken bottle near Petaluma.

Brian Van Leuven, 17, of 7299 Barbie Lane, Rohnert Park, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for stab wounds of the chest and arms.

Juvenile Lt. Robert Waldron said David Stoker, 16, had been arrested for the assault. Waldron said Stoker formerly lived in Cotati, but has no known address now.

Waldron said the two youths were arguing on Old Redwood Highway north of Petaluma near the Palace of Fruits at 11:30 p.m. when Stoker allegedly broke a soda bottle and stabbed Van Leuven several times. Several other youths witnessed the fight, Waldron said.

Stoker was booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Panel Votes Mobile Home Park Zoning

Rezoning for a future mobile home park on the west side of Highway 101 was approved last night by the Rohnert Park City Council.

The council rezoned 40 acres from agricultural zone to permit the mobile home park planned by Roberts and Aguirre of Novato.

The council heard that plans call for a maximum of 200 living units with a density of eight units per acre.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

SNYDER LANE — Agreed to ask the County of Sonoma for more financial assistance in the widening and improvement of Snyder Lane since cost estimates of the project have been higher than expected.

CREDIT CARDS — Approved a plan to permit residents to use Bankamericards to pay city utility bills, swimming pool memberships and golf course fees.

EASEMENT — Granted Pacific Telephone and Telegraph an easement along the edge of the golf course for a new cable in exchange for $3,000 in landscaping. Developer Paul Golis had argued that the company will save $75,000 by the golf course route and that the city should get at least $25,000 for the easement.

COLLEGE BUDGET — Heard a report that cuts in the budget for Sonoma State College will delay the construction of a new access road for one year.

DUMP — Heard a report from Donald B. Head, director of public works for the county, on plans to construct a disposal site on either Roblar Road or Hamill Road, west of Rohnert Park. No objection was raised and the council approved the concept of the plans.

Meeting Postponed

Today's meeting of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District Board has been postponed until Thursday at 8 p.m. in the fire station, according to chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

Lagunitas Trustees Stall Religion Decision

Lagunitas School District trustees last night postponed until December action of a request to release students for one hour a week to study religion.

The request was made by Rev. William L. Frederickson of the San Geronimo Valley Community Presbyterian Church.

Supt. Joseph Amato said a poll of faculty members indicated the majority were not in favor of the proposal and he recommended the policy not be adopted now.

But Amato told the board that a restructuring of the instructional program should be completed and there will be five new teachers by December, and thus staff opinion of the proposal could change.

The board agreed and tabled the request.

The Lagunitas School District Board Also:

BUDGET — Conducted a public hearing on the 1970-71 budget. Amato said new figures from the county schools office have allowed the publication budget of $430,788 to be revised to $425,354.

PROJECTS — Authorized Amato to apply for approximately $20,000 in state funds for two separate projects, one in language and mathematics and the other in reading.

LOAN — Approved borrowing up to $90,000 from the county until district tax revenue becomes available.

AGENT — Appointed Amato the board's agent for negotiating with staff and named trustee Judith L. Fullick board liason with the teaching staff and trustee Glen E. Twitchell board liaison with the non-teaching staff.

MOVE — Approved Amato's recommendation to move kindergarten from Lagunitas School to San Geronimo School beginning in September.

PUBLIC — Heard Amato announce that he will hold an open meeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 12 at San Geronimo School to meet informally with parents and public.

MEETING — Adjourned to its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 24.

Bay Air Study To Be Reviewed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Stanford University study of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will be presented to district directors at 10 a.m. tomorrow in district offices at 939 Ellis Street.

The study was financed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Man Booked For Pot Investigation

A 30-year-old Mill Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail Friday for investigation of marijuana possession after Sausalito police stopped his auto for having no red taillights.

Thomas Roy Raggart, of 109 Cornelia Avenue, was stopped about 1:26 a.m. as he was heading north in the 900 block of Bridgeway. A routine check on Taggart revealed he was wanted by San Francisco authorities for $48 worth of traffic warrants.

After he was taken to the police station on the warrants, police discovered a hand-rolled cigarette believed to contain the drug in his jacket.

Taggart is free on bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court August 14.

Final School Budget Set For Bolinas

A $266,763 final budget was adopted last night by trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District following a public hearing attended by only two persons, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported today.

The superintendent said the budget, which will leave the district's total tax rate unchanged at $2.325 per $100 of assessed valuation, includes seven per cent salary scale increases for the district's seven teachers.

He said the board agreed to place $13,000, which will be used for relocation of portable classrooms at Bolinas School, in a special reserve fund since the classrooms will probably not be moved until next summer.

The budget includes a beginning cash balance of $40,000 and $142,000 for salaries for all district trustees.

Trustees postponed action on the resignation of custodian Frank Vitelli, who has been with the district eight years, until a formal letter is received. Vitelli has resigned effective Friday.

Mailer Indicted In Death Of I-J Aide

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The county grand jury voted indictments last night against a mailer's union member in connection with the shooting death of an Independent-Journal employee last month.

Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter J. Guibbini said the panel voted to indict Frank J. Thurber, 45, of San Bruno, on four counts: Murder, burglary, robbery and conspiracy to commit assault and robbery by means of force.

The I-J employee, Allan W. Daly, a computer specialist, was shot July 4 when two young men invaded his San Francisco home. He died July 16.

Two San Bruno teen-agers, Larry G. Rutherford, 16, and Richard A. Wamsley, 17, have admitted shotting Daly and have been sentenced to long-term commitment with the California Youth Authority. According to police, the pair said they had been promised money for robbing Daly, but had not been paid.

Giubbini said following the grand jury session that Monday night's testimony would be made public later in the week.

He said 10 persons testified, including Daly's widow, Stephanie, and the two teen-agers.

Thurber, being held under $250,000 bail, is scheduled to appear again in municipal court on Friday.

He is a member of San Francisfo Mailer's Union 18, affiliated with San Francisco Typographical Union 21, on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7. Thurber is employed by the San Francisco Printing Co., which prints the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner.

Daly was shot after two youths forced their way into his Portero Hill home, demanded money and slugged him with a pipe. The pair took a purse containing $5 from the home, but police found the purse and money outside.

Burglary Suspect Pleads Innocent

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $12,500 and set a preliminary hearing for Friday at 11 a.m.

Brockman was arrested Sunday when Sonoma County sheriff's deputies said they found him inside the Valley Patio Restaurant, Sonoma, after it had closed.

Budget Hearing Set

A public budget hearing of the Fairfax School District trustees will be held tonight at 7:45 p.m. at the district office, 58 Park Road, and not last night as erroneously announced in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Uncle Sam Taketh Away And Uncle Giveth Back

One of the most enticing lures to governing boards — be they of state, county, school district or city — is the federal grant.

The board members realize that a federal grant is just getting back some of the money the federal government has taken from the taxpayers. But the rationale is, "If we don't get it, someone else will. We might as well have it here as have the money go to Oskaloosa."

Most of the federal grants require "matching funds." But these, too, have been made painless by the provision that all or part of them may be in services instead of cash. It is easy for the city fathers of San Anselmo or Novato or wherever to say that a federal grant for master-planning or urban renewal or whatever "won't cost us much" when the major portion of the city's share can be furnished in services. Of course, if the city's staff must spend its time preparing the data the federal agency wants, it cannot use that same time to do the jobs for which it was hired — but this is a technicality seldom mentioned.

A STUDY JUST completed by Tax Foundation, Inc., shows that even the "get it here or it will go to Oskaloosa" rationale is of doubtful validity, however.

Out of $19.6 billion federal grants-in-aid to tsates and localities in 1969, according to Tax Foundation, only $2.6 billion represented redistribution among states.

The remaining $17 billion went back to the same states where it had been collected in federal taxes.

Nineteen of the 50 states paid more toward the grants-in-aid than they got back, according to the tabulation.

California was one of these 19. California received the largest amount of federal grants-in-aid of any of the 50 states, a total of $2.21 billion. But Californians paid $2.24 billion in federal taxes for it. In other words, Californians paid $1.01 for each $1 they got back.

The redistribution was similarly close in several other states. In fact, it was exactly even in Nebraska — $1 back for every $1 paid in. Texas and Oregon got $1 of aid for 99 cents.

Alaska got the big break — $1 from Uncle Sam for every 28 cents paid him. Delaware and New Jersey fared the worst, getting back only $1 for $1.67 paid.

Of course, the state and local matching funds are in addition to these amounts.

WHAT IT ALL comes down to is this:

The federal government promotes a "program." This is to be a "partnership" or "sharing" with state or local government.

The big dollar figures fascinate the local politicians and bureaucrats. They want to get in on it before all the money is gone. So they apply for a grant.

When they get the grant, the usual result is that local costs increase to cover the matching fund provision, and when that and the federal money is spent, the state, city or school district is little the better for it.

Meantime, of course, it has cost the taxpayers money they wouldn't otherwise have had to pay.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Nixon As McLuhan Adds New Wrinkle

By ARNOLD SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If "the medium is the message" means "it's not so much what you say as how and where you say it," the White House seems to be trying to put Marshall McLuhan's theory into practice. The practice of indicating how important the President regards an announcement by the form of its delivery is not new. In every recent administration, you could tell if something was a really big deal if the President himself announced it. It took on less importance if a Cabinet member or presidential aide made the announcement at the White House, and if it was left for a department or agency to make public, you were dealing with small change.

NOW, A NEW wrinkle. The White House recently released the report and recommendations of President Nixon's adviser on youth and campus unrest, Alexander Heard, in a form few can recall seeing before.

Usually, in such a report, the recommendations, if any, seize the attention. But in the Heard report, the proposals were almost secondary, because the White House also made public the private memoranda submitted to the President by the Vanderbilt University chancellor and his chief colleague, Dr. James Cheek, president of Howard University.

Such memos are traditionally regarded as nobody's business but the President's, and a major flap usually ensues when one is leaked to the press. Witness the delayed disclosure of Daniel P. Moynihan's memo to Nixon earlier this year on the subject of administration attitudes toward blacks.

THE WHITE HOUSE, in the parlance of professional golf, may have "gone to school" on the results of that episode. Everyone seemed willing to believe that because it was private communication, the memorandum was much more significant than the public utterances of either Moynihan or Nixon.

Enter Heard and his advice to Nixon to listen to the complaints of students, blacks and political dissenters about his administration. For the White House simply to release the report — even if Nixon personally accepted it in a public ceremony and gave it his on-the-spot endorsement — might not convince those who doubted his sincerity from the start.

So, the White House may have reasoned, don't worry about the ceremonial aspects of releasing the Heard report. Instead, give it — and the President's interest in it — credibility by disclosing the very words Heard and Cheek used in telling the President what they thought.

FOR WHITE HOUSE reporters accustomed to being told that the President and whoever he has been talking to "had a useful exchange of views," it was a refreshing switch to have access to the inside dialogue of decision-making. Especially when Cheek and Heard said blunt things such as, "We do not believe our national government really understands that a national crisis confronts us," and "The young may be telling us things we ought to hear."

But the two college heads also had some other things to say, such as proposing that the administration really move to alleviate the pinch of rising costs that threaten the education of poor and-or black students.

Some of their recommendations, like getting more blacks into policy-making jobs in the administration, may be hard to carry out. Those and other proposals and what is done about them eventually will become the real basis for judging the Heard report and Nixon's reaction to it.

The medium may indeed be the message, but that axiom still does not replace an older truth: The proof of the puddings is in the eating.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

If A-Bomb Hit Washington, It Could Defoliate Cherry Trees

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — We were trying to work up a little comedy out of a legislator's handout that crossed our desk the other day, when our attention was diverted to the lead paragraph in a story in a San Francisco daily newspaper.

We decided to retract our intended standoffish remarks about amateur handout writers.

The handout began: "Red Rock State Park took a giant step forward this week . . ."

We are used to giant steps and legislative firsts out of these authors, and were resisting the temptation to revive the old saw about Wheeling, West Virginia.

THEN OUR EYE fell on the following lead, written by the professionals of one of our most revered wire services or one of our practically peerless metropolitan journals — we don't know which.

It was datelined Prince Rupert, B.C., and it said:

"The Alaska ferry Taku, with 342 persons aboard, crunched hard aground on West Kinahan island early yesterday, and oil spilling from her ruptured tanks threatened to pollute the harbor of this north coastal British Columbia Seaport."

WE BEGAN to fool with a few leads of our own.

NEW YORK (CNS) — A manhattan-bound BMT local carrying an estimated 1,000 commuters exploded in the subway two blocks short of Times Square station and billows of smoke from the resulting conflagration threatened to pollute the atmosphere of this port city.

CHICAGO (CNS) — A speeding four-car Jackson Park express, with 600 homeward-bound rush-hour passengers aboard, careened off the elevated structure at Indiana Avenue, strewing splintered and smouldering debris on nearby streets, threatening a breakdown of this city's litter laws.

RIO DELL (CNS) — The greatest forest fire in California's history roared out of control and from four directions approached the edges of this tiny woods community of 4,000 souls, threatening to bring about the town's first smog alert.

MILWAUKEE (CNS) — The car ferry, Milwaukee Clipper, bearing 300 passengers and 150 automobiles, sank without a trace 20 miles offshore here last night, threatening the Lake Michigan habitat of the coho salmon.

SAN FRANCISCO (Special from the Chronicle) — The Chronicle building, crowded with an estimated 2,000 workers, collapsed and crumbled to the street in a cloud of dust today, threatening to interrupt the press run on the Three-Star Final.

QUEENSTOWN, IRELAND (CNS) — The S.S. Titanic . . .

Well, you can take it from there. It's a great game with unlimited possibilities, and anyone can play. Make up a few of your own.

OUR 14-YEAR-OLD boy caught it the second time around.

"What happened to all the people, dad?" he inquired.

Well, in the third paragraph, we are all relieved to learn that the people made it to safety. The passengers and most of the crew were taken off without incident, and a skeleton crew was left aboard.

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 4, 1960

Marin residents protested the state Division of Highways' plan for a four-lane freeway along the shoreline from Highway 101 to 2.8 miles south of Olema.

20 YEARS AGO

Aug. 4, 1950

Gov. Earl Warren estimated that California would need one million civilian defense workers in the event of an atomic attack.

John Taylor, managing owner of San Rafael General Hospital, reported the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of San Francisco would have a mobile station at the hospital, the first in Marin.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What's Happening To People, Courts?

What on earth is happening to our people and courts?

An old man that cannot contain himself any longer, goes behind a tree and relieves himself and someone sees him and turns him in and he is held under observation, but some of our younger people can stand on the streets and highways nude and being sexual and no one says a thing. You can't take your children for a drive any more, it is so terrible.

You talk to people about these things and they say, well times are changing and all I have got to say is, it is a hell of a change.

Do you people really want your children to grow up like that? Please help to do something about it.

I only speak of what I see with my own eyes.

Say It Isn't So About Orphan Annie

What happened to Little Orphan Annie? Did the I-J sink so low as to drop the one good comic strip it carried? Say it isn't so.

I am sure my voice will be but one of many that demands the immediate return of that ageless symbol of all that is good and fair and decent in life. What else is left to remind me that justice always triumphs in the end? Who remains to carry the banner for America in the fight against bigotry and intolerance? Who?

Return Annie, Daddy Warbucks, Sandy, Asp and all the rest to their proper place. Let's have at least one strip that tells a story from day to day. Drop out the Drop Outs!

Complaint Misses Point Of Cartoon

(This letter is in reply to Patricia Brown of Fairfax, whose letter appeared in your paper this evening, regarding the POW cartoon of July 23.)

I think your comments pathetic! If the Oriental, in this case, the North Vietnamese, Pathet Laos, and Viet Cong, had humane spirit in their hearts, cartoonists would not have to portray such "unfunny" subject matter, to quote your own words.

The purpose of that cartoon was to alarm the public about a very tragic situation — that of over 1500 American prisoners of war and missing in action in Southeast Asia. The whole point is that there are over 3,000 dependents in our United States who do not know anything about their husbands, fathers, sons, brothers. Are they alive, dead, sick, wounded, where are they? Families wait and wonder and I might add that some of these families have been waiting for over six years! Hanoi signed the Geneva Convention of 1949 on June 28, 1957 which deals with prisoners of war. Her government has refused to grant American prisoners of war even the most basic requirements: (1) Refuses to release the names of prisoners; (2) refuses to permit impartial inspection of prison camps; (3) refuses to release the sick and wounded; (4) refuses to permit prisoners to communicate with their families and each other. I am asking you to think twice. Perhaps you will write Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam, requesting they abide by the rules of the Geneva Convention.

If they do, and our families waiting at home at last know if their husbands, fathers, sons, or brothers are alive as prisoners or dead and no longer just missing in action, then perhaps I might believe that North Vietnam has a heart.

Statistics Show Tourist Value

(Reprinted from Santa Rosa Press Democrat)

Statistics are not the most enjoyable reading in the world, but sometimes the facts they reveal are important.

A ponderous annual study by Sales Management Magazine ranks every metropolitan county in the United States by income of its residents and by retail sales in important categories of business.

It shows that in Sonoma County, the national ranking for automobile sales was 160th place out of the leading 200 metropolitan counties, with a dollar-volume of $63,154,000.

But in the category of eating and drinking places, the national ranking was 131st place with $27,572,000 in sales; and in gasoline service station sales the ranking was 123rd place with $32,503,000 in sales.

Here you have a county that is in the bottom 25 per cent of all metropolitan counties in sale of automobiles — but up 29 notches in restaurant business and up 37 places in sales of gasoline for cars.

The reason, of course, is that most car sales are to county residents — but tourists and visitors buy gasoline and eat in restaurants.

Sonoma County has unique natural attractions for visitors, but it takes skilled promotion to bring them here.

Wise and effective use of transient room-tax revenue, which is what brings in the visitors, is probably the most profitable investment of public revenue that the county and its cities can and do make.

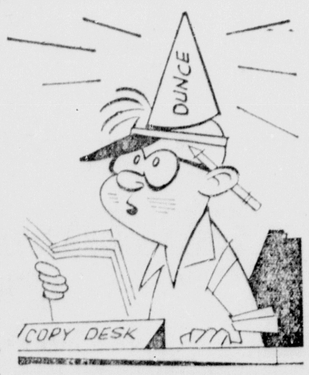
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

The world's greatest pessimist apparently is a proofreader in Kentucky, for this is the way the weather forecast read in a recent edition of his newspaper: "There is less than a five per cent chance of tonight and tomorrow."

A feud between a certain newspaper editor in a town in Indiana, and a prominent doctor in the same bailiwick became so heated that the editor was forbidden by the courts to so much as mention the doctor's name in his paper henceforth. The editor found an opportunity, however, to sink the harpoon in the doctor's hide by printing the following note on the front page one morning:



"Joe Kimball, our distinguished fire chief, enters our town's only hospital tomorrow for a routine check-up. He will leave a wife and seven children."

Empire Salazar Held Lives Beyond His Death

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

Portuguese flags fluttering at half staff in memory of former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar marked the end of an era which had covered nearly 40 years.

The old man died without knowing he had been removed from power as result of the stroke which felled him some 22 months ago and that gradually change was coming to the Portugal he had ruled as a stern but kindly father for so many years.

Tenacity was a characteristic of Salazar and perhaps it was tenacity which kept him alive so many months after those around him had despaired so many times.

And it was a tribute to that tenacity that he was able to ignore the winds of change that toppled empires and created independent states out of former colonies and that with his passing Portugal remained one of the great colonial powers controlling lands 20 times the size of metropolitan Portugal.

The Portuguese don't call them colonies, in Africa Mozambique, Angola and Portuguese Guinea. They call them provinces, as much a part of Portugal as any province of the European motherland.

And they intend to keep them.

Salazar's successor, Premier Marcello Caetano put it this way:

It is, he said, national policy to hold the African provinces at all costs and not just "the result of Dr. Salazar's personal obstinacy."

IT HAS BEEN a high price for Portugal whose annual per capita income of around $400 makes it the poorest country in western Europe.

Each year defense of the African provinces consumes 45 per cent of the Portuguese budget, or around $400 million. In Angola, Portugal maintains 55,000 troops, in Mozambique, 45,000 and in Portuguese Guinea 25,000.

Since the Angola revolt broke out in 1961, the government admits approximately 2,000 Portuguese troops have been killed.

AND YET, if Portugal can hold out against the unfriendly black African nations on her African provincial borders and against a mounting chorus of discontent at home, the payoff could be enormous. And there are elements working in her favor.

Despite swimpy or no relations at all with such African nations as Zambia or the Congo, both continue to ship their copper via Angola's Benguela Railroad.

Both give short shrift to any guerrillas who interfere with this railroad commerce. A leader of one such guerrilla band who dared to break the unwritten rules, was shot.

ANGOLA HAS OIL in enormous quantities, enough to erase completely the fears of white-controlled Rhodesia and South Africa that some day they might be cut off from oil.

American Gulf has invested $125 million in Angolan oil and other American interests are investing in a vast cattle raising program.

In Mozambique and Angola hydroelectric projects costing nearly $1 billion either are in the building or planning stage. They will be the biggest in Africa.

Speculation Abounds At Cotati Over New College President

Summers on college campuses were once leisurely times with most students away on a respite and professors catching up on research and reading material for the coming semester.

Such is not the case at Sonoma State College, where rumors abound and everyone wants to speculate about the selection of a new president in September.

The appearance of the chancellor's investigating team spoiled the summer for many, while others were pleased at the chance to get gripes off their chests.

RARE IS the person who thinks all is perfect at the college. Most can only wonder what types of recommendations will result from the investigation.

Some feel the report will include only minor recommendations such as urging larger class sizes, larger class loads for instructors, and tighter administrative procedures.

Others feel the report could well be the operational guidelines for the new president to follow. If the guidelines insist on greater restrictions on students and campus activities — and if they are matched by a similarly stricter president — the entire atmosphere of the school could be changed.

FORMER PRESIDENT Ambrose Nichols, recuperating in Europe from his 10-year tour of duty, was known as an easy-going type who gave the students the benefit of the doubt whenever possible.

His trust was not always repaid by the students' actions, which some feel gave the college the reputation of being an "anything goes school."

Transfers from other state colleges are reported higher than usual this year, with some of the students apparently coming with expectations of finding a looser atmosphere.

These expectations may not be fulfilled if stricter controls are put into effect as many predict.

Not only would the new president have to convince continuing students that the new way is, indeed, better, but he would have to deal with the disappointed militants who transferred from other schools.

Tiburon Embarks On Open Space Program

The Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission has embarked on preparation of an open space element for the city's master plan, according to Asst. City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert.

Persons interested in serving on a committee that will advise the commission on such a plan should leave their names with him at city hall.

The commission hopes for as much "people input" as possible to advise the city on parks, open space and recreation, Kleinert said.

"The commission, advised by the citizens committee, will do the bulk of the work on the report," Kleinert said, "and will hire an outside consultant to complete the work that it can't handle."

The commission hopes to finish the report by the end of 1971, he said.

Tiburon Parks, Recreation Commission Also:

PARKS — Ratified a citizens' committee recommendation that the city purchase three acres of land near the Hilarita site for future parks, and further recommended the purchase of 1.5 acres of flat land for active recreation.

AYALA DAY — Heard a report that the Ayala Day Committee is searching Angel Island for a site to install a historical marker as part of Ayala Day festivities Sept. 26.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Aug. 20 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Viet Policy Heads To Polls

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A "popularity poll" on the Vietnam War seems headed for the city's Nov. 3 election ballot.

The Bay Area Peace Action Committee filed a petition bearing 25,000 signatures Monday to force a vote by residents on whether they favor an "immediate ceasefire and immediate withdrawal" from Vietnam.

If half the signatures are valid, the referendum will go on the ballot. City officials said between 60 and 70 per cent of the signatures are valid in most petition drives—so the war should qualify.

If it does, it will be the second time in three years that San Franciscans ballot on the issue. In 1967 they rejected by a 2-1 margin a referendum calling for withdrawal of American troops.

Student Offers $25 For Notes

A Corte Madera law student is offering a $25 reward for law school notes stolen, along with other items, from his automobile last week.

John Cooper of the Golden Gate Trailer Park, 2000 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, said he needs the notes for a California State Bar examination Aug. 25.

He is a student at Hastings College of Law in San Francisco and can be reached through P.O. Box 926, San Rafael.

Tape Deck, 11 Tapes Stolen From Auto

A stereo tape deck, FM tuner and 11 tapes worth a total of $100 were stolen between 7 p.m. Thursday and 1 p.m. Friday from an auto parked at the Clipper Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police said today.

Entrance to the auto, belonging to Brian J. Hufft of Pleasanton, was gained by forcing a wing window, police reported.

ART BUCHWALD

Way To Check Wife's 'Household Fatigue'—Take Her On A Trip

WASHINGTON — Many husbands don't realize it but their wives are suffering from "household fatigue," a state similar to the battle fatigue of World War II, only more difficult to recognize. I probably would have never realized that my wife was a victim of it if I hadn't decided to take her with me to Cincinnati, where I had to make a speech. She seemed quite normal preparing for the trip and even appeared to be excited about geting away from the house for a few days. But when we arrived at the airport, I noticed her behavior had started to change.

As I paid for our airline tickets, she said to the man behind the counter, "Just a minute. Where are our green stamps?"

"Madam, we don't give green stamps to our customers for using our airline."

"Is that so? Well, we'll just use another airline that does."

"Mother," I said, "none of the airlines gives green stamps and besides, this is the only airline that goes to Cincinnati."

I calmed her down and thought nothing more of it until we got on the plane. The first thing she did was start to dust the seats.

"Mother, you don't have to do that," I said.

"I'm not going to have the neighbors think I keep a dirty plane."

"But they have people to do this sort of thing. Now sit by the window and fasten your safety belt."

I got her to sit down quietly and gave her a magazine to ready. Soon as the plane was in the air she was up, "I've got to prepare lunch," she said.

"THEY HAVE STEWARDESSES to prepare lunch. You don't have to do anything."

"Well, I have to get the meat out of the freezer."

She sat back for a few moments, but then one of the stewardesses spilled a cup of coffee in the aisle. My wife jumped up and said, "Don't worry about a thing." She took a container of Mr. Clean from her make-up kit and on her hands and knees, worked on getting out the spot.

"There," she said after 15 minutes, "Mr. Clean does everything."

Everybody looked away in embarrassment.

AN HOUR LATER, luncheon was served. There were two children sitting across the aisle from us, but they didn't seem to be eating their vegetables.

My wife looked over and shouted at them, "If I've told you kids once, I've told you a hundred times. You don't eat your vegetables, you don't get dessert."

"Mother, mother," I said gently, "those are not OUR children."

"I don't care," she said, "I'm sick and tired of preparing meals on this plane that nobody wants to eat."

"YOU'RE ALWAYS defending them," she said angrily. "No wonder they have such bad table manners. Sit up," she shouted at the little boy, "or you can go to bed right now."

Fortunately the parents of the children were preoccupied, and my wife decided to go back and help the stewardesses wash the dishes. By the time we reached Cincinnati, she had cleaned all the windows, washed the ash trays, laundered the napkins and changed the curtains in the bar.

By the time we arrived in Cincinnati the plane was neat as a pin.

Happily, after a few days her household fatigue has started to leave her. She hasn't yelled at anybody else's kids in 24 hours and just this morning she let the chambermaid make up our bed. In another day or two she may even stop clearing the dishes in the hotel dining room. At least she promised me she'd try.

Youth Suspects Booked In Theft

Two youths were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall today on suspicion of grand theft after they allegedly stole a 16-foot motor boat from the Corinthian Yacht Harbor in Belvedere.

Police said William R. Rinkenberger, 13, of Napa, and Jeff T. Caprin, 15, of Salt Lake City, took the boat from its mooring late last night and rowed it to the mouth of the harbor, where they started the motor with a key.

After cruising in San Francisco Bay in the vicinity of Sausalito, the pair returned the craft to the harbor at 1:30 a.m. where they were seen by its owner, Pat O'Brien, of 2130 Redwood Highway, Greenbrae, a San Francisco policeman. O'Brien called police and the youths were arrested as they stepped onto the dock.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Housing Authority of the County of Marin will receive bids for Repair and Overlay of Parking Areas, Construction of Drainage Facilities, and Reconstruction of Sidewalks and Patios, Marin City, California, until 2:00 P.M. on the 17th day of August, 1970, at the Administration Office of the Housing Authority, Marin City, California, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of Hoffman & Albritton, 35 Mitchell Blvd., San Rafael, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty (30) days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the Housing Authority has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is on file at the office of the Housing Authority and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids may be withdrawn by written or telegraphic notice provided such notice is received prior to the time set for the opening of bids. The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bonds. The performance and payment bonds shall each be in an amount of 50% of the contract price. The cost of the performance and payment bonds shall be included in the bid price.

All bids will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Invitation to Bid, Bid Form, Instructions to Bidders, General Conditions, Special Conditions, Form of Statement of Bidder's Qualifications, and the drawings.

The Housing Authority of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

HAPPY REVERSAL—Pamela Finn (right) lost a prospective summer job at a restaurant but the Neighborhood Youth Corps came to her rescue. MANY NEED FUNDS

Young People In Marin Find Summer Jobs Mighty Scarce

By LARRY MOWELL

Summer is a time for many students to stretch lazily on the beach or take a leisurely trip, but for others it's also a time to earn money vitally needed to stay in school.

The lucky ones find a job at the family business or return to a recreation job they've held for several years. Others stumble onto jobs in private business, but a great many will find themselves short of needed funds after an idle, unproductive summer, according to figures released by youth employment groups.

More than 14,000 students 16 and older flooded an already tight Marin labor market when schools let out in June, and about 1,400 went to government agencies in search of summer jobs. The result: only about 600 could be accomodated, the rest being turned away.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps has placed 150 young people, but another 20 to 30 had to look elsewhere, director James E. McKenna said.

Since the youth corps, which pays $1.55 per hour for up to 300 hours' work with federal and county funds, is open only to those from poverty level families, according to McKenna, those turned away suffer hardships.

The youth corps was originally allocated $65,000 in federal funds and $10,000 in county funds for 120 jobs, but McKenna squeezed an additional $12,000 from federal coffers for another 30 positions. The jobs are with non-profit and tax-supported agencies in Marin.

She had lined up a job at the Dock restaurant in Tiburon for the summer, but it fell through in early June. The Neighborhood Youth Corps rescued her from a jobless summer by offering her work with the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department as a recreation aide, she said recently while supervising youngsters at Coleman School.

She qualified because her father draws Medi-Cal payments for a weak heart and diabetes and her mother supports five children working as a switchboard operator, she said.

Although working only 22 hours a week, she said, "It's a good thing I got this job because the things my parents would have had to buy me I can buy myself."

Most of her earnings, however, go into the bank for college.

"I might be a teacher," she said. "I wanted to be a pediatrician, but I don't have the money for that."

The youth corps places people with 61 agencies that range from the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council to the Marinwood Fire Department, various parks and recreation departments and Hamilton Air Force Base.

City summer job programs are restricted to recreation posts and a few public works jobs.

The city of San Rafael has by far the largest summer job program. It hired 85 for parks and recreation, but turned away more than 150.

Mill Valley rejected about 175 while hiring only 25. Novato picked a total of 22 from more than 100 applicants. San Anselmo took only 15 from more than 100 and would have had more applicants if it had continued to accept them.

Larkspur-Corte Madera and Fairfax also had few jobs and many applicants.

For the mass of young people who cannot get municipal jobs and do not qualify for youth corps positions, the final recourse is the employment office at the state Department of Human Resources Development in San Rafael.

Robert W. Smith, youth coordinator for the department, said last week that about 275 jobs have been found for youth, but many have been for only one day or one week. At least 300 others could not even get one day of work, he said.

Why the dearth of jobs for youth? Government officials said the money squeeze is restricting their programs.

Private employers often don't want a young person for the summer when they can hire a man thrown out of work by the downshifted economy.

One parks director who asked to remain anonymous blamed unions. He noted that young people can no longer get jobs they commonly held in his youth because the positions are now unionized.

He said he had placed six students in summer jobs who soon lost them because of union pressure on the employer.

State Employment Count: 8.19 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The slowing economy has continued to shade the employment picture in California, the state Human Relations Agency reported today.

Total employment for California reached 8.19 million in June but "the measurement of growth from a year ago narrowed to 100,000—the smallest year-to-year rise since mid-1961," the agency said in its monthly report.

Although the May-June advance of 94,000 was near-seasonal in size, the report said, "a portion of this gain stemmed from the return of Teamsters following a strike settlement.

"Restraining the summer expansion in total employment were additional cuts in aerospace manufacturing jobs, the release of some of the temporary workers hired for the 1970 census, the start of a number of trade disputes and a relatively small increase for this time of year in construction employment."

Overall, unemployment increased by 68,000 between May and June to 540,000.

The adjusted jobless rate in the Los Angeles-Long Beach area was 5.5 per cent in June, down from the May rate of 5.6 per cent, but up from the 4.0 per cent rate of a year ago.

In the San Francisco-Oakland area the rate at 4.9 percent was below the 5.1 per cent May rate but up from the 3.9 per cent rate of a year ago.

Couple Sentenced After Guilty Plea

Steven Glen Baker, 20, and his wife Gayel, 24, who were arrested April 30 when narcotics agents found their San Rafael motel room full of an estimated $100,000 in drugs, were sentenced yesterday in superior court.

The husband, who pleaded guilty to possessing morphine, was sentenced to the California Rehabilitation Center program. Mrs. Baker, who admitted possession of barbiturates, was given a suspended sentence, placed on three years' supervised probation, ordered to take narcotics tests as requested by her probation officer and handed a 90-day county jail sentence, with 60 days of it stayed so long as she cooperates with her probation officer.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also declared the woman's offense a misdemeanor.

Kentfield Trustees Set Budget Hearing

The Kentfield School District board will hold a public hearing on its $1,450,000 publication budget at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Wolfe Grade School.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich said the hearing was the only item on tomorrow's agenda.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

No Scientific Evidence Proves Shaving Affects Hair Growth

A Detroit woman writes: "Not long ago, you wrote about a man who was tired of shaving and wanted to use a depliatory to remove his beard. I'm asking for equal time and would appreciate your opinion on women using a razor to cut off facial hair."

Be it man or woman, shaving is safer and quicker than depilatories. It has been estimated that more than 85 per cent of all American women over the age of 14 use a safety razor or electric shaver to remove the hair on their legs and under the arms.

More than half of these ladies are razornappers whose habit provokes considerable marital discord.

BUT ONLY A small percentage of these women use a razor on their face. They prefer plucking or electrolysis. Depilatories and waxes also are used. There are, however, no valid medical reasons against women shaving the face.

We assume the ladies regard the method as too masculine or, perhaps, they have the mistaken idea that shaving makes the hair more coarse.

The latter is an understandable misconception and arises from two sources. When a boy begins to shave, he soon develops a beard, not because he shaved, but because he is maturing.

SHAVING ALSO CUTS off the hair at or above the surface of the skin. On regrowing, the short hair is less flexible than a long hair and feels more bristly. Actually there is no scientific evidence that shaving affects either the color, texture, or rate of hair growth. All too often women decide to remove their superfluous hair at a time when it is thicker due to natural causes.

SAFETY RAZORS have also been specially designed for females but many women ignore the preliminaries. For example, no man would think of shaving dry skin. Wet hair is soft, pliable, and 75 per cent easier to cut. Applying a shaving cream or lather lubricates the skin and holds in the water.

And never use your husband's discarded blades. Chances are they are dull. And, take your time, if you wish to escape nicks and cuts.

((Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EXTRA INCHES AND POUNDS

P. M. writes: How many pounds are added for every extra inch of height? What I mean is, if a 5' person weighs so much, how much more would a person 5' 4" normally weigh?

REPLY

A rough estimate is 2 pounds to the extra inch for women and 2½ pounds for men. The body build and muscular development must be taken into consideration, too.

TWIN OR DOUBLE?

Mrs. S. A. writes: My two young daughters are too big for a youth bed. More than half the time they sleep in the same bed, even though each has her own. We are buying new furniture for their room but don't know whether to get twin beds or a double bed. Are there any health advantages to sleeping alone?

REPLY

Yes, it is more restful.

SMALL NERVE TUMOR

B. M. E. writes: I have a very painful foot ailment which my doctor calls Morton's neuroma. Please tell me something about this ailment.

REPLY

Hydrant Tests Set

The Tamalpais Valley Fire Department will flow-test its fire hydrants in the Tamalpais woods area near Marin Drive tomorrow morning, according to Chief Richard K. Oswald. Residents may experience brief loss of pressure between 8 a.m. and noon, he said.

Corte Maderans Booked For Pot Possession

Corte Madera police yesterday raised what one officer called the "beginnings of a crash pad," and arrested two Corte Madera men on suspicion of possessing marijuana, hashish, narcotics and paraphernalia for using the drugs.

Booked into Marin County Jail yesterday were John Wayne Edmister, 20, and James Christopher Haney, 21, both of 444 Oakdale Avenue. Both men remained in jail with bail set at $1875 and were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Sgt. George W. Koehler said today the raid was staged at 1 p.m. with two other officers, after he observed marijuana plants growing in a large planter outside the pair's home and secured a search warrant.

He reported confiscating several hundred suspected marijuana seeds, a small quantity of white powder substance, nine suspected marijuana plants, three pipes used to smoke the weed and a plastic bag of hashish.

Two cameras worth $300, two lenses valued at $250 and a $40 light meter were reportedly taken by the burglar who broke a glass door to the lab to gain admittance after attempting to pry open the lock.

Reagan Considers Tours To Fuel Budget Pressure

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today was reported considering personal appearances throughout California to fuel local pressure for Senate passage of his stalemated tax program.

Twelve Democrats and a Republican derailed the $1 billion tax shift legislation on the Senate floor a week ago. Administration supporters reported no breakthrough in an intense effort to muster the two votes needed for approval.

"By the end of the week we'll know if we were able to crack any hard shells," Assemblyman William T. Bagley, the proposal's No. 1 engineer, told reporters.

"I think we've got to concentrate on hitting these guys at home where they can feel it," he said, explaining he meant a publicity campaign in the districts of holdout senators to dramatize the program's impact on homeowners.

Basically, the deadlocked legislation proposes shifting $1 billion away from local property taxes during the next four years and increased dependence on statewide and business-oriented taxes.

George Steffes, legislative secretary to Reagan, said the governor "intends that every person in a (senate) district that is going to be denied property tax relief should fully understand why."

He said that no firm decisions had been reached on how Reagan would get his message across but possibilities included a "personal effort by the governor around the state to let people know exactly what is going on."

But Steffes added, "that's only one alternative. We haven't got to that point."

When the two-bill tax program was stalled in the assembly last May, Reagan warned that "if necessary" he would personally campaign in the districts of the lawmakers who blocked his program and identify them as those who denied tax reform to citizens.

Several Democrats welcomed the warning. A week later the program was passed overwhelmingly by the lower house.

Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, who has actively lobbied Democratic lawmakers in the Senate chamber to change their votes indicated relaxation in that effort.

Bruce Sees S. Vietnam Negotiator

Leaving the South Vietnamese delegation headquarters near the fashionable Avenue Foch, Bruce limited himself to saying, "we have just had an exchange of views."

"We exchanged views on the problems we have to face together," he said. The two men met once before last week in Saigon. Bruce went there on a fact-finding tour before taking up his post in Paris.

Asked if Bruce had shown him a different approach than his U.S. predecessors, Lam said, "We are both on the same side and have to solve the same problems. It is too early to say anything."

Bruce and Lam were accompanied by their deputies, Philip C. Habib and Nguyen Xuan Phong. Habib was acting U.S. chief during eight months from the time ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge resigned until President Nixon appointed Bruce.

Judge Opposes Law Students'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The presiding judge of San Francisco Municipal Court opposes a State Bar program which would permit law students to appear in court in behalf of clients.

Judge Leo Friedman, in letters Monday to other judges, pointed to the State Business and Professions Code which says that "no person shall practice law in this state unless he is an active member of the State Bar."

"It follows that the Board of Governors (of the State Bar) was and it without power or authority to make any rule permitting any person, not a licensed attorney and not a member of the State Bar, to act as an attorney or lawyer in any court in this state," he said.

The bar's governors would permit law students to act under specified conditions, including sponsorship by an attorney and permission from the client. Its program is aimed at gaining practical experience for students.

Topsoil Mixture Proposal Approved With Conditions

Herman Supply Co. of San Rafael will be allowed to mix dirt and manure for topsoil use on the 500-acre Luiz ranch in Marinwood, but under strict conditions requested by the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association.

Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns yesterday announced he intends to grant a permit for 90 days with a series of conditions.

Hours will be limited from 8 a.m. to noon, the mixing will be limited to dirt already stockpiled, the operations must be moved farther away from homes, and a sprinkler system must be used to keep down the dust. Cairns said no trucks will be allowed on Mount McKinley, Mount Rainier and Idylberry drives.

Martin Kaufman of 75 Mount Ranier and Joan Fernandez of 41 Mount Rainier complained that trucks on residential streets would endanger children, and dust would be intolerable, especially when winds come up in the afternoons. They also suggested that Herman Supply post a $25,000 bond to assure compliance with all conditions. Mrs. Gonzalez presented a protest petition signed by 121 homeowners of Upper Lucas Valley.

Cairns said he must check with the county counsel to see if the bond requirement is feasible, but that he would impose all the other conditions.

The deputy zoning administrator also:

DETACHED GARAGE — Approved a detached garage and storeroom for John G. Parratt at 9 Crescent Court in Woodacre on condition it will not be used for living quarters or guest room.

HEIGHT LIMIT — Granted E. J. Phelan permission to build a one-family home that would exceed the 30-foot height limitation at 60 De Burgh Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

MOBILE HOMES — Granted permission for Joseph Silveira to use a mobile home for hired help on his ranch at 4720 Redwood Highway, Marinwood; and extended for another year a mobile home for hired help on the Nicholas turkey breeding farms on the west side of Dillon Beach Road, about a mile and a half from Dillon Beach.

LOT SPLIT — Denied a lot split for William M. Powell at 15 Calle Del Ribera, Stinson Beach, because the split would create lots of 4,800 square feet where 7,500 square feet is required.

FIRE STATION — Permitted Tamalpais Fire Station No. 2 at 264 Evergreen Avenue in Homestead Valley to expand to within three feet at the rear property line, whether six feet is required, provided a fence be erected and landscaping plans be submitted for review.

San Rafael Approves Meeting Permit Policy

San Rafael City Council last night adopted an ordinance requiring police permits for meetings, assemblies and parades in public places.

There was no discussion since the proposal had been discussed at prior council sessions and there was no protest against the ordinance.

Exempted from the provisions are funeral processions, governmental agencies acting within the scope of their functions and educational activities under the direction and supervision of school authorities.

Application for a permit must be filed with the police chief not less than 20 days before a proposed public meeting or assembly.

The chief of police must approve or deny the permit at least eight days prior to the proposed event. If denied, the applicant can appeal to the city council.

Among the conditions for issuing a parade permit is a finding by the chief that: "The conduct of such activity is not reasonably likely to cause injury to person or property or to provoke disorderly conduct or create a disturbance."

Another finding the chief must make is that the activity will not require the diversion of so many police officers that it will prevent normal police protection to the city.

The ordinance also states it shall be unlawful for any person "to unreasonably obstruct, impede or interfere with any parade, public meeting or assembly," for which a permit has been issued.

The ordinance will become effective Sept. 2.

San Rafael Little League Team Honored On Victory

San Rafael City Council last night paid tribute to the San Rafael American Little League team which won the Marin County Little League all-star championship Saturday.

The players were there in their red and white uniforms, filling up the first two rows of one side of the council chambers, backed by parents, friends and well-wishers.

They were carrying large signs reading, "San Rafael American Little League 1970 champs," and "Today, the County Champs — Tomorrow, the World Series."

Acting Mayor Fred E. Jensen, who had invited the squad to the meeting, presented the team with a civic award of achievement, a certificate for their feat of winning the county championship.

"We're all very proud of the Little Leaguers and the parents who took time and effort," Jensen said. "Maybe if more parents would do this, perhaps we wouldn't have some of the problems we have."

The players had arrived at city hall in a car caravan from San Rafael High School through downtown, the vehicles decorated with streamers, signs and balloons.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

PLANNING COMMISSION — Reappointed Chairman Joseph J. Garbarino of 30 Lochinvar Road, to the city planning commission for a four-year term, but postponed until Aug. 17 naming someone to fill the seat held by Commissioner John J. Adams, whose term has expired.

Quite A Performance For Juan To Follow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "Skip" Pitlock, a 22-year-old rookie pitcher, looked like a major league veteran Monday night when he spun a four-hitter against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The rangy, 6-foot-3-inch, 185-pounder struck out nine and walked two as the San Francisco Giants beat the Dodgers 5-2 before a crowd of 24,473.

He evened his record at 3-3 and pitched his first complete major league game.

"This was my biggest thrill in baseball," he said later as he sipped a soft drink. "Just going nine innings is my biggest accomplishment."

Willie McCovey gave Pitlock sufficient margin for victory in the first inning when he hit a three-run homer, his 26th of the year. He clobbered a 1-2 pitch off Bill Singer and the ball landed in the right field pavilion about 400 feet from home plate.

"There was no doubt in my mind that ball was going out but someone just asked me if I didn't hit it on the fists," McCovey snorted. "I can't honestly say how I hit Singer. He's a great pitcher. Nobody gets too many hits off him."

The Giants got four runs in the first. Bobby Bonds led off with a double. Tito Fuentes bunted safely. Ken Henderson singled to right, scoring Bonds from third. Then McCovey hit his blast and it was 4-0 with no outs. Jim Hart accounted for the final Giant run with an eighth-inning homer off Pete Mikkelsen.

Game On Television

Tonight's game in Los Angeles will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Singer gave no more runs, striking out nine in the seven innings he pitched. His record is now 8-4. He had a five-game winning streak halted.

Both runs off Pitlock were unearned because of a throwing error by Fuentes. Ted Sizemore got three of the four Dodger hits. He drove in both runs in the fourth inning with his first single.

Pitlock, like Singer, was laid low with hepatitis this year. He had the liver ailment in February, however, while Singer was victimized after the season started.

Pitlock also was spiked a few weeks ago by Felix Millan of Atlanta when he was covering first base but that injury has healed.

"I threw a lot of change-ups," said Pitlock. "And my slider was working well. The big thing is I was able to get the ball over the plate."

In the second and final game of the abbreviated series tonight, Don Sutton, 13-7, goes against Juan Marichal, 5-9.

"Marichal is beginning to look like the Marichal of old," manager Charlie Fox said. "Pitlock pitched a fine game. I didn't have to do any master-minding. All I did was kind of sit back and enjoy it as long as he was getting the ball over the plate."

Neither Side Claims Win In Money War

Sports

Independent-Journal, 29
Tuesday, August 4, 1970

NEW YORK (UPI)—The pro football war is over, but neither side is claiming victory.

Under heavy pressure from Commissioner Pete Rozelle, the club owners and NFL Players Association Monday ended five months of bitter negotiations by agreeing on a four-year contract of $19.1 million. The agreement came after a 22-hour bargaining session but did not meet the approval of either side.

"In a situation like this there is no winner, only agreement," said John Mackey, president of the Players Association and one of the prime leaders in the movement.

NOT HAPPY

"I still don't think either side is happy," said Ken Bowman of the Green Bay Packers and a member of the Players' negotiating committee. "We were told when the negotiations started that neither side would be happy. I'd estimate that we came down about 60 per cent from our original offer and they went up about 40 per cent. We got the best contract we could have gotten, but we still don't think it's representative of what a professional player should receive."

What the players got was a contract which calls for $4,785,000 annually to be contributed to the pension funds plus another $250,000 annually for other benefits.

The players also obtained disability payments for the first time, and additionally will receive increased payment for pre-season games and meal allowance on road trips to the sum of $2.6 million annually.

FAR LESS

While the benefits total an increase of $11 million based on 1969 levels, it was far less than the players hal hoped for and far more than the owners had wanted to give. One owner, who preferred to remain anonymous, admitted he was upset at the settlement.

"I'm not happy with the settlement, but it's done and I didn't think it was possible. I'm just exhausted," he said.

Even though the players were not totally satisfied with the deal, they were happy the long negotiations were finally over so they could go about the business of getting ready for the 1970 season.

TO CAMPS

As soon as the agreement was announced, veteran players, who had refused to report to the training camps until the contract was settled, began joining their respective teams. By late today all 26 clubs are expected to have their full compliment of players in camp. Of the 1,300 members of the Players Association, only 21 players crossed the picket lines.

"It's a great relief to us that we've finally concluded this," said Bill Curry of the Baltimore Colts. "I feel the most important thing is that the fans weren't cheated out of a game. It's a little unfortunate that public opinion seemed lined up against us but we wanted to play and we will."

"I don't care what they settled for, I'm just glad they did," said 265-pound tackle Ralph Neely of the Dallas Cowboys.

The settlement came just in time to avert postponement of Saturday's first round of exhibition games. If no agreement had been reached by Monday, lack of practice would have forced cancellation of the first 10 exhibition games and the owners would have lost nearly $1 million in receipts. The players would have lost about $250 apiece in each exhibition game.

AGREED

Both sides agreed that Rozelle was a major factor in getting the job finished. Rozelle had familiarized himself with both sides of the dispute and acted as mediator in the all-night negotiations.

"The commissioner was able to get the owners united behind an offer, that was the big thing," said Alan Miller, attorney for the Players Association. "We still consider him an owner's commissioner, but he does the job and does it well."

In their original demands the players had attempted to restrict the commissioner's authority, but they eased up on this demand. Except for the inclusion of an arbiter in injury-grievance cases, the power of the commissioner was not changed by the settlement.

Boxing Manager Throws In Towel

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —The manager of Mexican welterweight Ruben Rivera says his boy made such a poor showing when he was kayoed by Ernie (Indian Red) Lopez that he plans to cancel Rivera's next big fight.

Manager Dave Griffin threw in the towel in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Monday after Rivera was battered relentlessly by Lopez, the No. 2 welterweight. Rivera failed to tally a single point on official scorecards.

Foreman Tries To Prove His Worth Against Chuvalo

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Foreman, heavyweight champion in the 1968 Olympics, tries to prove tonight he is really ready to become a contender in the pro ranks when he fights George Chuvalo in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

And even if the 21-year-old Foreman is still untested as a professional, the oddsmakers have put all their faith in him by establishing him as a 3-1 favorite. The purses, however, are another matter with Foreman getting only $17,500 compared to Chuvalo's $50,000.

LAST BIGGIE?

Some believe it may be the 32-year-old Chuvalo's last big payday. He has been battered for 14 years as a professional fighter, running up a 59-15-2 record, including 51 knockouts. The scar tissue around his eyes now opens easily, and even in some of his recent victories he has come out looking like a bloodied loser.

In only 13 months, Foreman has established himself as the brightest prospect in the heavyweight division with 21 consecutive victories, including 18 kayoes, and experience is all that he will be lacking against the Canadian veteran.

SCRAP IRON

Foreman's biggest victories so far have been over Scrap Iron Johnson and Argentine Gregorio Peralta, who are hardly considered in the same class as Chuvalo.

Over the past three years, Chuvalo has run up 24 victories and 23 kayoes in 26 bouts, and only last December he got the biggest victory of his career with a knockout over Jerry Quarry. Chuvalo was in danger of being stopped by cuts when he landed the punch that knocked Quarry to his knees for a 10 count.

SIX STRAIGHT

Chupalo has won only three of eight previous Garden bouts while Foreman has six consecutive victories. Among the fighters who beat Chuvalo in the Garden were Floyd Patterson, Oscar Bonavena and Joe Frazier. Patterson and Bonavena both got title bouts after their victories, and Frazier went on to win the world heavyweight title.

Frazier, Patterson and Quarry are all expected to be sitting at ringside taking notes in hopes of getting to fight the winner.

Trevino Still Top Money Winner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lee Trevino, who was disqualified from last week's Westchester Classic because he missed his starting time, still leads in the PGA golf earnings with $120,976.

Brundage Assails U.S. Philosophy On Sports

DENVER (UPI) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said yesterday U.S. cities were handicapped in getting Olympic Games because the nation's sports appear so commercialized that it seems "we can't even play without being paid."

"I am ashamed to say that the Olympic philosophy is not well understood int he U.S.," Brundage said.

"We like to think of ourselves as the greatest sports nation in the world. We are anything but, and it's a national tragedy. We have turned sports over to the professionals, and this is wrong."

The 84-year-old Chicago businessman admitted he was surprised last May in Amsterdam when the Olympic committee awarded the 1976 Winter Olympic Games to Denver.

"Where amateur sport or the Olympic Games are concerned, the handicap of U.S. cities is magnified by the fact that to the rest of the world, our sport —especially in some of our educational institutions —is so thoroughly commercialized that it is alleged that we cannot even play without being paid.

"There is more than a little truth to this, I am ashamed to say, and generations of young students have been exposed to this distortion of values in our colleges, so many of which seem to be operating farms for the professional football and basketball leagues, hardly a project for a university."

In addition, Brundage said U.S. cities suffered from the serious handicap that despite billions of dollars in foreign aid, the United States has few friends.

"Moreover, the deluge of unfavorable publicity on racial and student disorders in this country in recent years has left a very bad impression internationally," he said. "Los Angeles (which sought the Summer Olympic Games) discovered this at Amsterdam."

Brundage, speaking to the Mile High Club, said the rest of the world simply cannot understand a system "where colleges are operating as farm teams for professional sports . . . where huge amounts of money are pumped into programs for a few elite athletes, rather than into broadbased efforts to provide physical education to the many."

Brundage said he had tried unsuccessfully for the past 50 years to get Americans to understand Olympic ideals.

Drake Back In Front Of Pack

The Drake Pirates scored three runs in the final inning to defeat Mill Valley, 5-4 last night and move back into first place in the southern division of the Marin County Joe DiMaggio Baseball League.

Steve Hale, who tripled home a run in the fifth inning, tied the score with a single in the seventh and then came home on a fielder's choice to bring the Pirates their 13th win in 17 games. They are now a half game in front of the second place Italian Club.

Seven Marin Water Skiers In Nationals

Seven Marin County water skiers, headed by world champion Mike Suyderhoud, will be competing in the U.S. national water ski meet Aug. 19 through 23 at Canton, Ohio.

The water skiers qualified for the nationals last weekend at the Western Regionals at Berkeley's Aquatic Park.

Thelma Salmas of Novato qualified in senior women's, 14-year-old Mike McGinley of Santa Venetia and 17-year-old Frank Demby Jr. of Terra Linda qualified in boys, while Suyderhoud made it in the men's division.

Suyderhoud, 20, was a triple champion at the regionals, winning tricks, slalom and jump, with a leap of 157 feet. In slalom he made 5 buoys at 36 miles per hour with a 40-foot line to tie the unofficial national record.

McGinley made it over the 100-foot mark for the first time in jumping, 106 feet, and Sharon Boivie was a double winner, in women's slalom (1½ buoys at 34 m.p.h. on a 43-foot line) and in tricks, 3,114 points.

Kreuger Leads 49er Veterans To Grid Camp

GOLETO, Calif. (UPI) — Veteran defensive tackle Charlie Kreuger, obviously chomping at the bit, led a group of eight veterans Monday into the training camp of the San Francisco 49ers.

Kreuger appeared within hours after settlement of the players-owners pension dispute was announced in NewYork.

Coach Dick Nolan said he expected the rest of the veterans in camp by this morning.

The 49ers will have nearly two full weeks of practice before opening their exhibition season Aug. 15 against the Cleveland Browns at Tampa, Fla.

ANGELS VS. A'S

Special Trip For Lefty

May, a lefthanded pitcher for the California Angels, blanked the Oakland Athletics 5-0 on five hits Monday night to notch his second shuttout of the season.

The Angels hopped on three Oakland pitchers for four runs in the fourth inning when they tied a team record with six straight hits.

SECOND PLACE

California broke its deadlock with Oakland to move into sole possession of second place in the American League West, seven games behind frontrunner Minnesota. But May, whose mediocre 6-7 record belies his effectiveness, figures the Angels wouldn't be there if Jackson was in the A's lineup.

"The last time I faced Jackson, he hit a two-run homer off me," said May. "He always hits well against me so I was glad to see him out of the lineup."

Angels Manager Lefty Phillips has so much faith in his lefthanded pitchers that he decided to fly another one to Oakland from the Hunter-Liggett Military Reservation near King City for tonight's game.

He's screwballer Clyde Wright (14-8) who threw a no-hitter the last time he faced the A's July 3. Wright will be flown to Oakland on a chartered plane in an effort to improve the Angels' second-place standing.

ODOM

Facing Wright will be smoke-balling righthander John Odom (4-5) who has been on the disabled list since June 20 with a sore elbow.

To make roof room for Odom's return to the roster, the A's sent infielder Jim Driscoll back to Iowa of the American Association,

A's Manager John McNamara also thought May pitched magnificently to hand the Athletics only their third loss in the last 14 games.

"Rudy did a helluva job against us and all of the credit belongs to him," said McNamara. "He got ahead of nearly all the hitters and then made them swing at his pitch."

May said his effort was the strongest since he blanked the White Sox earlier in the season.

"I didn't have to throw as many breaking balls this time because the guys gave me such a big lead," he said. "I just tried to get ahead of the hitters and stay there."

BIG INNING

Jim Fregosi singled to lead off the fourth and Ken McMullen popped up. Then the Angels rattled off a triple by Jim Spencer, doubles by Jay Johnstone and Bill Voss, a single by Joe Azcue, another double by May and an infield single that bounced off the plate by Sandy Alomar to score four runs and tie the club record for consecutive hits.

Alomar collected four singles to pace the California attack against five A's pitchers. Starter Jim Hunter lasted 3 1-3 innings before losing his ninth game against 15 wins.

PRO GOLFER CHI CHI RODRIGUEZ

A Funny Man In A Serious World

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I think most of the rules of golf stink."

Chi Chi Rodriquez is a little fellow, no more than 129 pounds after a full-course dinner, but he never shilly-shallies. You always know where he stands on any issue.

Rives McBee, a fellow pro on the tour, was sitting at the table when Rodriquez spoke up about what he thought of the rules of golf and McBee asked him what he meant.

"Exactly what I'm saying," Rodriquez said. "Most of the rules were written by guys who can't even break a hundred. I think what they let happen to Ben Hogan was awful. He had to get up in the middle of the night to play, they gave him a ridiculous starting time before 7:30 in the morning, and they knew he had to treat his legs before he went out. He never asked for a cart, he wouldn't, but that's what I mean about the rules of golf. What's wrong with letting someone have a cart in a tournament if he wants one. I like to walk myself but I'm all for giving anybody a cart who wants it."

"I disagree," McBee said.

"Why?" Rodriquez wanted to know.

"Rules are rules," McBee said. "Don't get me wrong: I think as much of Ben Hogan as anyone and it was a shame he had to withdraw after one round but if you're talking about rules I feel they should be the same for everyone and I'm sure Ben Hogan feels the same way about it."

"Golf is suffering from a lack of stars," Rodriquez said. "Without Palmer winning, golf is almost dead. The point I'm trying to make is that golf needs somebody like Ben Hogan — the same way baseball needs a Koufax, Mays or Mantle — and that golf should show somebody like him extra consideration."

"What do you mean by 'extra consideration?' ", Mc Bee asked Rodriquez as they sat talking during the final round of the Westchester Classic.

"If I'm a sponsor of a tournament and I'm lucky enough to have Ben Hogan in it, I'd get out there and carry him around the course myself if I had to," Rodriquez said. "That's how much I think of him. You know Dave Hill and I played with him in the only round he played."

McBee nodded.

"He showed me more class than any pro I have ever played with," said Rodriquez, who was born in Puerto Rico and has rubbed some of his playing partners the wrong way sometimes since joining the tour because he likes to cut up now and then. "He has more discipline than any man I've ever met. Whether he's shooting 60 or 80 he doesn't show his emotions. To me he is a man among men. 'Mr. Hogan' I call him. He was very nice to me. He said 'beautiful shot' a number of times and you could tell he wasn't simply saying it, he meant it. When he finished, just before he left, he put his arm around me and said he enjoyed playing with me."

Rodriquez and McBee, who looks and talks like Mickey Mantle and frequently is mistaken for him, conversed a while longer after which Chi Chi got up to pack his clubs for the next stop on the tour.

A 10-year-old boy, collecting autographs near the door of the clubhouse, asked Rodriquez for his and after Chi Chi obliged the youngster showed the signature to his father and told him he liked Rodriquez better than all the other golfers he had seen.

The father wanted to know why and the boy said:

"Because he's so funny. He even did a little dance on one hole, something like the Mexican Hat Dance. He seems like such a happy fella. All the others seem so serious."

Rodriquez is serious, too, in his way. He's serious and happy along with it. Not many are able to manage that. It's a little gift Chi Chi Rodriquez was born with.

Marti Given Lift By Golf Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)— Fred Marti likes to play golf in Columbus.

For the second straight year yesterday, the University of Houston graduate was the low pro in the fifth annual Columbus Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Marti's 33-33—66 over the 6,873-yard, par 72 Brookside Country Club course was one stroke better than Dave Eichelberger, and three shots better than a group of five other pros, including Jack Nicklaus and Larry Hinson who played to a dramatic second place tie Sunday in the Westchester Classic.

Marti earned only $1,000 of the $20,000 prize list for the charity event, but said the win would give him "a big lift."

Nicklaus, a hometown favorite of the gallery of about 12,000 birdied three of the first four holes, but played even the rest of the way for his 69. Others scoring 69s were Ted Hayes, John Lotz and Dick Crawford.

In at two under par 70s were Gene Littler, Doug Ford, Homero Blancas, Don Bies, Lee Elder and Jim Jamieson.

A foursome led by Bobby Cole, who shot a 71, captured the team event with a 16-under-par 56.

Cole's group was the last one on the course and edged the teams of Hinson and Hugh Royer, who were in at 57s. Six other teams cane in with 59s.

Marti's 66 was one shot over the competitive course record for Brookside. He had three birdies on each nine. In winning low honors last year, Marti shot a 65 over the Scioto Country Club course.

Each of the 54 pros competing in the event were guaranteed at least $250. Last year's Pro-Am earned more than $70,000 for charity.

Softballers In 3-0 Win

Jess Munyon hurled Sohner Tree Service to within one victory of a berth in the state softball tournament last night as the San Anselmo team posted a 3-0 victory over Young American Homes of Santa Rosa.

Greyview Farms of Petaluma became the tourney's only unbeaten club when Ron Hendley blanked Pacific View of Sonoma, 5-0, in last night's other game.

Sohner and Pacific View will tangle at 8 o'clock tonight at Santa Rosa's Howarth Park. The winner will then have to defeat Greyview twice tomorrow to win the title.

The top two finishers are assured of berths in the state tourney beginning in Napa next week.

Ed Schulze and Art Donati both singled in the fourth inning to account for Sohner's first run and Ron Blum's double and singles by Munyon, John Brookman and Schulze gave the treemen a pair of insurance tallies in the fifth inning.

Munyon, who has pitched all five Sohner wins, limited Santa Rosa to three hits .

Garibaldi And Wagner Lead Phoenix Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It was the night of the late-inning rally in the Pacific Coast League.

All four contests were won by scoring outbursts in the late going Monday night as Phoenix edged Hawaii 4-2, Portland dumped Tacoma 7-5, Tucson downed Salt Lake City 6-2, and Spokane bested Eugene 7-4.

Leon Wagner pulled a two-run pinchhit homer in the bottom of the ninth to give the Phoenix Giants their victory over southern division leader Hawaii.

Pete Koegel smashed a three-run homer and Rich Auerbach singled home another score in a four-run eighth inning which gave the Beavers a come-from-behind triumph over Tacoma.

Tucson scored four times in the seventh by collecting half of its 10 hits in the frame. Ron Lolich's triple was the big blow of the inning.

Spokane broke a tie with a three-run eighth inning to down Eugene in a game highlighted by Charlie Hough's one-hit relief performance over the last three frames.

JACK HANLEY

At 80, Casey Still Gracious Gentleman

LOS ANGELES — Casey Stengel, at 80, still is the gracious gentleman. The grand old man could have turned down an invitation to the 1970 Hall of Fame ceremonies at Cooperstown. But he didn't.

Casey left the comfort of his California home in Glendale to make the cross-country flight into almost unbearably hot and humid weather that still has the eastern seaboard in a sweaty, sticky embrace.

Casey knew what the weather would be like at this time of year. He had a valid excuse to beg off. He had a slight cold and furthermore it was the eve of his 80th birthday. Well, not precisely the eve but a couple of days before it.

HE COULD, in these days of jet travel, make the trip to Cooperstown and back to Glendale in time for the quiet birthday celebration his wife, Edna, had planned for him. He tried to persuade Edna to stay in Glendale to escape the eastern humidity but, of course, she would have none of that. Edna and Casey made the roundtrip together.

Casey never dodged a baseball invitation in his life whether it was to a Hall of Fame ceremony, an All-Star Game or a baseball writers dinner. Some years ago he even turned up without an invitation at a congressional investigation of baseball's reserve clause.

IN HIS INIMITABLE style, Casey set the record straight. Even Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of the investigating committee, told Casey at one point: "I compliment you, Mr. Stengel, on the clarity of your explanation, especially after my awkward phrasing of the question."

Casey could make a point by talking around a question. And he could make a point with a terse answer. His timing always was excellent whether he took a circuitous or direct route.

The 1967 All-Star Game was played in St. Louis which got its new stadium that year. Naturally, Casey showed up. The heat was oppressive. It was 103. Casey was asked what he thought of the new stadium.

"IT HOLDS the heat good," said Casey.

After guiding the Yankees to seven World Series titles, Casey directed the Mets through their laughable years. The Met pitching staff in those years kept Casey in good shape. He must have set a mileage record for managers making pitching changes. It seemed that he was always walking from the dugout to the mound.

One of the original 1962 Mets was a pitcher named Ken MacKenzie, an academically smart young man out of Yale. But MacKenzie's pitching talents didn't match his scholastic achievements.

HOW DID CASEY handle young men like MacKenzie? What did he tell them?

"First time I gave him the ball I told him: 'Make out like you're pitching against Harvard.' "

Casual Deer Season Opener In Marin

By AL GIDDINGS

The deer season opened last Saturday with the usual "bangs" here and there, but not a great number of bucks were killed. It's usually that way in Marin —sort of casual.

If you own a ranch, or rent a place to hunt, there's no great hurry to get there. If you have the sole hunting rights, then there's no one to "beat" you to your buck; it will be there waiting! That's the way it is on most Marin ranches and clubs.

MOST OF THE hunts start after 8 a.m.; yep, stay in bed till the fog raises, it's easy that way! I patroled the Santa Venetia hills, but couldn't locate a hunter. Tried out toward Novato and eventually got out by Point Reyes. Saw Sgt. Bob Bertram of the Sheriff's office on a deer stand, but when he saw me, he put his gun away, mumbling something like: "I might shoot a doe by mistake."

From there on, Warden Russ Ild and I checked different ranches in the Point Reyes - Inverness areas. The first legal buck we checked, a nice forked horn, was killed by the old sharpshooter Buzz McCray of Point Reyes Station. We also checked a buck killed by Miss Alfreida Grossi of Inverness.

I had checked Alfreida once before, shooting at once of those exotic deer on which trere is no season. I had noticed her and her dad, Al Grossi, making a sneak on this buck out on their ranch. The young lady made a 210 yard shot which I witnessed, but when she told me it was the first buck she had ever shot at, I felt that I had to measure the distance.

WELL, OPENING day Papa Grossi put his sharp-shooting daughter on one of the hot stands for a shoot at wild bucks. All of a sudden, with Dad yelling, "Here they come" comes three bucks, all legal, and one a monster! All this was too much for Alfreida who by this time had buck fever, but she began her barrage anyway! When it was all over, she had fired four shots, emptied four live cartridges on the ground, hit a couple of trees, and had the dust flying all over the place! She even cussed like most buck hunters do! The whole deal was salvaged when they finally found she hal downed one of the bucks, but she doesn't remember any of the entire event?

A little later, we checked Walt Mathews and his brother, Richard, both of Novato. Rich had a buck in the truck, and all I have to say is that Rich had good eyes, I'll tell you! The buck had a spike on one side and a 1½ inch fork on the other side. Of course, Rich said that "Grossi's Club" had shot at it first, so when it came over the fence to his club he knew it must be legal! (That's blind faith!)

ON THE FISHING front, things have just been fair with an occasional spurt here and there, Salmon fishing has been fair with some great catches out of Tomales by those who are there the right day and time. Joe Mello and his wife have taken about 30 salmon, some king sized ones, through July. If it's windy or rough, then it's tough. Joe even got seasick twice last week! Out of Sausalito, fishing has been fair to low. Ralph Chatoian along with eleven friends tried the Muir Beach - Rocky Point areas taking only six fish.

Capt. Jack Ellis of the Blue Horizon out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle reports using casting lures at the Farallones, and really having some great sport for rockfish and ling cod. He makes the trip every Saturday, if you've never tried it, give him a jingle. Fishing for rockfish is now at its best.

STRIPERS HAVE been tough except for Si Testa who has the Brothers Islands figured out. He usually limits. And Ward Smith has steadily taken fish along the Richmond Bridge — but early-early. Anglers who know the south tower and the gate areas are taking their share, generally on outgoing rip tides. Fish the rocks in the rips. You're bound to connect especially at Yellow Bluff, Lime Pt., Pt. Bonito and Pt. Diablo in the early morning runouts. A few bass have been taken at Bolinas in the breaker line outside the lagoon, but nothing like a big run has showed as yet.

I hear we made the radio (Station KGO) in our request for water releases to save the fish in Papermill Creek which is in danger of drying up for lack of water. One lady called the Marin Municipal Water District office, the radio station, the directors of the water district, Ed Neal of the Examiner, etc., etc. Anyhow, there now seems to be releases coming into Papermill from Kent Dam. Hooray for the lady!

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Few women bowlers can handle the 16-pound ball, which is the maximum weight under the rules. The most popular weight is 14 pounds . . . and some even go to 12. However, I wouldn't recommend anything less. You should, at any rate, use a ball that you can control, won't tire you, but is heavy enough to rack up those pins.

METS OF OLD—Chicago's Joe Pepitone (8), acquired last week from Houston, crossed first base safely despite the defensive efforts of Mets' first baseman Donn Clendenon (on the ground), pitcher Tug McGraw, who took the throw and second baseman Wayne Garret, who came over to assist after Pepitone singled to the outfield. Cubs won, 6-1.

U.S. PRO TENNIS

Top Aussies Play Today

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Australians John Newcombe, Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall, the top three seeds in the U.S. Professional Tennis Championships, see action today at the Longwood Cricket Club.

The top-seeded Newcombe, who walked off with the Wimbledon championship in July, takes on Clark Graebner, an unseeded member of the U.S. Davis Cup team.

Also scheduled for first round appearances were Americans, Bob Lutz, seventh seeded Cliff Richey, Stan Smith, and Marty Riessin.

Arthur Ashe, the eighth seed from Gum Springs, Va., handled Pierre Barthes of France easily, 6-4, 6-2.

Fifth seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain took three sets to beat U.S. Davis Cupper Charlie Pasarell, 6-7, 6-3, 6-0.

In other matches, Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia beat Graham Stilwell of England, 6-4, 6-1; Ray Moore of South Africa defeated Australia's Ray Ruffles, 6-2, 6-3; Cliff Drysdale of South Africa beat Zeljao Franulovic of Yugoslavia, 6-2, 5-7, 7-6; Roy Emerson, sixth seeded, of Australia, beat countryman Bill Bowrey, 6-3, 6-4.

Two doubles matches saw Alan Stone and Ruffles defeat Stilwell and Mark Cox, 6-7, 6-4, 7-6, and the team of Ron Holmberg and Gimeno beat Tom Gorman and Cliff Richey, 7-6, 6-4.

The tournament is the first major one to use the new sudden death tiebreaker rule. Under the rule, if two players or two teams are tied 6-6, the winner of the set is decided by whoever wins five out of the next nine points.

No-Hit Record

Share Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Seaver of the New York Mets and Steve Carlton of the St. Louis Cardinals share the major league record of 19 strikeouts in a nine-inning game.

Powerful Power

NEW YORK (UPI) — Power Memorial Academy, the New York school which produced Lew Alcindor, placed three players on the 1970 high school all-America basketball team.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Forget About Jenkins; He's Back In The Groove

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The most consistent and the most overlooked pitcher in the major leagues, Jenkins wins his 20 games every season and no one seems to pay much attention. He's pitched only one All-Star game and never seems to get much notice on a team where Leo Durocher is popping off, Ron Santo is serving Pizza and Ernie Banks is talking about how nice it'd be to play a tripleheader.

KEEPS PITCHING

Meanwhile, Jenkins just keeps quietly going to the mound every fourth day for the Chicago Cubs. He hasn't missed a start in four years and was 20-13 for 1967, 20-15 in 1968 and 21-15 last year. This year he could become the first National Leaguer to win 20 for four consecutive seasons since Juan Marichal of San Francisco did it from 1963 to 1966. The last Cub to do it was Mordecai (Three Fingered) Brown who reeled off six straight 20 victory seasons from 1906 to 1911.

But Jenkins got off to a 2-6 and 3-7 start this season and suddenly people were paying attention to him and wondering what was wrong.

They can start to forget him again now.

BACK IN FORM

He's back to his usual form and boosted his record to 13-12 with a three-hit performance against the New York Mets last night that gave the Cubs a 6-1 triumph. With 13 of 14 starts left, Jenkins seems a good bet to get his 20 wins again.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal routed Pittsburgh 8-0, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia, 4-1, San Francisco beat Los Angeles 5-2 and Houston beat Atlanta 7-5 but lost the second game, 3-1.

The Mets are now a full game behind the Pirates, with the Cubs two and a half back.

In the American League, Minnesota nipped Milwaukee 2-1 but lost the second game 4-2, Washington blanked Detroit 4-0, California shutout Oakland 5-0 and Kansas City nipped Chicago 7-2. All other teams were idle.

EXPOS TOP BUCS

Montreal likes to beat the top clubs. The cellar-dwelling Expos are 8-4 against the Mets and they boosted their mark to 6-5 against Pittsburgh by downing the Pirates as Bob Bailey drove in four runs. He capped a six-run fourth inning with a three-run homer. The Pirate pitching continued to be, well, awful. They've now allowed 25 runs in their last three games —although they've won two of them.

Red Schoendienst, the St. Louis manager, paid his dues in the manager's union by boldly claiming, "We're definitely still in the race." But the Cards are in fifth place in the East, 9 1-2 back and have almost no chance of passing four clubs. But the Cards' victory over Philadelphia was their fifth straight so Schoendienst could smile. Mike Torrez pitched a five-hitter and Carl Taylor, Julian Javier and Jose Cardenal hit homers.

In the West, nothing seems to matter. Cincinnati was routed by San Diego but Los Angeles also lost so the Reds remained 12 games ahead. Ollie Brown drove in five runs with his 18th homer and a double to beat the Reds.

Ron Reed pitched his first complete game since breaking his shoulder in spring training to give Atlanta its victory over Houston in the second game of a doubleheader. Reed allowed six hits. In the first game, Joe Morgan snapped a 5-5 tie in the seventh with a run-scoring single after Bob Watson drove in three runs. George Culver got the win in relief after Wade Blasingame, who was called up to replace Jim Bouton, was bombed out in the third.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investors Protected Against Broker Loss

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I get my dividends direct from the companies I have stock in, even though my broker holds my shares. If his firm should go under, would I also be wiped out? Do you think I should get my stock certificates from the broker? — E.J.

A. Since your dividends come to you directly from the issuing corporations, your shares are apparently still registered in your name and your broker is simply holding them for you in his vault. Although he is under no obligation to do so, he is rendering you this extra service at no benefit to himself. Because your shares actually bear your name, you are fully protected in the event the brokerage firm went into bankruptcy. The process of recovery is somewhat more time consuming for investors whose shares are held in "street name". However, person whose accounts are with brokers who are members of the NYSE are protected by a trust fund set up for this purpose. Because the industry has been plagued by financial crises, the fund's $15 million available cash has been pledged, but $40 million in credit can be tapped if needed. Recognizing the need for more adequate investor protection, Congress is conducting hearings on proposals to set up the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The fact that 25 billion or 70 per cen of all shares held are owned by 31 million individuals who are also taxpayers and voters may have some bearing on the outcome of this particular legislation. In the event a brokerage firm failed, the proposed SIPC would cover investor losses up to $50,000. A plan which has the support of both the SEC and the securities industry would be initially funded by the industry, backed by the Treasury, which under certain conditions could levy charges on investor transactions up to 20 cents per $1,000. The corporation would be run by a 15-man board with 10 members from various segments of the industry and 5 selected by the President. The SEC would have board supervisory powers.

Well Is Completed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Atlantic Richfield Co. Monday announced completion of an exploratory discovery well offshore Indonesia which flowed oil from six and gas from one of eleven zones separately tested. Oil from the well, PSI K-1, tested at rates up to 1,345 barrels per day. The well is located 18 miles offshore in the Java Sea, about 70 miles east Northeast of Djakarta. The drilling program is being conducted on a production sharing basis between Pertamina, the Indonesian state-owned oil company, and a group of American firms. Sinclair Exploration co., an Atlantic Richfield subsidiary, is operator for the program.

Refrigerator Cars

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Burlington Northern Inc. said Monday it purchased 50 mechanical refrigerator cars from Fruit Growers Express, Alexandria, Va. Cost was about $9 million. Delivery of the cars is scheduled to begin in October.

Peace Hopes Spark Late Demand, Cut Early Losses

The Dow Jones Average of 30 blue chip industrials was up 2.94 at 725.90. It had been off more than 4 points earlier.

Declines topped advances, 618 to 546, among the 1,493 issues which traded.

Volume was around 8 million shares, up from 7,650,000 Monday.

Analysts said late optimism stemmed from hope among U.S. officials that a cease-fire might be established in the Middle East within a week.

Computer Sciences Corp. and Niagara Mohawk Power were among the more active issues. Computer Sciences traded a 277,600-share block at 6 1-2, off 1-2.

Memorex, which announced higher earnings, moved higher. Wrigley Co. also moved ahead. Wrigley declared an extra dividend.

Electronics were narrowly higher, while rails traded in mixed fashion.

IBM closed up 1 at 250 1-4, and Southern Pacific gained 1-8, closing at 26 1-8.

Du Pont closed up 1 at 122 1-4, American Telephone was unchanged at 45 3-8 and Texaco gained 3-4, closing at 28 7-8.

Raytheon Space Job

LEXINGTON, Mass. (UPI) — Raytheon Corp. has obtained an $8.7 million contract for engineering work on the Sam D. missile system.

Ground Broken On Bridgeway For New Building In Sausalito

Ground was broken yesterday for the new 26,000-square foot building at 2640 Bridgeway Sausalito which will have Maillard and Schmiedell, San Francisco food brokerage firm, as its major tenant.

Located in the commercial and industrial complex owned by Marin Freeholders, the building is across the road from the Whiskey Springs apartment development and is now projected for completion by Dec. 15.

Two more tenants have been added to the list of firms who will occupy space here, which also includes Chem-Corp. Engineering Co. Leasing agent Robert H. Greene of San Rafael has now signed M. W. Park, Inc., cotton merchant and manufacturers representative, presently located at 1280 Columbus Avenue, San Francisco. Park is taking the last available space on the second floor.

Also moving here from her landmark location of the last 20 years or more on the Bridgeway is Ruby Cullinan, who operates Ruby's Coffee Shop next to the Sausalito City Hall.

According to Greene, this leaves 3,000 square feet still available on the ground floor for more retail businesses.

RICHARD COLBERT of San Rafael has been named executive vice president of Four Star Entertainment Corp. He has been vice president and general manager of the Four Star International, Inc. subsidiary for the past two years. Prior to that he was vice president of western sales. Before joining Four Star he was midwest sales chief of Screen Gems and was 18 years with Universal Pictures.

JUNE AND HOWARD EMBURY of San Rafael Health Foods will attend the annual convention of the National Dietary Foods Association in New Orleans next week.

SAN RAFAEL CONTRACTOR Donald E. Presco has been appointed to represent the Marin County Board of Supervisors on the Board of Appeals when arbitration is necessary in the interpretation of the building code. He has been 30 years in construction — the past 15 as general contractor in Marin. He was first president of the Marin Builders Exchange.

Van Horne

CHARLES L. (GUS) VAN HORNE of San Rafael has been appointed vice president and assistant manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Anglo-California office in San Francisco and will continue to serve as assistant secretary as well. He joined the bank's predecessor Crocker-Anglo National Bank in 1962 and has served in San Jose and also at the San Rafael main office where he was vice president and manager from 1964 to 1967. Since then he has been at the Anglo-California office as a vice president in the commercial loan administration.

ROBERT F. MCRAE of San Rafael has been named director of inventory management for Levi Strauss and Co., San Francisco, effective about Oct. 1. Now merchandise manager of sportswear, he will assume his new duties upon completion of his work on Levi's spring line for 1971. He joined the company as a salesman in 1964 and has held departmental management positions since 1965.

SAN ANSELMO PHOTOGRAPHER Dave Bartruff has been awarded Honorable Mention among 21,000 entrants from around the world in the Nikon international Photo Contest. "Rainbow Dew," his winning entry was taken in his own Sleepy Hollow garden, although he specializes in overseas location shooting.
